other properties received as is designated by the corporation as a payment in settlement of such arrearages shall be allocated to such arrearages and the balance of the securities and cash and other properties received shall be deemed principal in case the corporation does not so designate the securities received in like proportion to or in substitution for shares upon which there were such arrearages of cumulative preferred or guaranteed dividends at their value as of the effective date of such merger and the cash and other properties received shall be allocated first to principal in the amount of the inventory value of the said shares of the original corporation or in default thereof of their market value at the time the principal was established or of their cost where purchased later second to the arrearages of cumulative preferred or guaranteed dividends or in satisfaction thereof if less than such amount and third the balance if any to principal.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4) of this section where a corporation is a party to a merger consolidation or reorganization or otherwise acquire the assets of another corporation and shares of stock of whatsoever character or whatsoever class or classes of the surviving succeeding reorganized or acquiring corporation with or without cash or other securities or properties are issued to the shareholders of a corporation which is a party to such merger consolidation reorganization or acquisition of assets in like proportion to or in substitution for their shares in such corporation all shares of stock so issued and also all cash and other securities and properties which may be so issued shall be principal.

(6) In applying this section the date when a dividend accrues to the person who is entitled to it shall be held to be the date specified by the corporation as the one on which the stockholders entitled thereto are determined or in default thereof the date of declaration of the dividend.

Section 6 Premium and Discount Bonds Where any part of the principal consists of bonds or other obligations for the payment of money they shall be deemed principal at their inventory value or in default thereof at their market value at the time the principal was established or at their cost where purchased later regardless of their par or maturity value and upon their respective maturities or upon their sale any loss or gain realized thereon shall fall upon or enure to the principal provided however that the scheduled increment in value of bonds issued on a discount basis and subject to definite appreciation in value on a fixed schedule shall constitute income as of each date on which an increment occurs and shall be made available as income for such disposition as is provided by the terms of the transaction under which the principal was established by transferring from the principal on each such date an amount equivalent to the increment then occurring.

Section 7 Principal Used in Business

(1) Whenever a trustee or a tenant is authorized by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established or by law to use any part of the principal in the continuance of a business which the original owner or the property comprising the principal had been carrying on the net profits of such business attributable to such principal shall be deemed income.

(2) Where such business consists of buying and selling property the net profits for any period shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross proceeds during and the inventory value of the property at the end of such period the expenses during and the inventory value of the property at the beginning of such period.

(3) Where such business does not consist of buying and selling property the net income shall be computed in accordance with the customary practice of such business but not in such way as to decrease the principal.

(4) Any increase in the value of the principal used in such business shall be deemed principal and all losses in any one calendar year after the income from such business for that year has been exhausted shall fall upon principal.

Section 8 Principal Comprising Animals Where any part of the principal consists of animals employed in business the provisions of Section 7 shall apply and in other cases where the animals are held as a part of the principal partly or wholly because of the offspring or increase which they are expected to produce all offspring or increase shall be deemed principal to the extent necessary to maintain the original number of such animals and the remainder shall be deemed income and in all other cases such offspring or increase shall be deemed income.

Section 9 Disposition of Natural Resources Where any part of the principal consists of property in lands from which may be taken timber minerals coal stone oil gas or other natural resources and the trustee or tenant is authorized by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established or by order of court to sell lease or otherwise develop such natural resources or where such natural resources have been leased or developed prior to the transaction by which the principal was established and no provision is made for the disposition of the net proceeds thereof after the payment of expenses and carrying charges on such property one-third of the net proceeds if received as rent or payment on a lease or as royalties shall be deemed income and the remaining two-thirds thereof shall be deemed principal to be invested to produce income provided that if a surviving spouse of the person establishing the principal shall be the sole tenant he shall be entitled to such proportion of the net proceeds as he would be entitled to under the intestate laws if the person establishing the principal were to die intestate at the time of the receipt of such proceeds a resident of the Commonwealth and owning such proceeds but this shall not include the $10,000 allowance. Such proceeds if received as consideration for the permanent severance of such natural resources from the land payable otherwise than as rents or royalties shall be deemed principal to be invested to produce income.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to abrogate or extend any right which may otherwise have accrued by law to a tenant to develop or work such natural resources for his own use.

Section 10 Interest-Bearing Obligations in Default

(1) Whenever the interest on an interest-bearing obligation owned by a trust shall be in default in whole or in part and the obligation shall be converted into money or property which can be fairly apportioned or both before the principal is finally distributed then the tenant or in case of his death his personal representative shall be entitled to share in the net proceeds received from the property as delayed income to the extent hereinafter stated.

(2) Such delayed income shall be the difference between the net proceeds received from the conversion and the amount which had it been placed at simple interest at the rate of four per centum per annum for the period during which such interest was in default in whole or in part would have produced the net proceeds at the time of conversion. In no event shall delayed income exceed the defaulted interest upon the obligation. The net proceeds shall consist of the gross proceeds including property other than money received from the conversion less any expenses incurred in converting and preserving the asset and less all carrying charges which have been paid out of principal pending conversion but shall not include net income received pending conversion.

(3) The tenant shall be entitled to receive from time to time and to keep the net income from any form or property or obligation into which such interest-bearing obligation may be converted until it is finally converted into money or property which can be fairly apportioned or both and his share of the delayed income shall be reduced by the amount of income received and by the value of any beneficial use of the property which he may have had.

(4) In the case of successive tenants the delayed income shall be divided among them or their representatives according to the length of the period for which each was entitled to income.

Section 11 Expenses Trust Estates

(1) All ordinary expenses and charges incurred in connection with the trust estate or with its administration and management shall be paid out of income but such expenses where incurred in disposing of or as carrying charges on unproductive estate shall be paid out of principal and where incurred in disposing of or as carrying charges on underproductive estate shall be paid out of principal to the extent that the income from the property shall not be equal to such expenses

(2) Trustees' compensation compensation of assistants and court costs and attorney's and other fees may be apportioned between income and principal as the court may direct

(3) All other expenses including cost of investing or reinvesting principal and other costs incurred in maintaining or defending any action to protect the trust or the property or assure the title thereof unless due to the fault or cause of the tenant and costs of or assessments for improvements to property forming part of the principal shall be paid out of principal Any tax levied by any authority Federal State or foreign upon profit or gain defined as principal under the terms of subsection (2) of section 3 shall be paid out of principal notwithstanding said tax may be denominated a tax upon income by the taxing authority

(4) Interest and penalties on inheritance and estate taxes levied by any authority Federal State or foreign shall be paid out of principal to the extent that such interest and penalties are in excess of the rate of return which has been or shall be realized from the estate during the time that such interest and penalty have accrued

(5) Expenses paid out of income according to subsection (1) hereof which represent regularly recurring charges shall be considered to have accrued from day to day and shall be apportioned on that basis whenever the right of the tenant begins or ends at some date other than the payment date of the expenses Where the expenses to be paid out of income are of unusual amount the trustee may distribute them throughout an entire year or part thereof or throughout a series of years After such distribution where the right of the tenant ends during the period the expenses shall be apportioned between tenant and remainderman on the basis of such distribution

Section 12 Expenses Non-trust Estates

(1) The provisions of Section 11 so far as applicable shall govern the apportionment of expenses between tenants and remaindermen where no trust has been created subject however to any legal agreement of the parties or any specific direction of the taxing or other statutes but where either tenant or remainderman has incurred an expense for the benefit of his own estate and without the consent or agreement of the other he shall pay such expense in full

(2) The special taxes or assessments for an improvement representing an addition of value to property forming part of the principal shall be paid by the tenant where such improvement cannot reasonably be expected to outlast the estate of the tenant In all other cases a portion thereof only shall be paid by the tenant while the remainder shall be paid by the remainderman Such portion shall be ascertained by taking that percentage of the total which is found by dividing the present value of the tenant's estate by the present value of an estate of the same form as that of the tenant except that it is limited for a period corresponding to the reasonably expected duration of the improvement The computation of present values of the estates shall be made on the expectancy basis set forth in the American experience tables of mortality and no other evidence of duration or expectancy shall be considered

Section 13 Short Title This act may be cited as the Principal and Income Act of 1947

Section 14 Repeal The act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-five (P. L. 416) entitled "An act concerning the ascertainment of principal and income and the apportionment of receipts and expenses among tenants and remaindermen and to make uniform the law with reference thereto" and Section twenty-two of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. Section 15 Time of Taking Effect The provisions of this act shall become effective upon the enactment thereof and shall apply to all estates of tenants or remaindermen and to all wills trust agreements and trust relations theretofore or thereafter made or created Except that the provisions of Section 9 hereof shall apply only to wills trust agreements and trust relations and to estates of tenants or remaindermen thereafter made or created And provided further that the provisions of this act shall not apply to receipts and expenses received or paid prior to the effective date of this act which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 3, on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Schuylkill River Desilting Fund for use by the Water and Power Resources Board in continuing the work of correcting existing and preventing future silting of the Schuylkill River above Norristown go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 200, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2423) entitled as amended "An act establishing a Pennsylvania State Police Retirement System providing for payments upon retirement death disability involuntary retirement and of certain medical expenses from the State Employees' Retirement Fund under the Administration of the State Employees' Retirement Board providing for contribution by members of the Pennsylvania State Police and the Commonwealth of certain of said funds providing for the Commonwealth to the rights of the member or dependents against certain third parties exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial processes and providing penalties" by increasing the amounts of the State annuities removing certain restrictions on the payment of such annuities and further regulating certain retirement allowances paid under said act

Section 1 Section ten of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2423) entitled as amended "An act establishing a Pennsylvania State Police Retirement System providing for payments upon retirement death disability involuntary retirement and of certain medical expenses from the State Employees' Retirement Fund under the Administration of the State Employees' Retirement Board providing for contributions by members of the Pennsylvania State Police and the Commonwealth providing for the guarantee by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds providing for the subrogation of the Commonwealth to the rights of the member or dependents against certain third parties exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial processes and providing penalties" as amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 106) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 10 Contributions by the Commonwealth The Commonwealth shall contribute from the General Fund and from the Motor License Fund from time to time sufficient moneys to build up the reserves required to pay to each contributor upon superannuation retirement a State annuity equal to (a) [one] two one-hundredth (2/100) of his final salary for each year of total service and in addition thereto if an original member of [one] two one-hundredth (2/100) of his final salary for each year of prior service and (b) an additional State annuity which shall be equivalent to the additional member's annuity which the accumulated deductions standing to the credit of the contributor would purchase if he retired at age sixty under the State Employees' Retirement System

The amounts to be paid by the Commonwealth from the General Fund and the Motor License Fund into the State Employees' Retirement Fund shall be apportioned in the same ratio as the salaries of the members of the Pennsylvania State Police

Section 2 Sections eleven twelve thirteen and fourteen of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 11 Payments Upon Death If the board shall find that a contributor died as a direct and proximate result of injuries received in the course of his employment or while on disability retirement allowance resulting from such injuries a retirement allowance shall be paid to his widow so long as she remains his widow and if and when such widow dies or remarries then to his children under eighteen (18) years of age while they are under eighteen (18) years of age and if and when there are no children under eighteen (18) years of age then to the member's parent or parents if they are dependent

Such retirement allowance shall consist of (a) a member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of the contributor's accumulated deductions standing to his credit and (b) a State annuity equal to 50% of the final salary of the contributor less the amount which is paid to any such widow or children or dependent parent or parents under the Workmen's Compensation Laws of this Commonwealth during the period such compensation is paid or payable

Section 12 Superannuation Retirement Allowance Any contributor may retire for superannuation by filing with the board a written application for retirement duly attested setting forth on what date he desires to be retired Said application shall make the superannuation retirement allowance effective on the date so specified if such application was filed in the offices of the board or deposited in the United States mail addressed to the board before the date specified in the application and before the death of the contributor Provided however That the date so specified in the application shall not be more than thirty days from the date of filing or depositing the application in the mail

When a contributor retires for superannuation under the provisions of this section he shall be paid a retirement allowance disbursed according to his election as provided in section [17] 15 Such retirement allowance shall consist of (a) member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated deductions standing to his credit in the Member's Annuity Reserve Account and (b) a State annuity equal to [one] two one-hundredth (2/100) of his final salary for each year of total service and if an original member in addition thereto of [one] two one-hundredth (2/100) of his final salary for each year of prior service and an additional state annuity which shall be equivalent to the additional members annuity which the accumulated deductions standing to the credit of the contributor would purchase if he retired at age sixty under the State Employees' Retirement System but the State annuity shall not exceed fifty (50%) per cent of the contributor's final salary

Section 13 Disability Retirement Allowance In case of the disability of a contributor regardless of the length of service of the contributor a retirement allowance shall be granted the contributor [in an amount calculated in accordance with the provisions of the State Employees' Retirement Act relating to disability retirement allowances and subject to the same terms conditions and rights as provided by said act] which shall consist of (a) a member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated deductions standing to his credit in the Members Annuity Reserve Account and (b) a State annuity equal to two one-hundredth (2/100) of his final salary multiplied by the number of years service but in any case not less than thirty per centum (30%) nor more than fifty per centum (50%) of said salary

Section 14 Involuntary Retirement Allowances Should a contributor be discontinued from service not voluntarily after having completed ten years of total service or voluntarily after having completed twenty-five years of total service but before reaching superannuation retirement age he shall upon filing of application in the manner herein provided or superannuation retirement be paid as he may elect as follows (a) The full amount of the accumulated deductions standing to his credit or (b) a member's annuity of equivalent actuarial value to his accumulated deductions standing to his credit and in addition a State annuity having a value equal to the present value of a State annuity beginning at superannuation retirement age as provided in this act with respect to State annuities for superannuation retirement The same options shall be available to beneficiaries in case of involuntary retirement as provided herein in the case of superannuation retirement

Section 3 Section twenty-one of said act is hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—50
Barr,	Frazier,	Lord,	Tarr,
Becker,	Geltz,	Mahany,	Taylor,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.
Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED
Agreeably to order,
The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 345, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 233) entitled "An act creating and establishing a fund for the care maintenance and relief of aged retired and disabled employes of the Bureau of Police in cities of the second class providing a pension fund for said employees and providing for the payment of certain dues fees assessments fines and appropriations thereto regulating membership therein creating a board for the management thereof providing the amount mode and manner of payment to beneficiaries thereof and for the care and disposition of said funds providing for the payment into this fund by cities of the second class of all monies heretofore payable into any other funds organizations corporations or associations having the same or similar purposes and of such additional monies as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act" to fix terms for which personnel of board of managers shall be elected to change the method of determining availability for disability pensions to fix the amount of contributions of members and pension payments to beneficiaries and to provide in certain circumstances for the return of contributions

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.
The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?
Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I object.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 345

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 345 passed second reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?
Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.
Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?
Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?
Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34
Becker,	Farrell,	Mahany,	Wade,
Berger,	Frazier,	Mallery,	Wagner,
Blass,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Carr,	Hare,	Snowden,	Watson,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Stevenson,	Wilson,
Crider,	Homsher,	Tallman,	Wolfe,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Wood, L. E.,
Doehla,	Letzler,	Tyler,	Wood, T. N.,
Donlan,	Lord,

Barr, Holland, Leader, Ruth,
Dent, Jaspan, Margie, Stiefel,
DiSilvestro, Klein, Rahauser, Tarr,
Haluska, Lane, Rosenfeld, Woodring,
So the question was determined in the affirmative.
And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?
Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, how can we vote on these amendments when the bill is not on our desks?

The PRESIDENT. The Secretary of the Senate will inquire and see whether or not copies of the bill are on the desks of the Senators.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have been informed that copies of the bill have been on our desks for some time. Of course, if the gentleman from Allegheny inadvertently has lost his copy of the bill I wish to advise him that the bill was reported on May 13 from the Senate Committee on Local Government and has been on our desks constantly since then. The gentleman from Allegheny knows, under the new system the Senate is using, that we have a loose-leaf system and possibly his filing system is not up to date and for that reason probably the bill is not on his desk, but I will be very happy to borrow a copy of the bill for him and present it to him if he so desires.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it is my understanding that copies of bills are supposed to be on our desks when they are being acted upon, and this bill is not upon my desk.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that is correct, copies of new bills are placed on the desks, but the gentleman is not entitled to a fresh copy every morning; this is not a daily newspaper, it is a bill before the Senate. The gentleman from Allegheny is entitled to have a copy of the bill on his desk, but there is nothing under the rules of the Senate to make it necessary to constantly provide Senators with additional copies.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, unfortunately, I can not remember the wording of every bill that is on my desk or which has been on my desk.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the bill has been placed on the desk of the Senator and the Clerk will proceed.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 14), page 16, lines 3 and 4, by striking out the words "The governing body of the city or by"; Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 14), page 16, lines 6, 7, 8 and 9, by striking out the words "The governing body of the" in line 6, all of lines 7 and 8, and the part-word "vided" in line 9; Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 14), page 16, line 9, by striking out the word "however."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may we be at ease for a moment?

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this and one other amendment was offered to this bill last week, I think, with the same request, that it be printed and laid over.

As I read this section now it provides that "increases in pension payments shall be determined by the cost of living, provided that the governing body of the city shall not be empowered to increase the pension payment beyond the schedule herein provided. In no event, however, shall any increase in living costs result in decreasing the schedule of pension payments in effect prior to the passage of this amendment."

Mr. President and members of the Senate, the courts have ruled heretofore that the pension system that is set up could never be decreased, because this feature was never in the Act before. In this bill we are increasing pensions of the police in the city of Pittsburgh from $80 to $100 a month.

If at some future date, and I do not know just who is going to be in command at city hall and who will be the members of city council, if a depression should hit—and Seantor Walker well knows that right now the city of Pittsburgh is operating under deficit financing and has been for three years—that city councils would have the authority to cut salaries of their employes but would not be able to bring this pension payment down from $100 to $80 per month.

Therefore, in my opinion, this is most unfair, because it is a cost of living increase. I ask that the amendments be defeated. As it now stands, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, allows the right to city council that they can increase these pensions at any time and can not decrease them, and I again say that is unfair.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to inform the gentleman from Allegheny that if and when the amendments are adopted, I will request that this bill go over in its order on second reading, so that he will have opportunity to study the bill as amended.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am able to read this plainly. These are simply strike-out amendments the gentleman has offered, and I am telling the Senate what is in the amendment and I ask in all fairness to the administration of the city of Pittsburgh, which has agreed to go along with this increase from $80 to $100 a month for these policemen, that the Senate defeat this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

Becker,	Farrell,	Mahany,	Wade,
Berger,	Frazier,	Mallery,	Wagner,
Blass,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Carr,	Hare,	Snowden,	Watson,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Stevenson,	Wilson,
Crider,	Homsher,	Tallman,	Wolfe,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Wood, L. H.,
Doehla,	Letzler,	Tyler,	Wood, T. N.,
Donlan,	Lord,

Barr,	Holland,	Leader,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Margie,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Klein,	Rahausen,	Tarr,
Haluska,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,	Woodring,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, before the bill is read for the second time I would like to request that it go over in its order, with the amendments adopted.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have been in the Senate now for about nine years and in my opinion this is about the cheapest type of politics I have ever seen played on the Senate floor for a long time.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the members of the Senate that this is not the first time on the floor of this Senate, in my eight years, that my good friend and colleague from Allegheny has, at a time when he is emotionally disturbed, directed derogatory remarks to me in public, and then apologized in private, so I will say to him in public that I do not take as a personal affront the remarks that he just made, but I resent the word "cheap" because I hold my politics very dearly.

Mr. BARR. I have no apologies to make, Mr. President, and I still reiterate this is distasteful and cheap politics.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 345, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 365, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the first paragraph of section two hundred twenty and to add clause (n) to section two hundred eighty-five of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448), entitled "An act relating to fish; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth," increasing the resident fishing license fee and limiting the use of a part of the money derived from such increase go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 406, as follows:

An Act to further amend clauses six and nine of section one and section three of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" further defining State employees and original members and making further exception to compulsory membership in the system

Section 1 Clauses six and nine of section one of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" clause six as last amended by the Act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 202) and clause nine as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 683) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words and phrases as used in this act unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context shall have the following meanings

* * * * *

6 "State employee" shall mean any person holding a State office or position under the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania employed and paid on a yearly or monthly basis by the State Government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in any capacity whatsoever and shall include also any attorney solicitor investigator appraised and clerk employed by the year or by the month in the office of any register of wills howsoever appointed whose compensation is actually paid from Commonwealth moneys and shall also include all judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth whose salaries are paid by the Commonwealth and also all clerks and secretaries employed by judges and paid on a yearly or monthly basis by such judges from moneys appropriated by the Commonwealth for such purposes and also all officers and employees of the Pennsylvania State College paid on a yearly or monthly basis other than those paid wholly from Federal funds and also all officers and employees of the Delaware River Joint Commission and of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission paid on a yearly or monthly basis if the Delaware River Joint Commission and the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission shall agree to contribute and contribute to the State Employees' Retirement Fund from time to time the moneys required to build up the reserves necessary for the payment of the State annuities of such officers and employees without any liability on the part of the Commonwealth to make appropriations for such purposes and also but only for the purposes of this act all officers and employees of any separate independent public corporation created by act of Assembly (not including however any municipal or quasi-municipal corporation) who immediately prior to their employment by such public corporation were employees of the Commonwealth so long as they remain officers or employees of such public corporation if such public corporation shall agree to contribute and contribute to the State Employees' Retirement Fund from time to time the moneys required to build up the reserve necessary for the payment of the State annuities of such officers and employees without any liability on the part of the Commonwealth to make appropriations for such purposes But the term "State Employees" shall not include those persons defined as employees in section one paragraph seven of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employees excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as amended by section one paragraph seven of the act approved the twenty-first day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 245) excepting such officers and employees of the Department of Public Instruction as are not members of or who may withdraw from the public school employees' retirement association provided by said act and no member shall be deprived of credit for prior service as a State employee because of the fact that such service was rendered while he or she was a member of the public school employees' retirement association.

The term "State employee" shall also include all State officers and employees regularly employed by the year or by the month at a fixed annual or monthly compensation when the General Assembly is not in session but who during the legislative session instead of a fixed annual or monthly salary or compensation are paid upon a per diem basis or by a fixed salary or compensation from the legislative session or who receive no fixed annual or monthly salary but are paid only upon a per diem basis during legislative sessions and subsequent thereto.

In all cases of doubt the retirement board shall determine whether any person is a State employee as defined in this paragraph and its decision shall be final.

* * * * *

9 "Original member" of the retirement association shall mean a State employee who was at any time a State employee prior to January first one thousand nine hundred twenty-five whether or not such employment has been continuous and who shall have become a member of the retirement association on or before December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-five or in any case where subsequent to such date the definition of State employee has been changed so as to include additional persons not previously classed as State employees if any such person shall have become a member of the retirement association on or before the thirty-first day of December next following the effective date of the act under the provisions of which he was enabled to become a member of the association.

Any such State employee who shall become an original member of the association after the approval of this amendment including those who having heretofore become a new member thereof shall become an original member under the provisions hereof shall pay to the retirement association a sum equal to all the back payments which such person would have made had he or she become a member of the retirement association when the retirement system was established. Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having such regular payroll deduction of such person increased by not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increase shall be credited to such back payments owing and shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed. Any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing to his credit and his State annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the member's annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated.

Original member of the retirement association shall also mean any judge in service on the second Monday of January one thousand nine hundred thirty who shall elect to become a member of the retirement association at any time during the term for which he was then elected or appointed and any person hereafter elected or appointed a judge who at the time of his election or appointment is an original member of the retirement association or who was retired voluntarily or involuntarily as an original member and is at the time of his election or appointment as a judge receiving a retirement allowance as an original member.

Section 2 Section three of said act as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 683) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 3 A State employees' retirement association is hereby organized the membership of which shall consist of all State employees as defined in paragraph six of section one of this act who by written application to the Retirement Board shall either as an original member or a new member elect to be covered by the retirement system. Any State employee who becomes a State employee subsequent to the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred twenty-four except as provided in paragraphs nine and ten of section one of this act as to judges shall during the first six months of employment as a State employee have the option of membership but after the first six months of such employment as a State employee membership as a new member shall be compulsory. Provided however That neither the Governor nor the Lieutenant Governor nor the head or deputy heads of any administrative department nor the members of any independent administrative board or commission or of any departmental administrative board or commission or of any advisory board or commission nor the secretary to the Governor nor the budget secretary nor any legislative employee nor any person over the age of fifty years shall be compelled to become members of said State employees' retirement association.

The head of each department board commission or other agency of the State government shall see to it that an application for membership is executed by each new State employee within said six months period and that payroll deductions are not delayed beyond said period.

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

An Act requiring operators political subdivisions and the Commonwealth to seal abandoned coal mines so as to protect streams from acid mine drainage conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Mines prescribing penalties and making an appropriation

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as "The Coal Mine Sealing Act of 1947"

Section 2 The following words and phrases unless the context clearly indicates otherwise shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section

(1) The term "abandoned coal mines" shall mean any coal mine in which mining operations have ceased because of the complete exhaustion of coal or the exhaustion of coal which it is practical to mine within the foreseeable future or where exemption from taxation has been allowed because of the absence of mineable coal

(2) The term "mine sealing" shall mean the closing of openings into a mine in such a manner as to permit the outflow of water that may accumulate therein while at the same time preventing the flow of appreciable quantities of air into the mine The purpose of such sealing is to minimize or stop the formation of acid in the water as it flows through the mine

(3) The term "operator" shall mean any lessee person political subdivision or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

(4) The term "department" shall mean the "Department of Mines" as now organized and operating in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

(5) The term "Openings" shall mean all shafts slopes drifts and tunnels

Section 3 (a) All operators engaged in the mining of coal in this Commonwealth shall upon the abandonment of a mine seal any and all openings leading from such mine to the surface through which water may flow into any of the streams of this Commonwealth and through which appreciable quantities of air may enter the mine Such sealing shall be started within sixty (60) days of abandonment and shall be diligently carried on to completion in all cases sealing shall be completed within six (6) months following abandonment

(b) The operator last engaged in the operation of mines abandoned prior to the effective date of this act not heretofore sealed shall within six (6) months after the effective date of this act seal any and all openings leading from such mine to the surface through which water may flow into any of the streams of this Commonwealth and through which appreciable quantities of air may enter the mine provided that the mine is in the possession of the said operator

(c) The location and nature of any such seals which may be erected shall be in accordance with the requirements of or with plans furnished by the department provided that the sealing of such mine shall not interfere with any other mine or endanger life or property in any community

Section 4 In cases where the operator is not in possession of the abandoned coal mine upon the effective date of this act the work of sealing the openings and the cost of such work shall be assumed by the Commonwealth and shall be paid out of any appropriation made to the department for this purpose

Section 5 After a mine has been sealed to the satisfaction of the department the maintenance of such seals shall be the duty of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania acting through the department

Section 6 The department or its representatives is hereby authorized to enter upon any lands where openings to abandoned mines are located for the purpose of sealing such openings for inspecting and maintaining such seals and for putting into effect the provisions of this act Such entry shall not be construed as an act of condemnation of property or of trespass thereon

Section 7 The sum of one million ninety thousand dollars ($1,090,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Mines for the use of the department in carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 8 Any person who removes or destroys any seal erected for the purposes described in this act or who penterates by means of shaft slope drift tunnel or otherwise any sealed mine without first having received the approval of the department shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or in the case of individuals or the responsible officers and agents of corporations and associations to undergo imprisonment for a period of not more than one (1) year or both

Section 9 On and after the passage of this act any operator who refuses or neglects to properly seal mine openings in accordance with plans submitted by the Department of Mines shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or in the case of individuals or the responsible officers and agents of corporations and associations to undergo imprisonment for a period of not more than one (1) year or both

Section 10 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 713, as follows:

An Act creating a commission to make a through study of the tax laws of the Commonwealth and of other states and countries in order to ascertain ways and means of financing the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions upon a more scientific and equitable basis providing for its appointment authorizing the employment of necessary assistants prescribing the powers and duties of the commission providing for cooperation with and by the Joint State Government Commission and making an appropriation

Whereas the existing tax structure of the Commonwealth has been developed on a piecemeal basis with the result that it lacks a scientific and equitable basis

Whereas it is frequently represented that our present tax structure unduly burdens industrial enterprise with the result that new industrial enterprises are deterred from locating in the Commonwealth and existing industrial enterprises are in an unfavorable competitive position and

Whereas increasing demands for government service result in the necessity of raising additional revenue to pay the cost thereof which must not be levied so as to destroy the industrial position of the Commonwealth

Section 1 A commission to be known as the State Tax Commission is hereby created consisting of the Secretary of Commerce ex officio who shall be chairman thereof and six other members two of whom are to be appointed by the Governor two by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and two by the Speaker of the House of Representatives to study the laws of this Commonwealth and of other states and countries relating to taxation to investigate systems and methods of taxation and to revise the existing laws of the Commonwealth relating to taxation in order to provide ways and means of financing the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions upon a more scientific and equitable basis and to safeguard and enhance the industrial position of the Commonwealth in the discharge of its duties the state tax commission may with the consent and approval of the Joint State Government Commission use any data and material compiled by the commission study the reports made by and for that commission advise and consult with said commission or any subcommittee created by it hold joint meetings with any such subcommittee to the end that full co-operation may be established for the accomplishment of a common end the final report of the state tax commission and any tax program resulting therefrom shall be submitted to the Joint State Government Commission for its approval The members of the commission shall serve without compensation but they shall be reimbursed for their living and traveling expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties

Section 2 The commission is hereby authorized to sit at Harrisburg or elsewhere within the Commonwealth and to employ a secretary and counsel and such other assistants as may be necessary

Section 3 The commission shall have the power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the commission and to produce such books papers records and documents as the commission may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth Each member of the commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the commission or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

Section 4 Vacancies occurring in the membership other than the Chairman of the Commission shall be filled by appointment by the authority who appointed the member whose place is vacated In the case of the vacancy of the Chairman the succeeding Secretary of Commerce ex officio shall become Chairman of the Commission

Section 5 The commission on or before February one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine shall report the results of its investigation to the Governor and the General Assembly together with such proposed legislative measures as it deems advisable to carry its recommendations into effect

Section 6 The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the commission for the purpose of paying the expenses of its members and the salaries and traveling expenses of its employes for the preparation editing printing and distribution of the report of the commission and any other expenses necessary for the work of the commission

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 715, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 599) entitled "An act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours and also during other hours unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws" by exempting the exhibition of religious motion pictures by churches from the provisions of this act

Whereas It was never the intention of the legislature to prohibit the exhibition of religious motion pictures by churches under the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment therefore

Section 1 The act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 599) entitled "An act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours and also during other hours unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws" is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to follow immediately after section six to read as follows

Section 6.1 Non-applicability of Act The provisions of this act shall in no way prohibit the exhibition of religious motion pictures by churches at any time provided however that the said motion pictures shall be exhibited within church property and provided further that no admission charge shall be made

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 792, as follows:

An Act prohibiting persons engaged in the business of selling or reselling new or used automobiles from selling or reselling the same or accessories sold therewith at prices in excess of the retail prices established or suggested by the manufacturers requiring such persons to display at their place of business the manufacturer's established or suggested retail price and to keep records of the prices at which they purchase and sell the same and records of the orders received from and filled for customers requiring a duplicate bill of sale showing the consideration received to be delivered to the purchaser providing for the revocation of dealers' licenses and imposing penalties for violations

Section 1 During and since the recent World War large quantities of automobiles have been sold and transported out of this Commonwealth to other markets and many thousands of such vehicles allotted by manufacturers to the territory composed of this Commonwealth have been diverted by dealers from the orders of purchasers and caused to be sold in markets in this and other states These practices have created an acute shortage of such vehicles in the Commonwealth and persons have secured control of the supply and maintain a monopoly of the sale of new and used automobiles and trucks and have extorted from persons prices which are exorbitant and beyond the means of many persons to whom such vehicles are a necessity Such automobiles are essential to the industrial and commercial activities and to the livelihood of the citizens and such shortages and extortion impede and interfere with the economic life and prosperity of this Commonwealth and create a serious emergency at the present time

Section 2 No person engaged in the business of selling or reselling new or used automobiles shall sell or resell the same at prices in excess of the retail delivered prices established or suggested by the manufacturers thereof for new automobiles at the manufacturer's shipping point plus transportation charges the retail installed prices of any optional equipment and accessories selected by the retail purchaser and any applicable taxes

Section 3 Every person engaged in the business of selling or reselling new or used automobiles shall cause to be posted and displayed in a conspicuous place in his garage showroom lot or other place of business a list showing such retail prices established or suggested by the manufacturer of the automobiles which he offers for sale or sells and shall also display such manufacturers retail prices upon each new or used automobile which he offers for sale or sells

Section 4 Every person engaged in the business of selling or reselling new or used automobiles shall at all times keep in his place of business accurate complete and permanent records showing the prices at which he has bought and sold all such automobiles and of the dates of such sales and the names and persons from whom he has purchased or to whom he has sold such articles and also keep such records of all automobiles purchased or received from the manufacturers or others and of the dates when purchased and received and keep on file all orders and contracts received from customers from purchases and of the dates when such automobiles were delivered to them and of the prices charged to them All such places of business and such records shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times by representatives of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth and of the Pennsylvania State Police The making of any false statement in such record or the failure to keep such records or files shall constitute a misdemeanor and be punished in the manner hereafter provided

Section 5 No person engaged in the business of purchasing or selling new or used automobiles shall impose as a condition of any such sale any requirement that the purchaser shall buy from such person parts and accessories which are not included in such retail price established or suggested by the manufacturer for such automobile

Section 6 Upon the sale of any such automobile the seller shall deliver to the purchaser a bill of sale in duplicate stating in detail the consideration for such sale including the model and year of any automobile traded in exchange and any other items of value received therefor

Section 7 The making by any person engaged in the purchase or sale of new or used automobiles of any false record in connection with any purchase or sale or any order or contract for the purchase or sale of any such new or used automobile or any other violation of the provisions of this act shall be ground for revoking the dealer's license and refusing to grant to any dealer a license or renewal thereof

Section 8 The provisions of this act shall not apply to any person who sells a new or used automobile which he has purchased in good faith for his own use and not for the purpose of resale

Section 9 For the purposes of this act the word "person" shall include an individual corporation partnership or association

Section 10 Any violation of the provisions of this act shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or by imprisonment for a term not to exceed one (1) year or both

Section 11 If any clause sentence paragraph or part of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall for any reason be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid such judgment shall not affect impair or invalidate the remainder of this act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances but shall be confined in its operation to the clause sentence paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered and to the person or circumstances involved it is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such invalid provisions not been included

Section 12 The provisions of this act shall become effective ten (10) days after final enactment and shall remain in force for a period of two (2) years after such final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 812, as follows:

An Act relating to milk produced in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and delivered to plants which are or may hereafter become approved by any health authority as sources of milk for New York City and the Counties of Westchester Suffolk or Nassau in the State of New York providing for a Milk Compact Commissioner designating the Chairman of the Milk Control Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as such Milk Compact Commissioner authorizing the Milk Compact Commissioner to enter into a compact or compacts with the legally constituted authorities of other states for the uniform regulation of the price to be paid producers for said milk subject to such federal consent as may be authorized or required by law providing that the Milk Compact Commissioner may become a member of an authority or a commission created by any such compact authorizing uniform regulation of prices to be paid producers as may be provided in any such compact providing that the Milk Compact Commissioner in the event of his temporary physical inability to perform any of the duties imposed upon him shall designate a deputy to act for him and in his behalf providing that any such compact agreed upon by the several states which shall become parties thereto shall expressly provide that all milk delivered by producers under the terms and conditions of said compact or the provisions of any price fixing or other order issued pursuant to the authority of such compact and distributed as milk or cream in Pennsylvania shall be priced commensurately with the prices of milk produced in Pennsylvania not covered by such compact or order and re-delivered re-sold or otherwise disposed of or marketed in any marketing area in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as such prices are fixed by the then existing rules regulations and prices legally established in Pennsylvania for such area providing for reports to be made upon request to the Governor of the Commonwealth and providing for methods for transmittal of such compact by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Congress of the United States for Congressional consent as required by Article 1 Section 10 Clause 3 of the Constitution of the United States

Preamble

Whereas The production sale and distribution of milk and certain milk products in this Commonwealth are attendants with serious conditions affecting milk producers milk dealers and consumers of milk the following legislative findings of fact with respect thereto are hereby made

1 Milk is the most necessary human food vital for promotion of the public health and for development of strength and vigor in the race It is a most fertile field for the growth of bacteria and therefore its production and distribution have been surrounded by more costly sanitary requirements than those of any other commodity in this the third greatest milk producing and consuming state of the nation

2 Milk consumers are not assured of a constant and sufficient supply of pure wholesome milk unless the high cost of maintaining sanitary conditions of production and standards of purity is returned to the producers of milk If this is not done large numbers dispose of their herds or engage in milk strikes and other producers supply unhealthful milk or milk of lower quality because of financial inability to comply with sanitary requirements and to keep vigilant against contaminations Public health is menaced when milk dealers do not or cannot pay a price to producers commensurate with the cost of sanitary production or when consumers are required to pay excessive prices for this necessity of life

3 Approximately eight thousand milk producers residing in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and many thousand producers resident in other northeastern states including principally Pennsylvania New York New Jersey and Vermont ship milk to the New York City Metropolitan Market Because of the interstate character of much of the milk entering this market great difficulty has been experienced in stabilizing said market and securing to the widely scattered producers prices adequate to insure a constant supply of pure and wholesome milk for the consumers The problem in these states is a common one that cannot be effectively met by legislation enacted by them severally Uniform regulation and control of all milk and cream entering the same market is essential to the production delivery and sale of adequate pure and wholesome milk and cream for the health and welfare of the consumer public residing in New York City and the Counties of Westchester Suffolk and Nassau in the State of New York and because of the interstate character of much of this milk and cream the required uniformity can be accomplished only through the joint action and agreement of the states affected in the nature of an interstate compact made effective by the consent of the Congress of the United States as contemplated in Article 1 Section 10 Clause 3 of the Constitution of the United States

Whereas public control of the milk industry especially as to prices paid to producers shipping both intrastate and interstate should remain under control of law to the end that the prices received by producers shipping in interstate commerce shall be commensurate with the prices received by producers selling their milk intrastate

Whereas it is necessary to preserve promote and protect the public health and welfare and to prevent fraud and imposition upon consumers and producers by continuing to treat the production transportation manufacture processing storage distribution and sale of milk as a business affecting the public health and affected with a public interest

Section 1 The Chairman of the Milk Control Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby designated and appointed as Milk Compact Commissioner and vested with authority to confer with legally constituted authorities of other states and of the United States with respect to uniform milk control as applying to milk delivered to plants which are or may hereafter become approved by any health authority as sources of milk for New York City and the Counties of Westchester Suffolk or Nassau in the State of New York Said Milk Compact Commissioner is hereby authorized to confer and negotiate with and to enter into an agreement or interstate compact with such authority of New York New Jersey and Vermont and Massachusetts if it chooses to join to provide for the uniform regulation of the price to be paid producers for such milk subject to such federal consent as may be required by law The Milk Compact Commissioner may if such compact shall so provide become a member of any authority or commission created by such compact for the purpose of conducting investigations securing information holding hearings fixing prices and issuing orders rules and regulations

Section 2 Any such compact as hereinbefore provided may include or provide the method and procedure for establishing by orders of any authority or commission created thereby among other things formula prices equalization of producer prices assessment of administrative expense against handlers and compensation for services to producers Such compact shall be applicable only to that milk which constitutes the regular and the necessary reserve supply for New York City and the counties of Westchester Suffolk and Nassau in the State of New York Any such compact shall provide that in fixing prices for milk consideration shall be given to all the elements of the cost of production and other economic conditions which affect the market supply and demand for milk and its products and shall provide for the fixing of such prices as will reflect such factors insure a sufficient supply of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest Any such compact shall provide that any order issued thereunder shall fix a price of any milk covered by such order and distributed in Pennsylvania as fluid milk or cream which shall be commensurate with the prices established by law on other milk produced in Pennsylvania and distributed in the same market in Pennsylvania as milk or cream and not covered by such compact order Such compact shall also provide that any milk delivered by producers for re-sale or processing as milk or cream in the city of New York or the counties of Westchester Suffolk or Nassau in the State of New York and diverted from those markets to any market in Pennsylvania shall be priced at a price commensurate with the prices legally established by the authorized authorities of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the area and market to which such milk or cream is so diverted and sold

Section 3 The Milk Compact Commissiononer in the event of his temporary physical inability to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this Act shall designate a deputy to act for him and in his behalf

Section 4 The Milk Compact Commissioner shall make such reports to the Governor of the Commonwealth relating to the duties performed hereunder as shall from time to time be requested by the Governor

Section 5 When and if an agreement and compact shall be agreed upon by and between the legally constituted authorities of the States of Pennsylvania New York New Jersey and Vermont and Massachusetts if it chooses to join such compact it shall be the duty of the Pennsylvania Milk Compact Commissioner hereinbefore designated to transmit such agreement or compact to the Governor of this Commonwealth and if the Governor shall determine that the same conforms to the intent purpose and requirements of this Act he shall so certify and transmit or may join with legally constituted authorities of the other states that are parties to such compact in transmitting the same to the Congress of the United States requesting the consent of the Congress thereto in conformity with the provisions of Article 1 Section 10 Clause 3 of the Constitution of the United States

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 850, as follows:

An Act to further amend clauses six nine ten and thirteen of section one of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P L 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by further defining State employee and original member to include certain employees paid on a per diem or hourly basis

Section 1 Clauses six nine ten and thirteen of section one of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P L 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P L 202) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words and phrases as used in this act unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context shall have the following meanings

6 "State employee" shall mean any person holding a State office or position under the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania employed and paid on a yearly or monthly basis by the State Government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in any capacity whatsoever and shall include also any attorney solicitor investigator appraiser and clerk employed by the year or by the month in the office of any register of wills howsoever appointed whose compensation is actually paid from Commonwealth moneys and shall also include all judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth whose salaries are paid by the Commonwealth and also all clerks and secretaries employed by judges and paid on a yearly or monthly basis by such judges from moneys appropriated by the Commonwealth for such purposes and also all officers and employees of the Pennsylvania State College paid on a yearly or monthly basis other than those paid wholly from Federal funds and also all officers and employees of the Delaware River Joint Commission and of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission paid on a yearly or monthly basis if the Delaware River Joint Commission and the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission shall agree to contribute and contribute to the State Employees' Retirement Fund from time to time the moneys required to build up the reserves necessary for the payment of the State annuities of such officers and employees without any liability on the part of the Commonwealth to make appropriations for such purposes and also but only for the purposes of this act all officers and employees of any separate independent public corporation created by act of Assembly (not including however any municipal or quasi-municipal corporation) who immediately prior to their employment by such public corporation were employees of the Commonwealth so long as they remain officers or employees of such public corporation if such public corporation shall agree to contribute and contribute to the State Employees' Retirement Fund from time to time the moneys required to build up the reserve necessary for the payment of the State annuities of such officers and employees without any liability on the part of the Commonwealth to make appropriations for such purposes But the term "State employee" shall not include those persons defined as employees in section one paragraph seven of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employees exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as amended by section one paragraph seven of the act approved the twenty-first day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 245) excepting such officers and employees of the Department of Public Instruction as are not members of or who may withdraw from the public school employees' retirement association provided by said act and no member shall be deprived of credit for prior service as a State employee because of the fact that such service was rendered while he or she was a member of the public school employees' retirement association

The term "State employee" shall also include all State officers and employees regularly employed by the year or by the month at a fixed annual or monthly compensation when the General Assembly is not in session but who during a legislative session instead of a fixed annual or monthly salary or compensation are paid upon a per diem basis or by a fixed salary or compensation from the legislative session

The term "State Employee" shall also include state officers and employees regularly employed on a per diem or hourly basis or partly at a fixed annual or monthly salary and partly on a per diem or hourly basis regular employment shall not be construed to include employment of less than one hundred days or seven hundred fifty hours in any year

In all cases of doubt the retirement board shall determine whether any person is a State employee as defined in this paragraph and its decision shall be final

* * * * *

9 "Original Member" of the retirement association shall mean a state employee who was at any time a state employee prior to January first one thousand nine hundred twenty-five whether or not such employment has been continuous and who shall have become a member of the retirement association on or before December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-five or in any case where subsequent to such date the definition of "State Employee" has been changed so as to include additional persons not previously classed as state employees if any such person shall have become a member of the retirement association on or before the thirty-first day of December next following the effective date of the act under the provisions of which he was enabled to become a member of the association and he elects to become an "original member"

Any such state employee who shall become an original member of the association after the approval of this amendment including those who having heretofore become a new member thereof shall become an original member under the provisions hereof shall pay to the retirement association a sum equal to all the back payments which such person would have made had he or she become a member of the retirement association when the retirement system was established

Where back payments are based on hourly or per diem wages and wage records are not available for the entire time of the persons employment the deductions for the period for which records are not available shall be computed by using the average of the earliest two year period for which records are available

Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having such regular payroll deduction of such person increased by not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increase shall be credited to such back payments owning and shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing to his credit and his state annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the members' annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated

Original member of the retirement association shall also mean any judge in service on the second Monday of January one thousand nine hundred thirty who shall elect to become a member of the retirement association at any time during the term for which he was then elected or appointed and any person hereafter elected or appointed a judge who at the time of his election or appointment is an original member of the retirement association or who was retired voluntarily or involuntarily as an original member and is at the time of his election or appointment as a judge receiving a retirement allowance as an original member

10 "new member" of the retirement association shall mean a state employe who shall have become a member of the retirement association at a date subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred twenty-four or who upon becoming a member subsequent to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four elected or hereafter elects not to make back payments and in the case of a judge shall mean any judge who was not an original member and who is elected reelected or appointed to the office of judge subsequent to the second Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty any person who became a state employe as herein defined subsequent to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four when he or she became such "state employe" Upon payment to the retirement association of a sum equal to all back payments which such person would have made had he or she become a member at the date of becoming a "state employe" Any person who became a state employe as herein defined prior to January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five may become a "new member" as of January 1st one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five upon payment to the retirement association of a sum equal to all back payments which such person would have made had he or she become a state employe and a member on January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five

Where back payments are based on hourly or per diem wages and wage records are not available for the entire time of the persons employment the deductions for the period for which records are not available shall be computed by using the average of the earliest two year period for which records are available

Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having the regular payroll deduction of such person increased for not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increases shall be credited to such back payments owing which shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing to his credit and his state annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the member's annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated

* * * * *

13 "Prior Service" shall mean all service as a state employe completed not later than the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred twenty-three and in the case of judges or other persons who by amendment to this act become "state employes" shall mean all service completed prior to the date of becoming eligible to be a member of the retirement association

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

HOUSE BILL No. 1178 CALLED FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I call from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, House Bill No. 1178, for consideration at this time.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1178, entitled:

An Act to further amend section six hundred seventeen point one of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" authorizing school districts under certain condition to appropriate moneys to nonprofit corporations for the construction of school athletic stadia including adequate equipment of the athletic field with fence enclosures and lighting system

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. MALLERY offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 617.1), page 2, line 12, by inserting after the figure "617.1" the following: "(a)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 617.1), page 2, lines 12 and 13, by striking out the words "or outdoor athletic stadium or stadia"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 617.1), page 3, lines 5 and 6, by striking out the words "or athletic stadia including adequate equipment of the athletic field with fence enclosures and lighting system"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 617.1), page 3, line 9, by striking out the words "or athletic stadia"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 617.1), page 3, line 12, by striking out the words "or athletic stadia"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 617.1), page 3, by inserting after line 16, the following:

(b) The board of school directors of any school district shall have power to enter into a contract of lease and release with any nonprofit corporation established for the purpose of erecting athletic stadia, including adequate equipment for the athletic field connected therewith as well as fence enclosures and lighting systems therefor, for the use of the school district, under which contract the school district shall lease land owned by it to the nonprofit corporation for the purpose of erecting thereon an athletic stadium including adequate equipment for the athletic field connected therewith as well as fence enclosures and lighting systems therefor, for the use of the school district and the school district shall lease the same from the nonprofit corporation at a stated rental, payable only on the proceeds of the gate receipts and rentals for the use of such facilities, with the right in the school district to renew such lease at stated periods at a stipulated rental, and at any time during the continuance of the lease to purchase the improvements from the nonprofit corporation at a stipulated price. No such contract of lease and release shall be entered into until the entire project has been submitted to and approved by the Department of Public Instruction in writing. Such approval shall include specifically: (1) Approval of purpose for which improvement is intended. (2) total cost of improvement. (3) amount of rental. (4) period of time for amortization, and (5) a stipulation that no money of the school district other than that received from gate receipts and rentals for the use of the improvements shall be used in making any payment of rental or purchase price. Upon completion of the improvements, the school district shall take over and operate the same, and shall collect all gate receipts and entrance fees and all rentals for the use of the improvements; and shall keep the same in a separate fund, apart from all other moneys of the school district. Such fund, until title to the improvements has been obtained by the school district, shall be used only for the maintenance and operation of the stadium and other improvements and for the payment of rentals and purchase price of such improvements.

Section 2. The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

L. 20), entitled "An act regulating in criminal trials the cross-examination of a defendant, when testifying in his own behalf," by further providing what evidence is or is not admissible.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I am about to present to the Chair a bill but before doing so I desire to make a short statement.

Mr. President, due to the fact that we are nearing the end of the session, and that conditions as they have prevailed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and especially during the present session of the Legislature, have come to the place where we know not whether we are talking about things that are constitutional or whether they are conflicting with those things that are provided for in the Constitution, I am about to present to the Chair a bill relating to the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth by placing before the electorate of Pennsylvania whether or not we shall call a Constitutional Convention.

Mr. President, being a freshman in this Senate, I deem it a very great honor and a privilege to be able to present to the Chair a bill which, if enacted into law, will become one of the greatest pieces of legislation passed by this or any other legislative body.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. TARR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 853, entitled:

An Act relating to the preparation of amendments and revisions to the Constitution of the Commonwealth by a convention and their adoption or rejection by the people providing for the nomination of delegates to the convention and for their election and also for a vote by the electors on the question of calling such a convention and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BERGER from the Committee on Labor and Industry, reported as committed, House Bill No. 706, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (e) of section two of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 654), entitled "An act to provide for the safety and to protect the health and morals of persons while employed; prescribing certain regulations and restrictions concerning places where persons are employed, and the equipment, apparatus, devices and machinery used therein; prescribing certain powers and duties of the Department of Labor and Industry relative to the enforcement of this act; and fixing penalties," further regulating dust hazards.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 94, entitled:

An Act to fix the salaries and compensation of the judges of the Supreme Court, the judges of the Superior Court, the judges of the courts of common pleas, the judges of the orphans' courts, the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and the judges of the County Court of Allegheny County; and repealing certain acts inconsistent herewith.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, June 4, 1947

The House met at 12:00 noon Eastern Standard Time.

The SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Doctor W. H. Russell, pastor of St. John's Primitive Methodist Church, Hazleton, Pennsylvania, the guest of the Honorable John J. Mikula, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Heavenly Father, we would be very reverent for just a moment as we address Thee. We feel it to be very fitting that we should just tarry in our hurried and busy lives to call upon Thee and to thank Thee for all the good things Thou hast been doing for us. We thank Thee for the wonderful heritage of our belief in Thy Fatherhood. Every last one of us believe in all the mercies and the blessings in life, that they come from Thy hand, and we all feel that Thou art worthy of our praise and worthy of our gratitude and we offer our praise and our gratitude right now for all that Thou hast done for us.

We want to thank Thee this afternoon, our dear Father, for this great country of ours. We thank Thee for what it has meant and what it means in the world today. It seems sometimes that the eyes of the world are turned this way and they are asking what America is doing, and with Thy help, Oh God, may we set the right kind of example for the world. We thank Thee for this great country of ours, and how much it has meant to thousands and millions of people and what it means to us today. We ask Thy richest and continued blessings to rest upon us. We thank Thee for the President of the United States, we thank Thee for the Governor of our state, we thank Thee for what Thou hast done for them, and we pray that Thy richest blessing will rest upon them.

And now, this body of men, dear Father, who think of the enormous tasks that they are assigned to handle, and we ask, dear Father, that they shall not approach this task each in his own strength to master these things and solve these problems, but that they will be persuaded to ask Thee for wisdom and help to carry on the affairs of our State.

We pray Thee, Oh God, that Thou wilt hear us. May their actions, may their doings here meet with Thy approval. We do believe, everyone of us, our dear Father, that we shall have to give an account of our actions, and that these men will have to give an account of their actions here, and may it be said, dear Father, that when they come to face Thee, that their actions will meet with Thy approval.

Now, be with us as we go to our several communities, keep us all very close to Thee, so that when we finish our task on earth we shall all go to the place that Thou hast provided for those who love Thee. And we will ascribe to Thee all glory and praise today and evermore. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

RESOLUTION No. 59.

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1947.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, since the birth of the Nation, has been a leader among the industrial states of the United States, and

Whereas, Because of its wealth of natural resources, its force of skilled and able workmen, its heavy population, its access to the commercial markets through its location, with access to the Atlantic Ocean, the Great Lakes, the Mississippi Valley, and nation wide rail transportation facilities, and the basic industries located within its borders, it offers to industry in general fundamental and important advantages which few, if any, other states can duplicate, and

Whereas, In order to maintain this position as an industrial leader it is incumbent that a study and investigation be made of the causes behind the decreasing number of new industries being established in the Commonwealth and the reasons for the failure of established industries to expand and modernize their plants in this State while they carry on such programs in their plants in other states, and

Whereas, although there have been many conflicting reasons advanced for this problem no comprehensive study of causes therefor has been made nor has any legislative program or other plan been presented to combat this trend, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby requested to make a comprehensive and thorough study and investigation into the cause and reasons for this movement of industry from the Commonwealth and the decrease in the number of new industries being established in the Commonwealth and to evolve from such study and investigation recommendations of a legislative program designed to attract the retention, expansion and growth of industry already located in the Commonwealth and the establishment of new industries therein, which recommendation shall be presented to the General Assembly at its next regular session.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. WEISS and MILLS. RESOLUTION No. 60

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1947.

Whereas, The minimum price of milk in the Pittsburgh area over a year ago was only fifteen and one-half cents a quart, and

Whereas, With permission of the OPA in June, 1946, the minimum price was increased to sixteen and one-half cents a quart. Within fifteen days after the OPA went out of existence, the State Milk Control Commission authorized an increase of such minimum price to nineteen and one-half cents per quart, and that price is still in effect at the present time, and

Whereas, The State Milk Control Commission, at a hearing held over two months ago was petitioned by the Pittsburgh milk dealers to authorize a decrease in the minimum price of one cent or of one and one-half cents per quart during the months of May, June and July, as during this period the Pittsburgh area is flooded with a surplus of milk, and

Whereas, The said Commission has authorized a reduction of the minimum price to eighteen cents in the Philadelphia and Harrisburg marketing areas, and

Whereas, A reduction in the price of milk as requested by the retail dealers of Pittsburgh would probably increase sales and permit the surplus to be taken up by the public, and further save consumers seven thousand dollars ($7,000) daily in their food budgets, and

Whereas, Such reduction during the months of May, June and July would deter out-of-State producers from shipping their milk into Pennsylvania because of the existing high prices; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives urge the State Milk Control Commission to act immediately upon the Pittsburgh dealers' petition and authorize a reduction in the minimum price of milk in that area in conformity therewith.

Referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries.

Cook, Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 394, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four hundred nineteen of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled

"An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by permitting certain additional insurance companies to come within the provisions thereof and changing certain capital and surplus requirements

Section 1 Section four hundred nineteen of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" as added thereto by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 789) and as further amended by the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 585) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 419 Certain Companies Heretofore Organized May Come within Provisions of Act [Stock companies] Every company incorporated or reincorporated under the act of April twenty-eighth one thousand nine hundred and three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred twenty-nine) entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of corporations for the purpose of making insurance upon the health of individuals and against personal injury and disablement and death therein limiting the amount for which such corporations may issue policies and providing the manner in which certain existing corporations may become reincorporated under this act" or under the act of April twentieth one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 317) entitled "An act authorizing certain existing beneficial or protective societies heretofore incorporated to reincorporate for the purpose of making insurance upon the health of individuals and against personal injury and disablement and death regulating such corporations and limiting the amount for which such corporations may issue policies" or under any subsequent act authorizing certain existing incorporated beneficial or protective societies to reincorporate or to merge and reincorporate as limited life insurance companies having in the case of a stock company a [paid up] capital of not less than three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) and a [paid-in] surplus at least equal to fifty per centum of the [subscribed] capital or having in the case of a mutual company insurance in force in an aggregate amount of not less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) on not less than four hundred persons and a surplus of not less than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) may notwithstanding any limitation to the contrary established by any act of assembly or by the provisions of its charter issue policies insuring the lives of persons and every insurance appertaining thereto may grant and dispose of annuities and may insure against personal injury disablement or death resulting from traveling or general accidents and against disablement resulting from sickness and every insurance appertaining thereto as specified in subdivision (a) clause one (1) of section two hundred and two (202) of this act

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 569, Printer's No. 343

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 710, as follows:

An Act to further amend section three hundred twenty of article three of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" changing penalty for neglect by insurance companies to furnish financial and other statements when required by Insurance Commissioners

Section 1 Section three hundred twenty of article three of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" as amended by the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 967) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 320 Annual and Other Reports Penalties Every stock and mutual insurance company association and exchange doing business in this Commonwealth shall annually on or before the first day of March file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner a statement which shall exhibit its financial condition on the thirty-first day of December of the previous year and its business of that year and shall within thirty days after requested by the Insurance Commissioner render such additional statement or statements concerning its affairs and financial condition as the Insurance Commissioner may in his discretion require The Insurance Commissioner shall furnish to each of the insurance companies associations and exchanges blanks in such form as he may adopt for their statement and he may make such changes from time to time in the form of the same as shall seem to him best adapted to elicit from them a true exhibit of their financial condition Insurance companies of foreign governments doing business in this Commonwealth shall be required to return only the business done in the United States and the assets held by and for them within the United States for the protection of policyholders therein

Any company association or exchange which neglects to make and file its annual statement or other statements that may be required in the form or within the time herein provided shall forfeit a sum not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each day during which such neglect continues and upon notice by the commissioner its authority to do new business shall cease while such default continues

For wilfully making a false annual or other statement required by law an insurance company association or exchange and the persons making oath to or subscribing the same shall severally be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5000) A person who wifully makes oath to such false statement shall be guilty of perjury

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Cook, Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1035 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. CORDIER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 4, 1947

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 1035, Printer's No. 649, entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties," be recalled from the Governor for further consideration and amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, into the midst of this short and business-like session, in which there have been so many happy developments and such unanimous and speedy and progressive agreement concerning policies upon the part of the majority, there must be an occasional unhappy note. I presume that the Majority Leader in the midst of his busy life, promoting a short and business-like session, has noted that some of his fondest visions have gone astray, and I sorrow with him because his trust in human nature must have been dealt such a bitter blow.

I remember well his standing upon the floor of this House and assuring us all that Pennsylvanians were so patriotic, so devoted to the common weal, the general good, and so desirous of contributing to the support of our institutions that never, no never would there be any Pennsylvanians who would buy their cigarettes outside of the state of Pennsylvania, And lo and behold! I find in his favorite newspaper, his journalistic bible—and I would observe and caution the Majority Leader that he should shift bibles—the Pittsburgh Press is much more dependable when it comes to sound reasoning and sound policy than the Philadelphia Inquirer. They are liable to lead him into all sorts of by-paths. But anyhow I find in his favorite newspaper, "Cigarette Tax Here Gives N. J. Boom" and lo and behold! in that same paper I find that the Goldwin Sales Company, Box 99, Jersey City, New Jersey, "Cigarettes, all Popular Brands, by mail $1.40." Then Castin's Inc., 133 Parker Avenue, Passaic, New Jersey—you can take down these names, you fellows that want to scrouch your State. Then there is Peck Cigarette Service—that is in Haddonfield, New Jersey, and Colonial Trading Company, Trenton, New Jersey; and the Garden State Mail Order Company, that is in Jersey City. They will all sell you cigarettes tax free, and apparently lots of people are falling for the game because I understand they have to wait for thousands of orders to be filled. Again I say to the Majority Leader that I sorrow for him because of the blow dealt to his confidence in Pennsylvania human nature.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SORG asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I still have a great deal of confidence in human nature. And in this short business-like session, I will admit that I find it much, much more human, but I am sure that in our trust in human nature we have only made one step farther than the party represented by the gentleman who so ably initiated the tax and possibly got the New Jersey mail order houses started originally.

PUPILS OF LINCOLN SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is very pleased to have as guests this afternoon a delegation of pupils from the Lincoln School of Chester, Delaware County; under the direction of Miss Louise Baker, Miss Elsie Rohrman and Miss Margaret Gallagher.

They are the guests of the Delaware County delegation.

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1173 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. ELDER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 4, 1947.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), that House Bill No. 1173, Printer's No. 650, entitled "An act to amend the title of and the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 817) entitled 'An act authorizing and regulating the growth sale and distribution of forest tree seedlings and transplants by the Department of Forests and Waters regulating the use of such forest tree seedlings and transplants and imposing duties upon the Department of Agriculture with regard to the enforcement of this act' by extending its provisions to include shrubs and vines under certain circumstances," be recalled from the Governor for further amendments.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. There will be an important Caucus of the Republican Members in the new House Causus Room immediately after recess.

If there is no objection, the Chair will now declare a recess until 2:00 o'clock Eastern Standard Time. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. McMILLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Aeronautics to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. GUGER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Welfare to meet during the session of the House.

CERTIFIED COPY OF SENATE BILL No. 189

Mr. McKINNEY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 4, 1947.

Whereas, Senate Bill No. 169, Printer's No. 28, entitled "An act to amend section one of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 164), entitled 'An act authorizing and empowering minors seventeen years of age or older to contract for and to make loans in accordance with the provisions of the act of Congress known as the "Service-men's Readjustment Act of 1944" or any agency of the Commonwealth hereafter created and saving and relieving the parents, guardians and trustees of such minors from any liability therefor unless joining therein,' authorizing minor spouses of minors to join in the execution of certain contracts and prohibiting the disaffirmance of such contracts on the grounds of minority," the official copy of which was referred by the Speaker to the Committee on Judiciary, on March 12, 1947, has been lost; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House is hereby directed to request the Chief Clerk of the Senate to furnish to the House for the Committee on Judiciary, a certified copy of Senate Bill No. 189, which copy shall be substituted for the original, for consideration of the Committee on Judiciary.

Signed JOHN H. McKINLEY,
Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary

HOUSE BILL No. 1001.

An Act to provide that Labor Unions shall file certain statement and reports annually with the Secretary of Labor and Industry imposing powers and duties on the department relative thereto and providing penalties

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.
The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, line 2 by striking out the word "department" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "secretary".

Amend section 1, line 1, page 2 by inserting after the word "Industry" the following "after such persons or association of persons have been organized as provided by law".

Amend section 3, page 2, line 16 by striking out the word "him" in inserting in lieu thereof the word "it"; page 2, line 19 by striking out the word "He" and inserting in lieu thereof "the secretary of labor and industry"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

BILL AND MESSAGE LAID ON TABLE

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill, together with the message from the Senate, be laid on the table.
The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL No. 1076.

An Act to amend subsection two of section six of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1168) entitled "An act to protect the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively creating the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board officers of the State government and courts providing for the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively declaring certain labor practices by employers to be unfair further providing that representatives of a majority of the employees be the exclusive representatives of all the employees authorizing the board to conduct hearings and elections and certify as to representatives of employees for purposes of collective bargaining empowering the board to prevent any person from engaging in any unfair labor practice and providing a procedure for such cases including the issuance of a complaint the conducting of a hearing and the making of an order empowering the board to petition a court of common pleas for the enforcement of its order and providing a procedure for such cases providing for the review of an order of the board by a court of common pleas on petition of any person aggrieved by such order and establishing a procedure for such cases providing for an appeal from the common pleas court to the Supreme Court providing the board with investigatory powers including the power to issue subpoenas and the compelling of obedience to them through application to the proper court providing for service of papers and process of the board prescribing certain penalties" declaring picketing by persons not employed by the place of employment picketed to be an unfair labor practice.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.
The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 4, line 19 by inserting after the word "is" the word "not"; page 5, lines 1 and 2 by striking out after the word "place" the following: "being picketed while a strike is in progress affecting the place of employment" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "of employment".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE BILL No. 477.

An Act to amend sections three, four and nine of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 808) entitled "An act providing for the use of the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon as an institution for the reception, care, maintenance, detention, employment, and training of defective delinquents; authorizing the preparation and equipment (including necessary construction) of the institution for such purposes, either by the Department of Property and Supplies or the General State Authority, and authorizing the necessary leases or conveyances for this purpose; changing the name of the Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania Industrial School; providing for the commitment and transfer of such persons to such institution and discharge therefrom; conferring powers and imposing duties on the aforesaid board of trustees, the Department of Welfare and courts; and imposing certain charges on counties," further providing for the mental examination of inmates and their probation or parole

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 2, line 8, by striking out the words "juvenile delinquents" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "inmates", same line by striking out the words "release or retention" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "probation or parole".

On the question,

BILL ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will return to bills on third reading. The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 682, as follows:

An Act declaring certain organizations groups or societies subversive and certain persons disloyal citizens or undesirable aliens within this Commonwealth and making it unlawful in certain cases for any person to assist aid or abet such subversive associations or such persons and making all persons violating this act ineligible to hold public office or public employment or office in certain other organizations or corporate bodies as well as subject to certain fines or imprisonment or both

Section 1 Any organization group or society of persons incorporated or unincorporated domestic or foreign (other than a duly registered agency of a foreign government recognized by said United States) which declares or pledges its allegiance or the support of its members to any foreign government or political leader or organization or which teaches or advocates or attempts to cause a fundamental change in the form of government of said

United States by unlawful means or which has for one of its purposes or aims the ultimate seizure control or overthrow of said government or that of this Commonwealth by modes not prescribed by our constitution and legislation for the altering reforming or abolishing thereof but by means of force of arms and various forms of violence or which is under the jurisdiction of or dominated by any foreign group or organization having the aforesaid aims is hereby declared to be a subversive association and any person alien or citizen who is a member of any such subversive association or who knowingly assists aids or abets such an organization group or society in any manner hereinafter made unlawful is hereby declared to be an undesirable alien or a disloyal citizen of this Commonwealth

Section 2 No person shall knowingly assist aid or abet any subversive association above described after it shall have been held by any court of competent jurisdiction in this Commonwealth to be subversive as herein defined or to be under the jurisdiction or connected with a subversive group by knowingly signing any petition or paper in its behalf or making any public statement either printed written or verbal upholding such association or any of its known members unless it be done solely for the purpose of defending the civil liberties of such member or undesirable alien or disloyal citizen in any legislative or judicial proceedings inquiring into his alleged subversive activities no person shall contribute or pay to or for the use of any such subversive association any money or other valuable thing or solicit others to do so or to become members of supporters thereof

Section 3 It shall be unlawful for any person herein defined as a disloyal citizen or an undesirable alien or who shall have unlawfully assisted aided or abetted any organization group or society hereinbefore described as subversive to hold any public office or public employment or any office in any labor union guild or organization or in any fraternal beneficial educational patriotic political or veterans' organization within this Commonwealth or other organization or corporate body which is required by law to be chartered or registered by the Commonwealth or any agency thereof unless such person shall have voluntarily purged himself from all connection with such subversive association at least three years prior to entering upon such office or employment or official position

Section 4 Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof for a first offense shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5000) or undergo imprisonment for a period of not more than ten (10) years or both

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, this bill should not have the affirmative sanction of this Legislative body. I have conferred during the recess with the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bender. He has stated his position and we have discussed the legal matters contained in the bill. I am informed by him that there will be no discussion of the bill on the floor of the House as far as interrogation is concerned, and I intend to keep that wish of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bender.

I should like, therefore, to make a few comments. First of all I realize that in a bill of this kind no statement on the floor of the House can change anybody's opinion, but I say to you, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, this is one of the most dangerous pieces of legislation presented to this General Assembly.

In the first place this bill provides for penalizing what is known as a subversive organization. It defines and sets up certain definitions as to who are disloyal citizens and who may be declared undesirable aliens. There should be fresh in the minds of those who served here, the debate that was had some years ago as to how far Pennsylvania can go in determining who are aliens. We made that mistake in the alien registration act, wherein we attempted to legislate as to aliens. You will recall that the Supreme Court of the United States said that the Commonwealth had no authority to legislate in that field.

I submit to this House that we have no authority to legislate in the field of determining who are aliens and who are not aliens. If we do not have that authority it is hard for me to determine how we have authority to decide on who are undesirable aliens. In one section of this bill it provides "any organization, group or society of persons incorporated or unincorporated, domestic or foreign (other than a duly registered agency of a foreign government recognized by said United States) which declares or pledges its allegiance or the support of its members to any foreign government and so forth.

I suggest to this House that on yesterday we passed an appropriation bill in which we said that we would, if the Senate concurred, give twenty-five thousand dollars to the Commission on Liberia. Liberia is a foreign country.

Now, I submit we are not perhaps an organization, group or society of persons incorporated, but I am not so sure that if another organization would do the same thing, that organization would not be caught under this bill. As a matter of fact I asked the Majority Leader yesterday if he was certain under that bill, by making that appropriation to that foreign government, we of the General Assembly could not be construed as being subversive. I imagine he has an answer today, and I should like to hear that answer.

In the next place, there is a section of the bill which provides that a duly constituted court "shall determine,"—or a competent court of competent jurisdiction shall determine." I should like to ask someone in this House what is a court of competent jurisdiction so that we would know to which forum we should go for redress.

Let me read that section: "No person shall knowingly assist, aid or abet any subversive association above described after it shall have been held by any court of competent jurisdiction in this Commonwealth to be subversive—"

There is no court designated. Does it mean the Orphan's Court, does it mean the Common Pleas Court? There is no court designated. How can any litigant go into any court when there is no court designated in the bill.

There are other matters of form in the bill, but I am not going to speak on that. There is one prize article that I have not found in any study of criminal law that I have been able to get hold of, and I would like to read this section, section 3. It provides:

"It shall be unlawful for any person herein defined as a disloyal citizen or an undesirable alien or who shall have unlawfully assisted aided or abetted any organization group or society hereinbefore described as subversive to hold any public office or public employment or any office in any labor union guild or organization or in any fraternal beneficial educational patriotic political or veterans' organization within this Commonwealth or other organization or corporate body which is required by law to be chartered or registered by the Commonwealth or any agency thereof unless such person shall have voluntarily purged himself from all connection with such subversive association at least three years prior to entering upon such office or employment or official position."

I submit to this House, where is a man going to purge himself? Is he coming to the Legislature, is he going to church, is he going to court, or can he do it on the public square? Where is he going to purge himself? If we are going to carry a principle like this out in the law of this Commonwealth, then I suggest that any man in the land who commits a crime and doesn't know anything about it, who then goes out and purges himself, that we will excuse him. If we have a right to do it in one instance we have a right to do it in another.

I say to the Members of this House that this bill transgresses one of the most fundamental liberties we have; it transgresses on freedom and liberty of speech, freedom of assembly and freedom of the press. I say if Tom Paine were living today he would be the first one to fight this bill. But the one redeeming feature of it is if he were a member of the organization or society he might select the court to go to; he might select a justice of the peace because a justice of the peace is a constitutional court under the laws of the Commonwealth—because the bill does not designate what is a competent court under the laws of Pennsylvania.

There is another question that I shall submit, and I believe it is so serious that this bill should be referred back to Committee, and that is this: how can you convict an association of subversive activities when subversive activities are not defined in the bill with clarity and with certainty. The criminal law requires that before a man shall be convicted of crime he shall be confronted by witnesses to the crime with which he is charged and that the charge be stated clearly and in concise terms. I wish someone who knows anything about this bill would answer those questions. This bill should not have, as I said before, the affirmative sanction of this House of Representatives.

Mr. BENDER. Mr. Speaker, being a layman I naturally do not wish to discuss the constitutionality of this bill. I am perfectly satisfied to leave that up to the courts. I introduced the bill from bitter experience in the field of labor. In its attempts to purge the Communist party from contaminating our labor organizations and our patriotic organizations, I introduced this bill in all sincerity to stop the Communist movement in our Commonwealth before it is too late. If the Members of this House feel that this bill is a bad bill, let them indicate it by their vote. I personally am going to vote for it. If this bill fails today, members of the House, I don't want to come back here five or six or ten years from now because it will be too late.

Mr. GRIFFITHS. Mr. Speaker, there is one fundamental crime in this bill, as I think we all ought to understand. It is very clearly stated on page 3, three lines from the bottom, starting with line 7, that is "by unlawful means or which has for one of its purposes or aims the ultimate seizure or overthrow of said government."

Now we are voting today on just one fundamental principle. Let us understand that clearly, and that is we are determining whether we will permit in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by unlawful means the overthrow of the government.

I say to you today that we know very well the principles of the communistic party, and I don't care whether they are connected with Russia or not, the principles are the same, and that is to overthrow the government. They work in an underhand way, they work subversively, they seek to undermine. They do not come out and declare their principles, but they work in such a way that we don't know they are working. It doesn't come out in the newspapers, but yet when things fail, and when strikes come, then the Communists come forward in their own way and say "Look, if you had been in Russia, or if you had had communistic principles this would not have happened." That's the way they work. Let us not be confused by a lot of talk on this bill. We are only voting on overthrow of government, mark you, and we are only voting on unlawful means to overthrow the government.

Now of course it will be difficult to convict these people, we recognize that; we know it is no easy task to do that, to prove a crime like that, but when we say that they shall be brought to a court of competent jurisdiction we don't have any trouble in defining court of competent jurisdiction. We all know that under the Constitution of Pennsylvania we have established courts, and any court is a court of competent jurisdiction if it is brought within the jurisdiction given to those courts.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, says "shall it go to the Orphan's Court?" I am surprised that he says that. He knows that the Orphan's Court has only limited jurisdiction in certain cases such as decedents' estates and matters pertaining to minors. A court of competent jurisdiction in this case clearly would be the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county, where criminal cases are heard. Any lawyer knows that. We are here today to consider the fundamental principle, whether or not we are going to permit the communistic party to continue in their own way. I say to you that after the last war there have been overthrows of the government in Russia, in Japan, in Germany, in Italy and in Spain, all after the last war, World War number I, but we did not hear very much about the communistic party then, did we? But today we are hearing a lot more about the communistic party. It is preached in our churches that we should condemn the communistic party. It is spoken of in every patriotic organization of which we are members. We didn't hear all of that at the end of the last war, but today we do, and yet at the end of the last war country after country was overthrown. Today I say to you that we can look forward in the future to attempts by the communistic party to overthrow the United States government. Are we going to sit here and say "all right, we are not going to legislate against the communistic party; we are going to let you have your free speech, your free this and that." Then again, as my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Bender, says, it will be too late, ladies and gentlemen, it will be too late. Now is the time to hush the communistic party. Let us not give them the sword with which to kill us.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I recognized that a speech on the Communist party or against the Communist party would finally get into the discussion of this bill. I haven't discussed the Communist party. I don't see anything in the act that says anything about the Communist party. I am not speaking about the Communist party. How is this bill going to be enforced against any party? It says that the association shall be determined to be subversive. It does not set up any form of procedure, it does not name the court. I submit to the gentleman from Philadelphia that this is an extension of the common law doctrine on crime, and unless this legislation designates the court through which these associations shall be determined to be subversive the bill cannot work.

I would like to ask the gentleman the question, what would be the procedure if someone would bring to him information that there is a subversive organization lurking around the Hall here, and if this bill were to pass, what procedure would he follow to bring the organization before some competent court? And if he would answer that without speaking about the Communist party and can answer it to the satisfaction of the members here who have some idea as to criminal procedure, we will vote for the bill. We are not interested in whether Russia is over here or is not over here; we are here to determine legal procedure.

Mr. GRIFFITHS. Mr. Speaker, I feel that should answer the gentleman from Allegheny as to legal procedure. I don't think I would have a bit of difficulty here. The bill here creates a new crime. The way you get at the crime is to swear out an affidavit, have the party arrested have him brought before a magistrate or justice of the peace, where a hearing is held. If the justice of the peace holds them for the grand jury their case subsequently is placed before the grand jury and if an indictment is formed against them they are tried before the Court of Quarter Sessions of the County. This is a new crime and the same procedure would apply as in any other criminal offense.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe the gentleman has read the bill. I would like for him to read the penal provision of the bill, which is on page 7, Section 4, which says—and this is the only part that has any penal provision, "any person who violates—"

Now, before you get to the penal code, the organization has been declared subversive. What is the procedure set up in the act to determine what is a subversive organization? If the gentleman would read the bill he would find that Section 4 does not apply until the organization has been determined to be subversive.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would have been ignoble to have interrupted the exchange between the two legal lights. Now, in this bill of all bills I have ever seen, is the most striking example of bombarding a crocodile with cream puffs. I am not excited about this bill, and I appreciate the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia. Denouncing the Communists is hot stuff, it's good politics. Denouncing Communists has proven to be in the last couple of years a very profitable political practice; it has paid dividends.

My God, Mr. Speaker, I wouldn't expect these gentlemen here to be unmindful of one of the agencies that brought them here. If there hadn't been a Joe Stalin some of them would have been back home and be peddling something else.

Now, notwithstanding the high grounds taken by my friend, the gentleman from Allegheny, and his sound reasoning—so sound that the enactment of this bill does not mean a thing. In all of this short and business like session of the Legislature you voted for more pills than any Legislature has been called upon to swallow in my memory, and you have made up your mind to vote for or against this bill. And since we have swallowed such large doses of it, why not swallow one more pill? I do believe that the gentleman, the sponsor of this bill, has terrified me, but at the same time he gave me a ray of hope; he says if we don't pass this bill in five years the Communists will have the country. Now, if his idea is your idea, that this make shift resolution of intent—and that is all that it is, a resolution of high and good intent, is going to stop Communism, why gentlemen, let us pass this bill and chalk is up as your supreme achievement. I am willing to go to bat and say "Gentlemen you had your chance to stop Communism; you said you were going to do it, you said you would do it with House Bill 682", but you don't do it and you now find that every act unlawful under this bill is unlawful under the existing statutes, you don't have a single weapon in your hand if you pass this bill that you do not now have. So I say to may friends on this side of the House, considering the practical situation, let us help them against the Communists to get on an even keel with them, and with the exception of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, let us pass this bill unanimously.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—2.

Cook,

Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WEISS filed the following reasons for his vote:

By my vote of "no" on the "Bender Bill", House Bill 682, I did not desire that the Communists get any comfort from same, as I loathe and detest everything and anything that the Communists stand for. If there was a good bill presented against the Communists, it would be a pleasure for me to vote for it. However, the "Bender Bill" is a poorly drawn bill that impairs the right to free speech, the right to free press and the right to free religion as guaranteed by our Constitution.

If a bill isn't any good and is harmful to the people, I could not vote for it.

By Mr. BRUNNER.

HOUSE BILL No. 1345.

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act, approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven, (Act No. 102, P. L.), entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a state tax, payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and botlers and by others of syrups and bottled soft drinks, prepared, used, sold, transported or delivered within the Commonwealth; requiring persons as herein defined engaged in the manufacture, bottling, distribution, sale and transportation of syrup and bottled soft drinks to secure permits; prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax or assessing the tax; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those manufacturing, bottling, distributing, selling and transporting syrup or bottled soft drinks taxable hereunder; and providing penalties" by designating the nature of the tax, by clarifying the provisions relating to the imposition thereof and by re-defining certain terms.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. FISH offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 4, 1947.

The sudden death of Judge Fred S. Reese at his residence in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, on May 30, 1947, was a profound shock to his many friends and admirers throughout the Commonwealth.

Gifted with an innate sense of fairness and an unusual perspicuity his career as President Judge of the Cumberland County Courts was truly one of justice for all.

Born at Illion, New York, December 12, 1896, he received his early education in the public schools of that community and upon his graduation from Cornell in 1919 with an L.L.D. degree Judge Reese joined the faculty of the Dickinson Law School and was soon regarded as an unusually capable and popular teacher.

He first held public office upon his election as district attorney of Cumberland County in 1927 and demonstrated his capabilities so well in that position that he was elected to the bench in 1931, becoming the youngest jurist to ever sit upon the Cumberland County bench. In 1941 Judge Reese was reelected without opposition.

A man vitally interested in his community and the Nation Judge Reese, upon his establishing residence in Carlisle, soon became identified with many charitable and other worthwhile projects. As a Boy Scout leader, a churchman, and officer of many fraternal organizations and local community projects his boundless energy and ability to direct the achievement of desired goals made him an invaluable asset to his community. In 1946 Judge Reese spent the summer in Germany as legal adviser to the Public Health, Welfare Religious and Education Branch of the United States Military Government.

In his passing, Judge Reese leaves a vacancy in his community and the judicial system of the Commonwealth that will be difficult if not impossible to fill, and his family and friends will sorely miss his devotion and friendship; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That in the passing of Judge Fred S. Reese the Commonwealth and Carlisle have lost a distinguished citizen whose record of service will long be remembered; and be it further

Resolved, That as a sincere but inadequate expression of the deep sympathy of the General Assembly the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to his widow, Mrs. Edith R. Reese, residing at Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

Mr. MILLS offered a resolution which was laid over under the Rules.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 551, entitled:

An Act to further amend the title of and the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1286) entitled as amended "An act empowering cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships to charge and collect annual rentals for the use of certain sewers systems and treatment works including charges for operation inspection maintenance repair depreciation and the amortization of indebtedness and interest thereon granting to municipalities as defined and to authorities power to charge and collect from owners of and users of water in properties served annual rentals rates or charges for the use of certain sewers sewerage systems and sewage treatment works and special assessments for the design and construction thereof authorizing municipalities to contract with authorities for sewer sewerage and sewage treatment services and to convey to such authorities their water supply systems sewers sewerage systems and sewage treatment works clarifying and extending the provisions thereof with respect to the purposes for which and the circumstances under which such rentals rates or charges may be imposed and the proceeds thereof used Adding purposes including the design and construction of new or additional sewers sewerage systems and sewage treatment works authorizing the use of water revenues for such purposes authorizing water utilities as defined to perform billing and collecting services for such municipalities and authorities and conferring certain powers upon the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission in connection therewith authorizing the shut off of water supply in certain cases and making it unlawful to discharge harmful industrial wastes into any municipal sewer

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 2, last line of title on said page, by striking out the word "and."

Amend title, page 3, line 2 from top of page, by inserting after the word "sewer" the following: "and providing that the amendments shall not apply to cities of the first class or authorities operating in cities of the first class."

Amend bill, page 23, by inserting after line 18, the following: "Section 4. The provisions of these amendments shall not apply to cities of the first class or to any authorities operating in cities of the first class."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 800, entitled:

An Act empowering cities of the second class cities of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns townships of the first class school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Page 4, Line 10, following the word class, strike out boroughs towns townships of the first class school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the amendments which I offer would leave the bill in the position of broadening the tax base only of second class cities, second class cities A and third class cities. It would eliminate boroughs, townships and school districts from the bill. We do this because we believe it is in line with the principles of sound taxation.

House Bill 800 was born of a desire to broaden the tax base of Pittsburgh. Then someone thought it would be a good idea to broaden the tax base of Scranton, and then someone conceived a notion of broadening the tax base of third class cities. Then the idea was so popular that it was decided to attempt to broaden the tax base of boroughs and school districts.

Now, members of the House, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is not legally, morally or constitutionally responsible for how you run your municipality. There is nothing in the constitution that says you must maintain a certain level of government in those cities. There is a constitutional provision regarding the Commonwealth's duties toward its schools. The Commonwealth is obligated to maintain a level of education that will equalize educational opportunities, and therefore, in so far as the mandated requirements of the statutes enacted by the General Assembly are concerned there is a valid argument that the schools be maintained by statewide uniform taxes, not as state aid, but collected through the Commonwealth as a collecting agency, and that argument is sound because the state is a better collector than the local political subdivisions. Also it is sound because the tax dollar collected by the Commonwealth costs less than the tax dollar collected by the political subdivisions, and so it is perfectly logical that the burden of the cities should be placed upon the cities, and then so far as the mandated requirements of our school situation are concerned, that they be satisfied by means of a state wide tax.

Now, House Bill No. 800 is objectionable because so many cities and so many school districts are co-terminous, and we say to the school district "Go ahead and tax everything in sight, wages, salaries, personal property and what have you?" You say to the cities as you say to the school districts, "Go ahead and tax everything in sight," with no limitation. This bill is absolutely without a vestige of limitation. How much can you tax wages? Anything you like. How much can you tax salaries? Anything you like. How much can you tax personal property? Anything you like. The same with the various school districts that are co-terminous, and I say it is unfair for this Commonwealth to create standards of education and throw them back upon the local school districts at the same time that you are broadening the tax base of the local municipalities.

Now, the nuisance value in this bill is tremendous. What can you tax? Baby buggies, gocarts, bicycles, rocking chairs, window panes, and I presume shirt tails if they are a foot long. If this House intends broadening the tax base of York or Reading or Allentown or Johnstown, that's one thing, but when the school districts of those municipalities are co-terminous with the cities themselves, to give both to the cities and to the school districts unrestrained power is obnoxious to every sound sense of tax procedure. That is the reason why I have offered these amendments, which would eliminate from the bill the boroughs, the townships and the school districts and permit the broadening of the tax base for the cities alone.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews. I do not intend at this time to go into the merits of House Bill 800 or to discuss the bill at length presently. From my standpoint, and I think from the standpoint of the majority of the members of this House, I can see no reason why cities should be favored to the exclusion of all other municipal sub-divisions of this Commonwealth when it comes to the important question of broadening the base for the raising of taxes in these various sub-divisions.

May I say generally that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during the past administrations has witnessed an increasing budget, and that presently the budget requirements are approximately one billion dollars. At the present time we have a picture of the local sub-divisions coming to Harrisburg and asking for State-wide levies and having those funds reapportioned or apportioned back to them, which is rather paradoxical. Those political subdivisions are represented by elected representatives in the lower levels. We have borough councilmen, township commissioners and others. It is essential by home rule that they determine the amount of funds necessary to administer their local sub-divisions and enact sufficient tax legislation to do so. I think for the purpose of discussing this particular amendment that that is sufficient, and I ask the membership of this House to vote down the amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the bill by inserting after the last line of Section 3 on page 8, and before the first line of Section 4 on page 9 the following sections:

Section 4. Payment of any tax to any political sub-division, pursuant to an ordinance or resolution passed or adopted prior to the effective date of this act, shall be credited to and allowed as a deduction from the liability of taxpayers for any like tax respectively on salaries, wages, commissions, other compensation or on net profits of businesses, professions or other activities, and for any income tax imposed by any other political subdivision of this Commonwealth under the authority of this act.

Payment of any tax on salaries, wages, commissions, other compensation or on net profits of businesses, professions or other activities to a political subdivision by residents thereof, pursuant to an ordinance or resolution passed or adopted under the authority of this act, shall be credited to and allowed as a deduction from the liability of such persons for any other like tax respectively on salaries, wages, commissions, other compensation or on net profits of businesses, professions or other activities, imposed by any other political subdivision of this Commonwealth under the authority of this act.

Payment of any tax on income to any political subdivision by residents thereof, pursuant to an ordinance or resolution passed or adopted under the authority of this act shall, to the extent that such income includes salaries, wages, commissions, other compensation or net profits of businesses, professions or other activities, but in such proportion as hereinafter set forth, be credited to and allowed as a deduction from the liability of such persons for any other tax on salaries, wages, commissions, other compensation or on net profits of businesses, professions or other activities, imposed by any other political subdivision of this Commonwealth under the authority of this act.

Where a credit or a deduction is allowable in any of the several cases hereinabove provided, it shall be allowed in proportion to the concurrent periods for which the taxes are imposed by the respective political subdivisions, but not in excess of the amount previously paid for a concurrent period.

Section 5. Any tax imposed under this act shall not be subject to any limitations under existing laws as to rate or amount.

Amend Section 4, page 9, line 1, by striking out the following numeral: "[4]." and by substituting in lieu thereof the following numeral: "6."

Amend Section 5, page 9, line 8, by striking out the following numeral: "[5]." and by substituting in lieu thereof the following numeral: "7."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman from Montgomery to tell the House in English what these amendments are intended to do.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might say to the gentleman if he would request it in Pennsylvania Dutch, he might get it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I can understand the explanation in Pennsylvania Dutch as well as I can understand these amendments.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I take it from the insinuation of the gentleman that these amendments represent a lawyer's answer.

Seriously, these amendments are designed to protect, or shall we say, assure residents against double taxation on the same subject. May I cite an example, where a person is a resident of one township and is employed in a borough or in another township or a city, and there is a wage tax where he is employed, and there is likewise a wage tax where he is a resident, the wage tax where he is a resident controls in all cases, and he is allowed to set off against the tax imposed at his place of employment the amount equal to what he has paid at his place of residence. This applies not only to wages but applies to any type of income, and as I say, the amendments were designed to remove the possibility of double taxation on any types of income.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for a question? Say, for instance, Mr. Speaker, that borough "A" has a wage tax, and the unit there is four, and borough "B" has a wage tax and the unit is two. Where would the worker stand under your equalization plan?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, it depends where that person resides.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, he resides, let us say, in the borough where the factor would be four as against two where he works.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, then he would pay no wage tax under two.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how would the converse work?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, if for example he resides in "A" township and is employed in "B," he is subject to a wage tax where he resides of one hundred dollars, and he is subject to a wage tax where he is employed of two hundred dollars. He can offset the one hundred dollars and pay to the municipality where he is employed but does not reside the net sum of one hundred dollars.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there you would have an example where he would be paying something at both places.

Mr. BRUNNER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how would the gentleman then argue that this bill prevents double taxation, if he has to pay in two boroughs?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, he does pay in two boroughs but as to the same level or the same amount of tax levy, he pays only one tax.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, but if one borough, Mr. Speaker, levies a heavier tax than the other, he pays in two boroughs?

Mr. BRUNNER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. And again, Mr. Speaker, how can the gentleman say there is no double taxation?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, it is conceivable that he would be subjected to a wage tax under this bill without a wage tax in his home, and he would then pay a full tax of two hundred dollars. It would be a single tax but it wouldn't be any more burdensome if there was one in his own township where he resided.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I had some questions which I wanted to ask of the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner. We had an opportunity to casually read the amendments while they were at the Minority Leader's desk, but there is one question which the Minority Leader failed to ask which I would like to have the gentleman from Montgomery explain, and that is how does he bring these amendments within the uniformity clause of the Constitution.

Mr. BRUNNER. If I understand the gentleman correctly, he wants to know how the amendments comply with the uniformity clause. I see no reason why there is any difference here than in any other tax setup, and I think it fully complies with the uniformity clause of the constitution.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman allow us an opportunity before the bill is passed to give some study to that question as to whether this amendment does not offend the uniformity clause of the constitution which provides that all taxes must be uniform on the same subject matter within the territorial limits levying the tax. It seems to me there is everything here but uniformity. I haven't had a full opportunity to peruse the amendments.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, may I reply to the gentleman, that the bill, of course, will lie over for printing.

If printed it will be on final passage tomorrow, and may I assure the gentleman that it will not be called up for final vote before Monday of next week.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, upon this amendment, because it is quite unconsciously, the most vicious wide-sweeping assault upon the payroll of this state that has ever been presented in this House, we ask for a roll call upon the amendment.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I cannot let go unchallenged the statement that this is an assault on the payrolls of the Commonwealth. The sole and exclusive purpose of these amendments is to protect an assault on those payrolls from a number of different sources.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Bane and were as follows:

CITY OF READING

Messrs. READINGER and MORRISON offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 4, 1947.

Next year the City of Reading, Pennsylvania, will celebrate its bicentenary as the said city was founded in 1748 by Thomas and Richard Penn, sons of William Penn. The City of Reading and the County of Berks were named respectively for the native English city and shire of the Penns.

In connection with its history it is interesting to note that during the French and Indian War the colonial frontiers passed thru Berks County. Massacres and Indian alarms were frequent. The provincial government failed to establish an organized resistance and that task fell to one of the greatest men of the Colonial era—Conrad Weiser of Heidelberg. Next to William Penn, he was the pioneer who by his honesty, understanding and fair dealing had won the respect and confidence of the Indians. He was the Province's chief Indian interpreter and represented not only his own Province but also Maryland and Virginia.

Contemporaneous with Weiser, there lived in a neighboring township to Reading two families connected with each other by marriage who have contributed two of America's greatest men. The Boones gave us Daniel Boone, the pioneer of Kentucky, who was born here in 1734; the Lincolns gave us Abraham Lincoln, born here in 1738, the grand-father of the martyred President.

The early industries of Reading had their inception in the manufacture of iron and its products. Reading was the center of a region that was among the very first to produce iron, and for nearly a century this region maintained its supremacy in that line. It was one of the earliest producers of stoves and castings; in fact, the first cook stove in America was made here in 1767 by Thomas Maybury.

In 1716, Thomas Rutter erected upon a branch of the Manatawny Creek the first forge ever built in Pennsylvania. Several years later he built the first furnace. Charcoal forges and furnaces arose in such numbers throughout our hills that by the time of the Revolution, Berks County had become the center of the colonial iron industry.

Reading and Berks are proud of the men they have given to the service of the State and the Nation. Besides Conrad Weiser, there were such men as Joseph Heister, Governor of Pennsylvania, 1820-1823; John Andrew Schulze, Governor, 1823-1829; a father of our common school system; Joseph Ritner, Governor, 1835-1839; Spencer Fullerton Baird, scientist, long head of the Smithsonian Institute; David M. Gregg, Brigadier General, who won fame upon the battlefield of Gettysburg; Henry A. Muhlenberg and J. Glancy Jones, Ministers to Austria; Frederick Smith and Warren J. Woodward, Justices of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; William Strong, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; George F. Baer, railroad President, Nathan C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania under seven successive governors, and Hunter Liggett, Lieutenant General of the U. S. Army and second in command in the American Expeditionary Forces.

Today the City of Reading has a population of 110,568, which makes it fifth in population and third in industry among the cities of Pennsylvania, a city whose metropolitan area embraces a population of 266,855.

In Metropolitan Reading is located 13 of the largest plants of their kind in the United States producing full-fashioned hosiery, full-fashioned hosiery machinery, narrow fabrics, single thread lace machinery, high grade alloy steel, small steel castings, glove silk underwear, menthol cough drops, heat treated automobile frames, glass door knobs, goggles, optical goods and children's shoes.

Here also are the two largest single unit foundries in the world and the largest brick-burning kiln in the world; also the great locomotive and car shops of the Reading Company, one of the largest and best equipped in America. Reading is the nation's second largest center for the manufacture of builders' hardware and hosiery and knit goods. Reading is also recognized as the home of the pretzel industry of America, a commodity that is exported to 20 foreign countries, in Europe, South America, South Africa India and Arabia. The high quality of the Reading-made pretzel is due in large measure to the pure mountain spring water, found in Reading, which is used in the making of this delicacy.

Reading claims the distinction of a symphony Orchestra of 60 pieces; 2 Choral Societies, a Chamber of Music Ensemble, a Civic Opera Company and many other excellent music groups which have contributed to the city's fame as a center of art and culture, therefore be it

Resolved (If the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby congratulates the said city upon its bicentenary and wishes it continued success in the years to come, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit to the Mayor of the City of Reading, a copy of this resolution.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE

THURSDAY, June 5, 1947

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, M., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, prayer was offered by the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. WAGNER.

Our Father in Heaven, before we start another legislative day we give thanks for Thy goodness and Thy kindness and for the blessings which Thou hast showered upon us. Make our minds clear, make our hearts just and as we seek to legislate for the people of this Commonwealth, may we be ever mindful of the laws of God. Guide us, direct us and give us the necessary wisdom to do those things which are acceptable in Thy sight and beneficial to Thy children.

This we ask in Thy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 710, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three hundred twenty of article three of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurances; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," changing penalty for neglect by insurance companies to furnish financial and other statements when required by Insurance Commissioner.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

GENERAL ASSEMBLY EXTENDS CONGRATULATIONS AND CONTINUED SUCCESS TO THE CITY OF READING UPON ITS BICENTENARY

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1947

Next year the City of Reading, Pennsylvania, will celebrate its bicentenary as the said city was founded in 1748 by Thomas and Richard Penn, sons of William Penn. The City of Reading and the County of Berks were named respectively for the native English city and shire of the Penns.

In connection with its history it is interesting to note that during the French and Indian War the colonial frontiers passed thru Berks County. Massacres and Indian alarms were frequent. The provincial government failed to establish an organized resistance and that task fell to one of the greatest men of the Colonial era—Conrad Weiser of Heidelberg. Next to William Penn, he was the pioneer who by his honesty, understanding and fair dealing had won the respect and confidence of the Indians. He was the Province's chief Indian interpreter and represented not only his own Province but also Maryland and Virginia.

Contemporaneous with Weiser, there lived in a neighboring township to Reading two families connected with each other by marriage who have contributed two of America's greatest men. The Boones gave us Daniel Boone, the pioneer of Kentucky, who was born here in 1734; the Lincolns gave us Abraham Lincoln, born here in 1738, the grandfather of the martyred President.

The early industries of Reading had their inception in the manufacture of iron and its products. Reading was the center of a region that was among the very first to produce from, and for nearly a century this region maintained its supremacy in that line. It was one of the earliest producers of stoves and castings; in fact, the first cook stove in America was made here in 1767 by Thomas Maybury.

In 1716, Thomas Rutter erected upon a branch of the Manatawney Creek the first forge ever built in Pennsylvania. Several years later he built the first furnace. Charcoal forges and furnaces arose in such numbers throughout our hills that by the time of the Revolution, Berks County had become the center of the colonial iron industry.

Reading and Berks are proud of the men they have given to the service of the State and the Nation. Besides Conrad Weiser, there were such men as Joseph Heister, Governor of Pennsylvania, 1820-1823; John Andrew Schulze, Governor, 1823-1829; a father of our common school system; Joseph Ritner, Governor, 1835-1839; Spencer Fullerton Baird, scientist, long head of the Smithsonian Institute; David M. Gregg, Brigadier General, who won fame upon the battlefield of Gettysburg; Henry A. Muhlenberg and J. Glancy Jones, Ministers to Austria; Frederick Smith and Warren J. Woodward, Justices of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; William Strong, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; George F. Baer, railroad President, Nathan C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania under seven successive governors, and Hunter Liggett, Lieutenant General of the U. S. Army and second in command in the American Expeditionary Forces.

Today the City of Reading has a population of 110,568, which makes it fifth in population and third in industry among the cities of Pennsylvania, a city whose metropolitan area embraces a population of 266,855.

In Metropolitan Reading is located 13 of the largest plants of their kind in the United States producing full-fashioned hosiery, full-fashioned hosiery machinery, narrow fabrics, single thread lace machinery, high grade alloy steel, small steel castings, glove silk underwear, menthol cough drops, heat treated automobile frames, glass door knobs, goggles, optical goods and children's shoes.

Here also are the two largest single unit foundries in the world and the largest brick-burning kiln in the world; also the great locomotive and car shops of the Reading Company, one of the largest and best equipped in America. Reading is the nation's second largest center for the manufacture of builders' hardware and hosiery and knit goods. Reading is also recognized as the home of the pretzel industry of America, a commodity that is exported to 20 foreign countries, in Europe, South America, South Africa, Indian and Arabia. The high quality of the Reading-made pretzel is due in large measure to the pure mountain spring water, found in Reading, which is used in the making of this delicacy.

Reading claims the distinction of a symphony Orchestra of 60 pieces; 2 Choral Societies, a Chamber Music Ensemble, a Civic Opera Company and many other excellent music groups which have contributed to the city's fame as a center of art and culture, thereof be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby congratulates the said city upon its bicentenary and wishes it continued success in the years to come, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit to the Mayor of the City of Reading, a copy of this resolution.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

IN MEMORIUM, JUDGE FRED S. REESE

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1947

The sudden death of Judge Fred S. Reese at his residence in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, on May 30, 1947, was a profound shock to his many friends and admirers throughout the Commonwealth.

Gifted with an innate sense of fairness and an unusual perspicuity his career as President Judge of the Cumberland County Courts was truly one of justice for all.

Born at Illion, New York, December 12, 1896, he received his early education in the public schools of that community and upon his graduation from Cornell in 1919 with an L.L.D. degree Judge Reese joined the faculty of the Dickinson Law School and was soon regarded as an unusually capable and popular teacher.

He first held public office upon his election as district attorney of Cumberland County in 1927 and demonstrated his capabilities so well in that position that he was elected to the bench in 1931, becoming the youngest jurist to ever sit upon the Cumberland County bench. In 1941 Judge Reese was reelected without opposition.

A man vitually interested in his community and the Nation Judge Reese, upon his establishing residence in Carlisle, soon became identified with many charitable and other worthwhile projects. As a Boy Scout leader, a churchman, and officer of many fraternal organizations and local community projects his boundless energy and ability to direct the achievement of desired goals made him an invaluable asset to his community. In 1946 Judge Reese spent the summer in Germany as legal adviser to the Public Health, Welfare Religious and Education Branch of the United States Military Government.

In his passing, Judge Reese leaves a vacancy in his community and the judicial system of the Commonwealth that will be difficult if not impossible to fill, and his family and friends will sorely miss his devtion and friendship; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That in the passing of Judge Fred S. Reese the Commonwealth and Carlisle have lost a distinguished citizen whose record of service will long be remembered; and be it further

Resolved, That as a sincere but inadequate expression of the deep sympathy of the General Assembly the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to his widow, Mrs. Edith R. Reese, residing at Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE BILL No. 393 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 393, entitled:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. TALLMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, under today's date, Thursday, June 5, 1947, there appeared an editorial in the Harrisburg Patriot entitled "The Senate Fumbled."

I should like, Mr. President, to read the last paragraph of that editorial, which had to do with passage of House Bill 787. The last paragraph of the editorial reads as follows:

"For the Senate's dawdling over this matter there can be no excuse. Not only did it 'gyp' the state out of considerable tax revenue but it took from the pockets of many a motorist tax money that they might have retained."

Mr. President, I should like to state, with regard to this editorial, that the writer of it was apparently ignorant of the facts, or made the statement and wrote the editorial without due regard for the facts; I assume that it was innocently made, and for that reason I should like to state for the record in the Senate the facts concerning the passage of that bill, and I should, in order that the record may be clear, like to express the fact that the failure to pass this bill in order to make it effective June first was not because of any dawdling or fumbling on the part of this Senate.

I should like to call attention to the fact, Mr. President, that House Bill 787 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means on March 19, 1947, in the House, that it was reported as committed on May 26, that is passed first reading on May 27, passed second reading, with amendments, on May 28, and was finally passed in the House on May 29. I further call attention to the fact, Mr. President, that that bill came to the Senate on that same day, was referred to the Committee on Finance, and on that very same day was reported from the Committee on Finance as amended.

I should like to state at that point, Mr. President, that it was found that amendments were essential to the correct passage of that bill. It having been so reported, it was passed on first reading on May 29, and then the Senate went into session at 12.01 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, 1.01 a. m. Daylight Saving Time, in order that the bill might receive second reading in the Senate.

Now, Mr. President, I want to further state that the Senate, under those circumstances, did all that it possibly could have done. There was no use for the Senate to remain in session on the following day, which was Saturday, May 31, by reason of the fact that the bill, having been amended in the Senate, it needed the concurrence of the House and the House of Representatives had adjourned for the entire week, on May 29.

I suggest, Mr. President, that the erroneous impression which was given in the editorial to which I have referred should, in all fairness and justice, to the members of this Senate on both sides, be corrected.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 925 entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies to establish and conduct a service for photographing correspondence records reports and other papers and for studying and recommending filing systems or the use of space by departments boards and commissions.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1156, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission for the purchase of cases preserving and exhibiting the original William Penn Charter and other historical documents.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 831, entitled:

An Act creating the Pennsylvania Public Safety Commission as an Independent Administrative Commission of the Commonwealth and defining its powers and duties providing for a Director of Public Safety and defining his powers and duties defining the scope of existing safety agencies and making an appropriation.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 829, entitled:

• An Act making an appropriation to the Land-Grant College of Pennsylvania for the purpose of matching certain moneys appropriated by the Congress of the United States.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 770, entitled:

An Act providing for equalization of assessed valuations of real property throughout the Commonwealth for use in determining the amount and allocation of Commonwealth subsidies to school districts creating a State Tax Equalization Board and prescribing its powers and duties imposing duties on certain local officers agents boards commissions and departments and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

EXTENDED REMARKS BY MR. RAHAUSER

Mr. RAHAUSER:

SHOULD TEACHERS RECEIVE SALARY INCREASES ON MERIT RATING?

I. Theoretically this idea that good teachers should receive higher salaries sound fine.

II. Practically the idea has not been successfully worked out anywhere.

1. Good teaching cannot be measured by any concrete standard applicable in other occupations such as: amount of sales, number of cases won, production of bolts, etc.

2. No objective standards have yet been devised for evaluating accurately what children have learned in one classroom because:

a. The improvement in arithmetic, e.g., must be correlated with the ability of pupils, health, home conditions, all factors which affect learning.

b. Intangible gains are important, too, such as, responsibility, habits, learning to get along with other people. These can not be measured mathematically.

c. Educational philosophy is in a state of flux without agreement on goals and techniques. Rating depends upon the opinion of one's superior.

d. Research on reliability of ratings under present systems shows:

In one study, 60 supervisors rated a teacher on two demonstration lessons for twelve items on a ten-point scale with the following results:

In 14 of 26 ratings the results ranged from 1 to 10.

On general merit 13 rated the same teacher as superior and 13 rated that same teacher as very poor.

3. The United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. Studebaker, said this year that no system is available for fair and accurate rating of teachers for salary purposes.

4. New York City had such a merit rating system and gave it up years ago. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh found it very troublesome; both cities abandoned it.

5. Since there is no satisfactory rating system for salary purposes available:

a. It should not be required for 2500 school districts.

b. It becomes a method of writing a schedule

(1) That will cost little because ratings will be kept down and thus keep costs down.

(2) That looks good on paper, but will benefit few.

(3) That is an unacceptable substitute for a higher mandated maximum salary schedule.

6. Actually it discourages experimentation on the part of good teachers; produces rivalry within a faculty instead of building esprit de corps; encourages display rather than undramatic, but fundamentally sound techniques; puts too great a premium on "apple polishing"; brings back political pressure on teachers.

III. Mandated Salary Schedule

The Homsher schedule means increases for 4th class districts, but very little or nothing for the others.

The Homsher schedule tends to make teaching an occupation worth while for a few years, but not a career. It means turnover rather than continuity of personnel.

Education affects every source of wealth in the Commonwealth.

Its end—sustain our very existence.

It is contrary to the social forces of our state to attempt to place the additional burden of education on local government, and thereby escape the responsibility that is at stake. Mandated increments should be enacted by this Legislature and the financial responsibility for the same should be borne by the state.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 836, entitled:

An Act to further amend part of section one of the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" by further regulating the payment of such moneys into the State Employees' Retirement Fund

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned a bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 850.

An Act to further amend Clauses six nine ten and thirteen of section one of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State Employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain fund from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by further defining the State employee and original member to include certain employees paid on a per diem or hourly basis

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, line 1 by striking out the words "paragraph six" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "clause six nine ten and thirteen;" amend the title, page 2, line 1 by inserting after the word "employee" the words "and original member;" amend the title, page 2, line 6 by striking out the words "of the Department of Highways" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "paid on a per diem or hourly basis;" amend Section 1, page 2, line 1 by striking out the words "paragraph six" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "clauses six nine ten and thirteen;" amend Section 1, page 6, by striking out lines 9, 10 and 11 inclusive and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

The term "State employee" shall also include State officers and employees regularly employed on a per diem or hourly basis or partly at a fixed annual or monthly salary and partly on a per diem or hourly basis regular employment shall not be construed to include employment of less than one hundred days or seven hundred fifty hours in any year

Amend Section 1, page 7, line 5, by inserting the following:

9 "Original member" of the retirement association shall mean a State employee who was at any time a State employee prior to January first one thousand nine hundred twenty-five whether or not such employment has been continuous and who shall have become a member of the retirement association on or before December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-five or in any case where subsequent to such date the definition of "State employee" has been changed so as to include additional persons not previously classed as State employees if any such person shall have become a member of the retirement association on or before the thirty-first day of December next following the effective date of the act under the provisions of which he was enabled to become a member of the association and he elects to become an "original member"

Any such State employee who shall become an original member of the association after the approval of this amendment including those who having heretofore become a new member thereof shall become an original member under the provisions hereof shall pay to the retirement association a sum equal to all the back payments. Such such person would have made had he or she become a member of the retirement association when the retirement system was established.

Where back payments are based on hourly or per diem wages and wage records are not available for the entire time of the persons employment the deductions for the period for which records are not available shall be computed by using the average of the earliest two year period for which records are available.

Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having such regular payroll deduction of such person increased by not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increase shall be credited to such back payments owing and shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed. Any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing on his credit and his State annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the member's annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated.

Original member of the retirement association shall also mean any judge in service on the second Monday of January one thousand nine hundred thirty who shall elect to become a member of the retirement association at any time during the term for which he was then elected or appointed and any person hereafter elected or appointed a judge who at the time of his election or appointment is an original member of the retirement association or who was retired voluntarily or involuntarily as an original member and is at the time of his election or appointment as a judge receiving a retirement allowance as an original member.

10 "New member" of the retirement association shall mean a State employee who shall have become a member of the retirement association at a date subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred twenty-four or who upon becoming a member subsequent to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four elected or hereafter elects not to make back payments and in the case of a judge shall mean any judge who was not an original member and who is elected re-elected or appointed to the office of judge subsequent to the second Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty any person who became a State employee as herein defined subsequent to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four when he or she became such "State employee" upon payment to the retirement association of a sum equal to all back payments which such person would have made had he or she become a member at the date of becoming a "State employee" any person who became a State employee as herein defined prior to January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five may become a "new member" as of January 1st one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five upon payment to the retirement association of a sum equal to all back payments which such person would have made had he or she become a State employee and a member on January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five.

Where back payments are based on hourly or per diem wages and wage records are not available for the entire time of the persons employment the deductions for the period for which records are not available shall be computed by using the average of the earliest two years period for which records are available.

Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having the regular payroll deduction of such person increased for not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increases shall be credited to such back payments owing which shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing on his credit and his state annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the members annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated.

* * * * *

13 "Prior service" shall mean all service as a State employee completed not later than the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred twenty three and in the case of judges or other persons who by amendment to this act become "State employees" shall mean all service completed prior to the date of becoming eligible to be a member of the retirement association.

On the question,

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. DALRYMPLE asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Elections and Apportionment to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I observe that there are numerous meetings being held in the side rooms of the Hall of the House, and as the gentleman from Wyoming was honored by having his meeting called yesterday a "sneak" Committee meeting, I wonder if the Philadelphia Inquirer is going to term all these brief meetings today as "sneak" meetings like they did when the gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. Greenwood, called his meeting yesterday of the Law and Order Committee.

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1947-1948 and for every school year thereafter on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand two hundred dollars ($2200) two thousand three hundred dollars ($2300) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1948-1949 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand four hundred dollars ($2400) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1949-1950 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1950-1951 and for every school year thereafter on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section when because of sparsity of population road or climatic conditions or lack of other available high school facilities the state council of education has approved the continuation of a small high school the district shall receive an amount based on a number of teaching units equal to the number of teachers approved by the state council of education as being required to provide a satisfactory educational program in such school provided that the number of teachers employed is not less than the number approved

For no year shall any school district or vocational school district receive less than [six hundred dollars ($600)] the minimum subsidy per teaching unit

Section 5 Article XII of said act is hereby amended by adding after section one thousand two hundred forty-two thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 1242.1 Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth the school year 1947-1948 and for every school year thereafter on account of minimum promotional increments provided for by this act an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of minimum promotional increments entitled to reimbursement paid by the district during the year by the district's standard reimbursement fraction the Commonwealth shall not make any payments on account of minimum promotional increments paid to more than twenty-five per centum (25%) of the certificated professional employees eligible for promotional increments under the jurisdiction of a county superintendent or a district superintendent as the case may be the county superintendent shall allocate the payments by the Commonwealth on account of minimum promotional increments among the districts under his jurisdiction on the basis of the number of district teaching units of each district as compared with the total number of district teaching units of all the districts under his jurisdiction payments on account of minimum promotional increments shall be made during the school year following the school year during which the promotional increments were paid by the district the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 12 This act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is House Bill No. 417 now before the House?

The SPEAKER. The bill is now before the House on third reading. It has not yet been agreed to on third reading.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 417 be recommitted to the Committee on Education, with instructions that the Committee re-report the bill to this House on Monday, June 9, 1947, in the form in which House Bill 417 passed this House on second reading on June 2, 1947.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, since I desire to speak rather longer than usual, let those who cannot hear me thank God and be comfortable.

House Bill 417 was introduced in this House on February 18. The provisions in the bill now before us have never been discussed in this House. Probably every Member within the sound of my voice has received telegrams asking that House Bill 417 be supported. Apparently the number 417 is regarded as a magic number, and many of those who are sending telegrams asking that House Bill No. 417 be supported do not have the faintest notion as to what that bill now provides.

House Bill 417 was known originally as the Sollenberger-Stuart bill. Two very diligent Members of the House who have worked heroically, and who have endeavored to serve the interest not only of the teachers but of the schools in general, and the public, have been added as sponsors to House Bill 417, and while it is known as the Sollenberger-Stuart bill, House Bill 417 could probably be known as the Weller bill. The bill is the Weller bill because Weller of the State Department of Education virtually wrote it in its present form, because the type of Educational bills we have before us contain allocation figures and reimbursement machinery that are lost in the realm of logarithms.

In order to understand a Department of Education bill in these days it is necessary to be skilled in higher mathematics. I repeat that we have in our possession a measure that has been before us since February 18th, and I repeat that actually we are faced with a measure now which the Members of this House have not read, which they have had no opportunity to read and which the people of this Commonwealth and teachers and school boards have had no opportunity to acquaint themselves with, and while the bill has an old number, it is a new bill.

Therefore without any knowledge of this bill, which was to be a key measure of this administration, the Members of this House, the teachers and the public are asked to swallow it sight unseen. We must pass House Bill 417 today, it seems in order to avoid an unpleasant parliamentary situation. That same parliamentary situion has been looming on the horizon these many weeks. It was unnecessary for a measure to have reached the present pass.

Now, as far as I am concerned I am talking principally to the Official Stenographer and perhaps to the Majority Leader. Those who would not be disposed to listen would be as far as I am concerned be privileged to depart, provided that they give their power of attorney to the Majority Leader.

They might as well be voted by the Majority Leader; by His Excellency The Governor. There is actually only one man in this House outside of the Speaker today who has power to function, and that man is His Excellency The Governor. I see the shadow; the substance is elsewhere. The Governor tells this House when to stand up and when to sit down, when to get up and when to go to bed. All I have read for weeks in connection with House Bill 417 is that the Governor won't stand for this—the Governor won't stand for that or he won't stand for something else.

There is nothing quite as terrible from the standpoint of sound procedure as the righteous man who happens to be wrong. The possibility of potential disaster increases when to righteousness and being wrong there is added stubbornness. There is a point at which stubbornness ceases to be a virtue. Absolutism, totalitarianism, are as obnoxious when clothed in the robes of sanctity as they are when the robes they wear are dabbled with blood. That the Governor won't stand for this and the Governor won't stand for that are phrases that represent an evasion and not a reason, because even a Governor can be asked for what this Legislature wants and what the people of Pennsylvania want.

House Bill 417 made its appearance in this chamber backed by public sentiment, backed by the Press, backed by intelligent members of school boards.

The purposes which House Bill 417 embodied made it not simply a teachers' bill; it was in a very real sense a people's bill. The tragic feature in connection with House Bill 417 is the fact that the measure was in effect laughed before it was born. Without having studied the school problems, with an imperfect knowledge of the financial problems that confronted the Commonwealth, Pennsylvania's Chief Executive by a mere guess, by rule of thumb, set aside twenty-seven million dollars for the possible increase of teachers' salaries. Not twenty-six million, not twenty-eight million, not twenty-nine million, but exactly twenty-seven million and no more. Having set aside that twenty-seven million in the early days of this session, His Excellency The Governor prefers to remain immovable, perched on that twenty-seven million dollar pedestal. All of the maneuvers since then, all of the action and reaction, all of the hearings, all the debate in Committee have been pretense, shadow boxing as far as the ultimate power in charge was concerned.

House Bill 417 as submitted today for the consideration of the House has always been the bill that would ultimately be called to pass in the final days of the session. So completely is that fact recognized and realized that with this supposedly key measure pending on the calendar many of the Members have departed from the scene knowing that their ballot has been cast for them in advance and was decided many months ago.

The tax structure upon which this bill is based represents taxation expedient rather than taxation policies. The present administration's approach to the problems of taxation has been as primitive in its thinking as George H. Earle's wildest and weirdest advisors ever were, in their wildest moments.

The taxation problem to which and because of House Bill No. 417 and other measures this administration clings, mirrors the acts of desperation committed in by-gone days by Democrats who were admittedly facing an emergency, and because of the emergency bungled the job.

The House is not prepared to act upon this bill. The Members of this House do not know how the schedules carried in House Bill 417 compare with teachers' salary schedules in other States, information was requested, information was desired by the Membership of this House, but that information has not come to my attention. There are very few Members of this House who can go home today or who are at home now who can stand up and outline what House Bill 417 in its present form does for or to the teachers in their communities or how in its present form it affects the taxpayers in their community. I submit that for the Members of a deliberative body to be placed in the position where they have acted upon one of the most important measures to face us in this Session, to be placed in a position, I repeat, where many of them, many of us, will have to go home and when asked what the bill will do to the local taxpayers and what the bill will do for the teachers, will be compelled to say that they will have to get expert information.

House Bill 417 admittedly shortchanges Philadelphia. House Bill 417 admittedly shortchanges Pittsburgh. House Bill 417 admittedly shortchanges many teachers long in the service of the Commonwealth. House Bill 417 is admittedly a part of an overall plan to kick back on the local districts expenditures that should be financed through the Commonwealth, not by the Commonwealth, but through it on the basis of uniform taxes levied on a state wide basis rather than hit or miss taxation levied in a confused fashion by local municipalities.

We ask that House Bill 417 go back to the Committee because we adhere to the seven point program formulated by the House of Delegates of the PSEA on Saturday, May 31. The program adopted by the House of Delegates was as follows:

1. Accept nothing less than a uniform salary schedule, similar to that in the Stuart-Sollenberger bill.
2. Resist all efforts to increase the local tax efforts in education financing.
3. Insist on immediate service increments for teachers based on years of service.
4. Demand adequate maximum salaries for all teachers.
5. Support the establishment of a tax equalization board as a means of curing many financial ills in school districts.
6. Demand adequate subsidies for a general salary program.
7. Insist upon a State tax program which recognizes support of education as a State function.

That was sound policy when it was submitted to the attention of this House last February. It is a policy which the Education Committee of this House favored and stuck for. It was sound policy then, it is sound policy now.

We adhere to the report of the House of Delegates filed for and on behalf of the PSEA, not because it is of primary interest to the members of the teaching profession, but because that program happens at the present time to be the program which more nearly coincides with the public interest and with honest conviction of the Members of this House.

Now, as to claim that House Bill 417 in its proper form cannot be financed without imposing additional taxes—at least without imposing any taxes in addition to those already imposed, that is a cruel deception. There is plenty of cash available if this administration were not stubbornly and unwisely hoarding cash out of current assets for the purpose of financing construction needs extending far beyond the present biennium. Instead of resorting to modern methods of financing the administration instead proposes a crazy-quilt tax plan which would give indiscriminate and confusing powers to tax to various political subdivisions.

In the present instance we possess but one power, the power to protest. We are bound in a parliamentary strait-jacket. The Majority Leader stands with a parliamentary pistol in his hand and says "Vote now and like it." We will vote now, Mr. Speaker, but we most emphatically can say that we do not like it.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion to recommit House Bill 417, I am sympathetic with many of the reasons given by the gentleman from Cambria. I am also aware that his logic is based on the premise that House Bill 417 in its present form gives nothing. The gentleman speaks of twenty-seven million dollars. I respectfully submit that it is a forty-eight million dollar bill. I submit also that for weeks upon weeks this subject has been a matter of serious consideration by the Committee of Education of this House, in whom I have complete confidence.

I submit also that one of the principal reasons for the present parliamentary situation we have is not one that occurred in our Committee of Education, it came when they were in the midst of their deliberations and their studies on this measure.

Some weeks ago we were requested to proceed cautiously and prudently and slowly with a matter as serious as this. With that we whole heartedly agree. Then all of a sudden, out of a clear blue sky we find ourselves confronted with a request to call up House Bill 417—hurry, hurry, hurry, with this matter and here we are.

Mr. Speaker, we are here to say on this side that House Bill 417 as amended is a forty-eight million dollar appropriation within the budget that we had so much difficulty establishing; within the sphere of the revenues that were raised, is not so bad. We here are ready to say that in the final analysis the forty-eight million dollar provision required by House Bill No. 417 as amended does definitely represent a great step forward, and it is not the penny-pinching proposition that we would be led to believe. We believe that it provides the necessary increases in salaries.

This Legislature has never, I hope never will insist on the local governments paying just so much and no more.

The measure that we have before us is one that mandates only the minimum that must be paid in order to comply with or to become eligible for subsidies from the State of Pennsylvania and the mandated minimums that must be met in order to get a subsidy from the State of Pennsylvania, but no mandate whatever on the salaries that shall be paid to teachers as they merit it and as the local officials in direct supervision of those particular public employes may deem fit.

We suggest that this is a part of an overall program that we are perfectly willing to take to the people of Pennsylvania as our answer to the particular problem under the present circumstances, and I ask that the motion to recommit be defeated.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that places or attempts to place the intimations in the direction that in some way the minority group is responsible for the slaughter of House Bill 417. To place that responsibility even remotely on the shoulders of the minority is a good trick if you can get away with it. I would ask a roll call on the motion.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, we realize full well that the responsibility of moving forward is with the majority and all the Members of this House on both sides. We do not seek to place the responsibility with any particular minority group of this House.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Under the procedure, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cambria if it is not true that the Democrats who are not in their seats today are not here because of the fact that they were advised that there would be no roll call today on which they would desire to be recorded?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is not the case, Mr. Speaker. My understanding was that there would be a quick roll call on a party basis.

Mr. O'CONNOR. That is all, Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

NOT VOTING—4

Baumunk, Cook, Scanlon, Trout,

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DIX. I think Mr. Speaker, that there is no merit in this particular feature. I would like to say that about six years ago I proposed twelve hundred dollars with interest. At that time the Democrats reduced it to seven hundred dollars, and it is my opinion that if any Democrats had been in the majority at this time that they would not get as good a bill for the people, and the teachers would receive a much less salary than is proposed under this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the Chairman of the Education Committee, Mr. Sollenberger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Will the gentleman from Blair tell me if there is any additional amount per teaching unit under House Bill 417 that would be allocated to the city of Pittsburgh school district?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. From what angle, may I ask, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. From the angle of the teacher unit, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Reimbursement of seven hundred dollars for two years and then eight hundred dollars thereafter.

Mr. BROWN. Will the gentleman tell me whether if House Bill 417 becomes law in its present form it will cost the school district of Pittsburgh additional money?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Well, we hope not for a few years.

Mr. BROWN. Will it cost the school district any more money during the next year?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I would say where the teachers are eligible for promotional increments, in that case I believe it would, a small fraction.

Mr. BROWN. Would the gentleman be kind enough to state if he knows approximately how much that would be?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I do not know now, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Are the figures available from any source that would tell us what that figure would be?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I do not know of any, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

There may be something in the adage that half a loaf is better than no loaf at all. That may be true if you know what is in the half loaf. House Bill 417 is a half loaf but no one knows what is in the half loaf. Now, it is to be regretted that we are asked today to vote on House Bill 417. I do not intend to criticize the majority, but it does seem to me that out of fairness a bill so important as House Bill 417 should not be amended on one day with intricate amendments which are absolutely impossible for a layman or for the majority of this House to understand and then on the next day within forty-five minutes from the time the bill is placed upon the desks, to ask us to vote upon it.

I may be voting against a very fine measure, but it seems to me in protest to the way we are asked to swallow this piece of legislation without even knowing how it will effect our school districts, we should vote "no", and I intend to vote "no" on this measure.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I would like to briefly state that I agree with my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Brown. If there is any question in his mind, I assure him there is none in mine, that not only the City of Pittsburgh but at least thirty-seven other districts in the County of Allegheny are in my opinion, an opinion which I believe is shared by the Members on this side from Allegheny County, are being dealt with unfairly at least to the extent that we will not benefit to the same degree as the school districts of Pennsylvania as a whole will benefit.

I would like the record further to show that when the bill was called up several days ago in conjunction with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, I offered amendments to this bill which would raise the minimum subsidies considerably. That amendment unfortunately was defeated. We are faced now with the fact, whether we do something to better the very bad situation in Pennsylvania or whether we do not. In view of those facts I would urge the Members from Allegheny County, even though we are not getting that to which we are entitled, to support the measure.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid that we will have to take the half loaf on faith or no loaf at all. I hope the Members of the minority will support the bill.

Mr. C. C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I also would like to make a statement for the record. The Philadelphia delegation is very much in agreement with our friend Mr. Fleming of Pittsburgh. We feel apparently that cities of the first class have been discriminated against in subsides. We feel that the subsidy is entirely too low to enable our boards to operate properly and to give the teachers increases without going into the red. We will vote for House Bill 417 because there is nothing better offered at this time, unfortunately, but we would like to go on record that we feel that the subsidies as far as Philadelphia is concerned are entirely too low. We hope that something can be done in conference or someplace to increase them.

(During the calling of the roll).

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to vote at all. I haven't had the opportunity to look this over. I just got up this morning, and I do not think it is fair absolutely, and I want to be excused from voting.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the gentleman will be excused from voting. The Chair hears none.

On the question recurring,

NOT VOTING—3

Cook, Scanlon, Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1325, as follows:

An Act to further amend the title and the definition of "Liquid Fuels" in section two of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retailers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" further prescribing the liquid fuels taxable under the provisions of said act

Section 1 The title of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retailers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" is hereby amended to read as follows

An Act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are [ordinarily] practically and commercially [usable] suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation.

Section 2 The definition of "Liquid Fuels" in section two of said act as amended by the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 98) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section except in those instances where the context clearly indicates a different meaning.

"Liquid Fuels" All [distillates of and condensates] products derived from petroleum natural gas coal tar vegetable ferments and other oils including among others gasoline naphtha benzol benzine or alcohols either alone or when blended or compounded which are [ordinary] practically and commercially [usable] suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power except kerosene fuel oil and gas oil. Provided That petroleum naphtha which distill by American Society of Testing Materials Method D 86-27 or United States Bureau of Mines Method 100.13 not more than nine (9) per centum at 176° F sold for any purpose other than use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power and which are not ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines are not included in the definition of "liquid fuels." Provided further That kerosene fuel oil and gas oil used in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel vehicles of any kind or character which use the public highways in this Commonwealth shall be included within the definition of "liquid fuels" or which are prepared advertised offered for sale or sold for use for that purpose. Provided That kerosene fuel oil gas oil Diesel fuel tractor fuel by whatever trade name or technical name known having an initial boiling point of not less than 200° F and of which not more than ninety-five (95) per centum has been received at 464° F (ASTM method D-86) liquified gases which would not exist as liquids at a temperature of 60° F and pressure of 14.7 pounds per square inch absolute and naphthas and benzols and solvents sold for use for industrial purposes are not included within the definition of "liquid fuels."

Section 3 If any specific provision included in the definition of "liquid fuels" contained in this act should be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional the invalidity of said provision shall not affect any other part of the definition which is effected by this act. The General Assembly hereby declares that it would have passed this act omitting said provision if it had been advised of the unconstitutionality thereof at the time this act was passed.

Section 4 All cast or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 5 This act shall become effective on the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-seven.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" by providing for the acceptance of said act by cities

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" is hereby amended by adding immediately following section nineteen a new section to read as follows

Section 19.1 Any city in any county wherein a board is created under this act may become subject to the provisions of this act and the mayor and council of any such city may effect the same by an ordinance duly passed A copy of such ordinance approved by the mayor and duly certified accompanied by a statement of the vote thereon with the names of the members of council voting for and against such ordinance shall be forwarded to and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and when so filed the Governor shall under the great seal of the Commonwealth certify the acceptance of the provisions of this act which certificate shall be recorded among the minutes of the council and in the office for the recording of deeds in the proper county

From the date of the completion of such acceptance the objects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation in such city for city and school purposes shall be designated by and the assessment and valuation thereof for such city and school purposes shall be done only in accordance with the provisions of this act and by the officers designated in this act

Whenever any city accepts the provisions of this act all the provisions thereof shall apply to such city and any act of Assembly in force in such city in so far as it is inconsistent with the provisions of this act shall be annulled

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Cook, Scanlon, Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 372, Printer's No. 230

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 383, as follows:

An Act to amend the title and the act approved the eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 262) entitled "An act relating to consumer credit in amounts of one thousand dollars ($1000) or less requiring licenses from the Secretary of Banking restricting licenses to domestic business corporations fixing minimum capital requirements conferring certain powers on the Secretary of Banking limiting interest and other charges providing certain exemptions and imposing penalties" by further prescribing the powers of said licensees and the Secretary of Banking and further regulating the granting of said licenses and the loans charges interest and refunds to be made or collected by such licensees

Section 1 The title the definition of "Charges" in section two section three the first paragraph of section twelve and sections thirteen fourteen and eighteen of the act approved the eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 262) entitled "An act relating to consumer credit in amounts of one thousand dollars ($1000) or less requiring licenses from the Secretary of Banking restricting licenses to domestic business corporations fixing minimum capital requirements conferring certain powers on the Secretary of Banking limiting interest and other charges providing certain exemptions and imposing penalties" are hereby amended to read as follows

An Act relating to consumer credit [in amounts of one thousand dollars ($1000) or less] requiring licenses from the Secretary of Banking restricting licenses to domestic business corporations fixing minimum capital requirements conferring certain powers on the Secretary of Banking limiting interest and other charges providing certain exemptions and imposing penalties

Section 2 Definitions The following terms shall be construed in the act to have the following meanings except in those instances where the context clearly indicates otherwise

* * * * *

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 523, as follows:

An Act to further amend paragraph four of Subsection A of Section one thousand one of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 624) entitled "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers and of banking corporations with or without fiduciary powers including the conversion of National banks into State banks and for the licensing of private bankers defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such corporations of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business with or without fiduciary powers of private bankers and of the officers directors trustees shareholders attorneys and other employes of all such corporations or private bankers or of affiliated corporations associations or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation association or person and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts prothonotaries recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" by further regulating the making of installment loans

Section 1 Paragraph four of Subsection A of Section one thousand one of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 624) entitled "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers and of banking corporations with or without fiduciary powers including the conversion of National banks into State banks and for the licensing of private bankers defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such corporations of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business with or without fiduciary powers of private bankers and of the officers directors trustees shareholders attorneys and other employes of all such corporations or private bankers or of affiliated corporations associations or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation association or person and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts prothonotaries recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" as last amended by the act approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 155) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1001 Powers of Banks Bank and Trust Companies or Trust Companies A

(4) (a) To lend money either upon the security of real or personal property or otherwise to charge or to receive in advance interest therefor to contract for a charge for a secured or unsecured installment loan which in principal amount shall not exceed thirty-five hundred dollars and which under its terms shall be repayable in substantially equal installments over a period not exceeding three years which charge shall be at a rate not exceeding six dollars per one hundred dollars per annum upon the original face amount of the instrument or instruments evidencing the loan for the entire period of the loan and which such charge may be collected in advance Provided That if the entire unpaid balance outstanding on the loan is paid by cash renewal or otherwise at any time prior to maturity the bank or bank and trust company shall give a refund or credit of the unearned portion of such charge calculated at the original contract rate of charge on the total amount of installments to become due for the term of all subsequent full installment periods but no refund or credit of the unearned portion of such charge may be required in the event said refund or credit is less than one dollar ($1) for each note paid prior to the maturity date No additional amount shall be charged or contracted for directly or indirectly on or in connection with any such installment loan except the following (a) Delinquency charges not to exceed five cents for each dollar of each installment more than fifteen days in arrears. Provided That the total of delinquency charges on any such installment loan shall not exceed fifteen dollars and only one delinquency charge shall be made on any one installment (b) Premiums paid by the bank or bank and trust company for insurance required or obtained as security for or by reason of such installment loan (c) Such amounts as are necessary to reimburse the bank or bank and trust company for fees paid to a public officer for filing recording or releasing any instrument or lien and the actual expenditures including reasonable attorneys' fees for legal process or proceedings to secure or collect any such installment loan Any advertising concerning such installment loans which contains a statement of an amount or rate of charge shall also contain the percentage rate either per month or per year computed on declining balances of the face amount of the loan instrument to which such charge would be equivalent if the loan were repaid according to contract. Provided That this requirement may be complied with by stating the equivalent percentage rate which would earn the charge for such a loan repayable in twelve equal consecutive monthly installments and such stated rate may be closely approximate rather than exact if the statement so indicates. And provided further That this requirement shall not apply to an advertisement in which an amount or rate of charge is indicated only by a table which contains and is confined to examples of the face amount of the loan instrument the proceeds to the borrower exclusive of the charge and the amount number and intervals of the required payments.

(b) The aggregate amount of unpaid principal due from any one borrower on one or more loans granted pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall not at any time exceed thirty-five hundred dollars.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 626, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 511 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1242) entitled "An act relating to roads streets highways and bridges amending revising consolidating and changing the laws administered by the Secretary of Highways and by the Department of Highways relating thereto" by changing the procedure relating to changes made by the Secretary in boroughs

Section 1 Section 511 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1242) entitled "An act relating to roads streets highways and bridges amending revising consolidating and changing the laws administered by the Secretary of Highways and by the Department of Highways relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 511 Changing et cetera Width Grades or Lines of Highways Whenever in the construction reconstruction maintenance and repair of any State highway within the limits of any borough or incorporated town it shall appear to the secretary that any part or portion of such State highway within the borough or incorporated town is dangerous or inconvenient to the traveling public in the present location either by reason of width grades dangerous turns or other local conditions or that the expenses of the Commonwealth in the construction or maintenance and repair thereof would be too great or unreasonable and could be materially reduced or lessened the secretary with the approval of the Governor may change alter or establish the width grades or lines of any such State highway in a borough or incorporated town before or after construction reconstruction or improvement of the same not however exceeding the maximum width fixed by law for public roads

Whenever the secretary shall change alter or establish the width grades or lines of any State highway within a borough or incorporated town he shall cause a plan thereof to be made showing the line of State highway and the [established width thereof] changes thereon and shall attached thereto his acknowledgment Such plan and acknowledgment shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the proper county in the book kept for such purposes by the recorder of deeds All costs of the recording shall be paid by the county

All damages resulting from a change of width or of existing lines and locations under the provisions of this section shall be ascertained and paid as provided in Article III of this act

Whenever the secretary shall change alter or establish the widths grades or lines of any State highways within a borough or incorporated town it shall not be necessary to submit the plans therefor to the county commissioners for approval unless responsibility for the property damages is to be assumed by passage of a proper resolution of the county commissioners Borough councils by passage of a proper ordinance may adopt the plan of the department as and for the action of the borough in establishing the widths lines and grades and drainage structures as shown thereon and in such event the borough shall be responsible for settlement and payment of the resultant property damages or the borough may enter into an agreement with the secretary subject to the terms of a resolution of the borough council authorizing the same whereby the borough will pay the resultant property damages in whole or in part upon such terms as may be agreed upon with the secretary

Mr. LAYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Resolution No. 56 on page 35 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1947.

Whereas, The United States Marine Corps has been a shining example of faithful and efficient service to our Nation for more than 172 years; and

Whereas, The United States Marine Corps has been a source of strength whenever our Nation has been threatened, and

Whereas, The United States Marine Corps, alone of all the elements of our armed services, possessed the vision to develop the science of waging amphibious warfare, which knowledge permitted our Nation's offensive might to be carried to enemy shores and which proved to be the key to victory in a global war, and

Whereas, 50,872 of the young men of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have served our Nation during World War II in the United States Marine Corps, and

Whereas, The United States Marine Corps is threatened with extinction if the merger bill now pending in the Congress of the United States is passed in its present form, and

Whereas, The abolition of the United States Marine Corps would be a disastrous loss to our Nation, therefore be it

Resolved, (If the Senate concurs) That the existence of the United States Marine Corps be assured by amendment to any merger bill, such amendment specifically providing that the United States Marine Corps shall continue to serve as our Nation's amphibious troops and as a force in instant readiness to protect our Nation, and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to forward certified copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the President pro tempore of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, the Secretary of the Navy, the Commandant of the United States Marine Corps, and members of the Congressional delegation from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Resolution?

Mr. NEFF. Mr. Speaker I offer the following amendment:

Amend the resolution by striking out the third paragraph, beginning with the words, "Whereas The United States Marine Corps alone .."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

(After conference at the Speaker's rostrum).

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the resolution will be laid over for the time being. The Chair hears no objection and the resolution is laid over.

RESOLUTION

Messrs. STIMMEL and DeLONG offered a resolution which was laid over under the rules.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 9, 1947 at 3:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:10 p. m. Eastern Standard Time) the House adjourned.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 9, 1947.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, prayer was offered by the Senator from Butler, Mr. CARR.

Our dear Heavenly Father, we bow once again in Thy presence and ask that Thy blessing may rest upon us according to Thy greater knowledge of our needs, and according to Thy greater power of understanding, so that we may be acceptable unto Thee in all ways. We ask it in the name of Christ. Amen!

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TALLMAN and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 637, PRINTER'S No. 260 RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 5, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 637, Printer's No. 260, entitled "An act authorizing the creation of mosquito control districts in or among the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth defining their powers and duties providing for the membership thereof providing for cooperation with the Department of Agriculture and other State agencies and requiring certain reports."

This bill permits the governing body of any county, county authority, municipal authority, city, borough, town or township to create a Mosquito Control District either alone or jointly with one or more such political subdivisions. It provides that the district created under the provisions of this bill shall consist of the Mosquito Control Board of five members who shall hold office for terms of five years.

Section 4(b) of the bill grants power to the district to enter upon private property for inspecting, spraying, or any abatement which, in the opinion and judgment of the board, may be necessary or proper for the elimination of breeding places of mosquitoes.

Section 4(c) of the bill gives the board the power to order the owner of lands to abate such condition and if not done by the owner, the board may at once abate such nuisance and assess all or part of the cost against the land against which such breeding places exist. The board may likewise file municipal liens for such assessments.

Section 5 of the bill expands the power of the Mosquito Control District to include control work against flies, ticks or other insects affecting public health or welfare, subject, however, to the approval of the governing bodies comprising the district.

This bill supplants the Act of July 10, 1935, P. L. 641, which permits the county governing body to establish such districts only after a petition by a definite number of voters, which must be followed by a referendum. This bill would, in effect, repeal that section of the Act of 1935 notwithstanding that Section 8 of the bill provides that this bill shall not be construed to affect or repeal the Act of 1935, supra. In no place in the act do I note where a property owner has any recourse for protection against arbitrary rulings by the district board. There are no exemptions and the actions of the board could be almost, if not entirely, confiscatory. It may in some cases result in the most ruthless type of bureaucracy. It would seem that such a bill, even though idealistic in its purpose, places control in the hands of a few and grants no rights to property owners who have no opportunity to express themselves legally on the desirability of the creation of such district. It grants no right of appeal to a property owner, and might result finally in the taking of property without due process of law, which is a patent violation of the Constitution.

From a Constitutional standpoint also, I believe that this bill violates the provisions of Article 3, Section 20, which provides.

"The General Assembly shall not delegate to any special commission, private corporation or association, any power to make, supervise or interfere with any municipal improvement, money, property or effects, whether held in trust or otherwise, or to levy taxes or perform any municipal function whatever."

This bill undoubtedly sets up a commission over which, save in one instance, the municipal authorities have no control. It delegates to a special commission the power to supervise and interfere with municipal property, and is, I believe, in violation of this section.

This bill is opposed by the Department of Agriculture. For the foregoing reasons, the bill is not approved.

JAMES H. DUFF.

SENATE BILL No. 637 LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 637, returned by His Excellency, the Governor, without approval, be laid on the table.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

He also presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows:

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 310, PRINTER'S No. 114

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 5, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 310, Printer's No. 114, entitled "An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1050) entitled 'An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties county institution districts cities of the third class boroughs towns townships certain school districts and vocational school districts conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors courts and various officers of said political subdivisions and prescribing penalties' requiring taxing districts to pay the premiums on corporate bonds of tax collectors in boroughs towns and townships of the second class and fixing the time when such tax collectors shall file their bonds."

JAMES H. DUFF.

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 246, PRINTER'S No. 83

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 5, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 246, Printer's No. 83, entitled "An Act relating to trusts heretofore or hereafter created primarily for the benefit of employees under any stock bonus pension disability or death benefit profit-sharing or other employee-benefit plan and the application with respect thereto of any statute or rule of law against perpetuities accumulations or the suspension of the power of alienation."

JAMES H. DUFF.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time the Chair calls to the rostrum the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn, to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Weldon B. Heyburn) in the Chair.

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, during the past week-end the Yellow Cab Company in Philadelphia stopped using the share-the-ride plan which had been in effect there for some time. Thus, over the week-end it became one passenger to one cab and many of our people had to stand waiting and unable to get service.

Whether this was done upon the Yellow Cab Company's own volition or at the order of the Public Utility Commission is disputed but that is immaterial. The result is that a very inadequate taxi service has been made more so, a bad situation has been made serious and an already long-suffering public will now suffer not only longer but more intensely for lack of cab service.

The public is not interested in the Yellow Cab Company's excuse for failure to furnish adequate service. It has had plenty of time to do so and it has prevented others, most of them veterans, from giving taxicab service. The Yellow Cab Company has a tight monopoly and it wants to keep it. It wants to keep others from competing with it. It has opposed all applications for cabs and most successfully. In other words, the Yellow Cab Company will not furnish adequate cab service and it does not want anyone else to do so either. In this it has had the closest cooperation of the Public Utility Commission. That body is supposed to be an arm of this Legislature; it is supposed to be responsive to the sentiment of this body and of the public. It was created to protect the public from excessive rates and discrimination and to provide adequate service for the public.

However, the fine purpose of this legislation has been perverted to protect certain utilities at the expense of the public. It has been perverted to protect the investment of those utilities rather than to provide adequate service for the public. Its procedure reeks with delays. Cases drag on for years until, when a decision is finally made, it is then out of date and all parties are disgusted.

I call upon the Public Utility Commission to carry out the public trust vested in it by the Legislature. I call upon the Public Utility Commission to make effective immediately an order requiring and demanding the existing operators of taxicabs to increase their service without further delay. If they can not handle the situation promptly, and it seems obvious that they can not, since they have been given enough time and have failed to do so, I call upon the Public Utility Commission to raise the iron curtain and let veterans and others help furnish the cab service needed in Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I listened with a great deal of attention to the remarks just made by my friend from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart.

I am in full agreement with what the gentleman from Philadelphia said. Frankly, the trouble lies with the Public Utility Commission. I have it on reliable authority that the Yellow Cab Company of the city of Philadelphia has gotten orders from the Public Utility Commission to do away with the share-the-cab plan. Consequently it is their problem, it is their headache, if I may use the vernacular.

We have had trouble with other forms of service in Philadelphia, particularly with the Philadelphia Transportation Company, complaint after complaint has been made, but they have fallen upon deaf ears—with our subway program, with our elevated program and, last but not least, with the cab service.

After all, coming from the district that I do, and it is a very poor district where the people are primarily interested in the transportation service and I mean the trolley service, the subway service and the elevated service, where it costs them seven to ten cents a ride. They are not concerned with taxicabs, which are intended for men in the higher brackets.

However, in answer to my friend from Philadelphia I will say this much: I agree with him that the service is faulty and more so with the service as given to the poorer class of people, the average working man, and I will repeat that the Yellow Cab Company has gotten definite orders from our Public Utility Commission to do away with share-the-cab plans.

I have been finding fault with the Public Utility Commission for years; I found fault with their contract and activities in many of their rate cases and they have not changed one iota and it is high time that action was taken on some of my pleas to do away with the present Public Utility Commission and put in its place a Fair Rate Board which will properly do the bidding of the people.

RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION CHAPMAN PARK

Mr. BERGER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 9, 1947.

Whereas, a park and recreational area has been projected for establishment in the Township of Mead, County of Warren, by the Department of Forests and Waters in cooperation with various sportsmen's organizations, to be located generally in the location of what is known as Bucher's Mills, and

Whereas, the interest of Dr. Leroy E. Chapman, Senator from the Forty-eighth District, in the establishment and location of the said park and recreational area has been of great assistance in furthering the plans for the same, and

Whereas, it would be fitting that such a project for the benefit of the public, bear the name which would recognize the service to the community of such a man as Doctor Chapman; therefore be it

Resolved, if the House of Representatives concur, that the park and recreational area to be established at or near Bucher's Mills in Mead Township, Warren County, Pennsylvania, be and the same hereby is officially named "CHAPMAN PARK", and shall be so designated on the plans and maps of the Department of Forests and Waters and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION TO STUDY A NEW SOURCE OF WATER SUPPLY FOR THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

Messrs. LLOYD H. WOOD and WATSON offered the following resolution which was twice, read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 9, 1947.

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia is in need of a new source for its water supply, and

Whereas, Proposals and plans which have been presented to carry out such a project involve encroachments upon the waters and lands of counties surrounding the city of Philadelphia which in any event are inadequate to fulfill the great needs which a new source of water supply for the City of Philadelphia entails, therefore be it

Resolved, That the President pro tempore shall appoint a twelve-man committee composed of the Senators from Delaware, Montgomery, and Bucks counties; a Senator from the City of Philadelphia to be suggested by the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia; two citizens from Delaware County; two citizens from Montgomery County; and two citizens from Bucks County to be suggested by the county commissioners of their respective counties; and two citizens of the City of Philadelphia to be suggested by the Mayor of Philadelphia. The function of such committee shall be to reach an amicable agreement on the problem of a new source of water supply for the City of Philadelphia and to suggest the necessary legislation to effectuate its decisions in a report to be presented to the Senate of Pennsylvania when the next regular session of the General Assembly convenes.

The commission shall serve without compensation and shall choose a chairman from among its own membership. The commission, acting for and on behalf of the Senate, shall have power to meet, hold hearings and make its investigations whether or not the General Assembly is in special or regular session or is in adjournment.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

SCHOOL COMMISSION TO DELIVER ALL ITS FILES, REPORTS, ETC. TO THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

Mr. WADE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 9, 1947.

Whereas, The commission generally known as "The School Commission," created by the act of May 26, 1943 (P. L. 635) and continued by the act of May 24, 1945 (P. L. 953), for the purpose of making a study of public school finance, has completed its assigned task and is about to pass out of existence; and

Whereas, In the course of its studies, the commission has gathered a great deal of invaluable data and information, now contained in the commission's files, all of which should be preserved for future use; therefore, be it

Resolved, (If the House of Representatives concurs), That upon winding up its affairs The School Commission deliver all of its files containing all data, reports, material and information collected and compiled by it, to the Joint State Government Commission, to be by its preserved for use by it and such other agencies as may have occasion to study the financing of the public school system.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON BANKING FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL 620

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, on April 21 the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Rahauser, and myself introduced in the Senate a bill known as Senate Bill 620, the purpose of which was to set up a State Veteran's Loan Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to guarantee bank loans for veterans in the Commonwealth.

To this date, Mr. President, no consideration has been given this bill, notwithstanding the fact that it has been approved by the legislative committees of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the Amvets.

Mr. President, during this session of the General Assembly the returned veteran in Pennsylvania has found out that the shooting is over and so is the shouting.

We are now in the last week of our session and we have done nothing more constructive in either House than to give the crippled ex-soldier a free fishing license. That, Mr. President, is a far cry from the promises that we gave those boys when they were out risking life and limb during the last war.

This bill, Mr. President, was not something that was going to reach into the pockets of the citizenry of the Commonwealth; it was simply an agency which has been adopted in other states.

In the state of New Jersey this plan has been in effect for thirty-four months. It does not cost the state of New Jersey one penny. In fact, the state of New Jersey now shows a profit of $400,000 and seventy thousand veterans in New Jersey have taken advantages of the borrowing power of this act.

Mr. President, we are not asking in this bill that we duplicate any of the provisions of our Federal G. I. Bill of Rights; we are only asking that the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania set up an authority whereby veterans can be allowed to borrow money to start in business, to buy homes and to furnish them.

On behalf of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Rahauser and myself, with respect to further consideration of Senate Bill 620, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate consideration.

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON BANKING FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 620

Messrs. TARR and RAHAUSER offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, June 9, 1947.

Resolved, That the Committee on Banking be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 620, entitled "An Act to promote the welfare of the veterans of this Commonwealth creating a State Veterans' Loan Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to guarantee bank loans to Veterans to establish themselves in business or professions authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act prescribing the powers and duties of said Authority and making an appropriation." Said bill having been in the hands of said committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on April 21st.

MOTION THAT RESOLUTION BE ADOPTED

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I move the resolution be adopted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, this is a very exciting moment in my life—this is the first time that it has been suggested that the Committee on Banking be discharged from consideration of any bill.

With respect to Senate Bill 620, Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Fayette has made a very ample statement about the merits of the bill. I think there are good things in the bill. The co-sponsor, Mr. Rahauser, spoke before the committee and made a very able presentation for the bill. We had from New Jersey people who are administering the act in New Jersey and are doing it in a very splendid way.

The Committee on Banking of the Senate has considered the bill, we heard the proponents, and we have discussed it with the administrative leaders on both sides; Senator Rahauser discussed it with me within the week; and in view of the fact that we have sponsored a veterans' bonus and many other acts concerning veterans' legislation, we felt that the fiscal requirements of this bill were in excess of what the Commonwealth could undertake at the present time.

However, so that there may be no restriction of the rights of the sponsors of the bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Rahauser and the Senator who has just spoken, Senator Tarr, there is a meeting of the Committee on Banking of the Senate scheduled for tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, which previously had been announced, and these gentlemen are now invited to attend that meeting and they will be heard to the extent that they wish to discuss what the gentleman from Fayette has just said on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lebanon.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lebanon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BECKER. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, due to the fact that the gentleman from Lebanon says there will be a meeting of the Senate Committee on Banking tomorrow, will we then, under the present sine die adjournment resolution, have time to consider Senate Bill 620 both in the Senate and House?

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I would respond to the Senator from Fayette by saying that we have a number of legislative days left; we have other matters, grave and serious matters, on the calendar that will have to be concluded before the House and the Senate adjourn.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, in view of the explanation of the Senator from Lebanon, I now withdraw my resolution calling for the discharge of the Committee on Banking from further consideration of Senate Bill 620, until tomorrow, and I request that the resolution be laid upon the table.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, in view of the motion I wish to assure the Senators on the other side of the aisle that they will have a full and fair hearing tomorrow, not only for the Senators but for the veterans from whom they undertake to speak.

The resolution was laid upon the table.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY GENERAL FORM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 76

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am about to perform a duty which I do not particularly like, that of asking for the discharge of a Senate committee.

However, before doing so I believe that in fairness I should interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General, the Honorable Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Senator Walker, is it your intention to call a meeting of the Committee on Judiciary General some time today?

Mr. WALKER. As I understand the question it is: does the Committee on Judiciary General intend to meet today; is that correct?

Mr. DENT. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. The answer to that is in the negative, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on February 3, 1947, I introduced into the legislative hoper a bill known as the anti-K. K. K. bill, Senate Bill No. 76, enjoining and making unlawful certain organizations, the purposes, doctrines and practices of which discriminate against or persecute persons because of race, color or creed, or which deny or abridge them the rights, privileges and immunities granted them under the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the United States.

A bill which was introduced into this body some four months ago to destroy that arch foe of Democracy, the K. K. K., was referred to the Judiciary General where, despite promises to bring it to the floor, it has languished since that time.

First our friends on the committee told us it needed amendments, but so far none were offered. Then, we were told it was being embodied in Senate Bill No. 306, the Revised Criminal Code, but a careful search of that bill fails to find it. But a search of the new "Crimes Act" finds much against the other arch foes of democracy, the Communists.

So, by the Grace of God and the wishes of Judiciary General, the K. K. K. is allowed to carry on its nefarious hate program in Pennsylvania, despite Governor Martin's tirade against it, and despite Governor Duff's campaign promises to root out all subversive groups.

The Nation has been the happy hunting grounds of native-born fascist organizations under many names and many guises. They have been ably discussed by Carlson in his book "Under Cover", and its later successor, I believe, "The Plotters". Their numbers are legion, their methods alike—they all peddle hate against some segment of our population. They all would like to take possession of the accumulated resources of other people by driving them from our shores.

Frankly, I have never felt that the Nation ever had anything to fear from either a handful of Communists or Fascists. They have nothing to sell the people of America finer than Constitutional Government; they only have nuisance value. But, like dripping water, they can corrode and they can poison the minds of many Americans who normally would have no interest in their wares. They are a standing challenge to our patience. They have no claim to our traditional freedom of speech and fair play.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

One group, the K. K. K., has had a long and sordid history in America. You know it as well as I. These peddlers of hate, these men who profess an Americanism they do not understand or practice; these men who degrade the Constitution and would destroy it if they could; these men of intolerance who would make over America in their own image; these human termites, these hooded terrors, who are now riding the crest of bigotry and prejudice in the Nation and in this Commonwealth with impunity, have been condemned by all decent men and women throughout the Nation.

But condemnation is not enough. They must be outlawed and driven from our midst. These mechanical midgets, this mass of little bugs, surrounded by ghostly figures and doing their outrages in the obscurity of darkness, their ritual, a form of mass psychosis—must be ruthlessly destroyed.

We have witnessed the spectacle of the winners and the losers of World War No. 1 blame each other for the causes that started that war. The historians are already enmeshed in perplexity as to the claims and counterclaims as to who started this war. But we need not have any serious doubt as to who may bring about World War No. 3. We see it in the making under our eyes. On the one hand. We have Russia growing powerful, hungry for conquest, building a huge wall around herself that we may not enter and where Democracy, as we understand it, is not welcome.

Our peace-time armies and installations have been built to a size as large or larger than all our forces in World War No. 1; our young men—the leaders and thinkers of the future who have been taught peace and brotherhood at their mother's knees and in the churches of the land, are being taught the cynicism of war and how to be tough and how to use the weapons that kill and maim; we have seen our savings taken in taxes and spent on corrupt governments abroad and, under the guise of feeding the hungry abroad, have been spent to buy military bases and military alliances. We have seen our State Department rattle the saber; we have seen our ships sail to foreign shores in a spirit of defiance; we have seen our subservient press, baying like village curs in the light of the moon because their fellows do, peddling out a brand of propaganda initiated in the halls of our Government, in a manner reminiscent of the best Goebbels could do; we have seen incident piled on incident; we have seen provocative speeches made; until we shall soon learn, and the fathers and mothers of the growing sons of the land shall soon earn, that instead of Twenty-five years of peace between World War No. 1 and No. 2, it will only be ten years or less between World War No. 2 and World War No. 3, after which there will be no civilization left in the length and breadth of the world.

The only foreign policy we have—and it ought to be less foreign and more policy—is to oppose Russia on any of her frontiers, to deny her access to a warm water port, and thereby carry out the program of the British Foreign Office that she herself is no longer able to effect.

And why? All because the forces of reaction are back in the saddle, because it gives an issue to revive the failing political fortunes of our National Government; because the forces which have loved Fascism and Naziism and which went underground during the war have been invited to come out again in the open in a common cause against a people we do not like and on whom, with fiendish delight, some of our privileged classes would pour the destructive atom bomb, while, as they think, we have the superiority to do so.

I am not here to extol the philosophy of Russia. I do not subscribe to its lack of faith in a human Bill of Rights. I am aghast at its suppression of the right of freedom of the press, of assembly, and of religion, among its own people. I despise its feudalism, its subservience of the individual to the monstrosity of the State; of its social philosophy that degrades the dignity of human endeavor and makes virtual slaves of right-thinking men and women; I condemn without reservation its brutality; its contempt for democracy; its invasion by propaganda and force of other peace-loving nations.

But I can not forget that in the past War they were our Allies—not the Fascists and the Nazis; that 14,000,000 of their people died, in order that our sons may be spared to live, that it was their lands and homes and people that were ravaged by the most brutal nation that ever lived, a nation that the K. K. K. have revered as its idol. And I for one am not going to stand by in silence and see them declared the enemies of our people by the laws of our land, while those who stand for the things our sons fought and died to prevent are allowed to thrive and exist under our very noses.

America, the home of liberty and of liberalism, that was itself born in the cradle of revolution and against a form of tyranny we now embrace in our alliance with England, has become the spear-head of re-action around which all the forces that despise Russia's people can rally. We are now shaking the bloody hand of France; we are trafficking with Peron, the Argentine Dictator who is out Mussolining Mussolini; we are telling all the Fascist and Nazi World that the war we fought against them was a mistake.

For the last 170 some odd years, the political life of the country was carried on through the operation of two great parties. Both parties have been strong enough to prevent the growth of a permanent third party. The everyday problems of social and economic life debated and considered by one or the other of these great parties has been based upon the belief that we are living in the shadow of an immortal Constitution supporting a living and flourishing democracy, and based upon the belief that the right of the individual to enjoy his freedom under our Bill of Rights is paramount to the rights of any state or any minority group, especially such a group that violates the spirit of the Constitution.

Democracy is not always wise; it is not always fair; it is sometimes tyrannical and often hysterical. And it works poorly during a big crisis, when uncompromising, quick, decisive action is needed. But in spite of its many failures, it has broken the spell which has kept the governed in subjection to their governors. It has sought to banish fear from the hearts of men by substituting for an angry God, a kindly father, who has given reason to man, that by insight into God-given forces, he may fashion a clean and abundant life for himself and his fellow men. It is a government based on man-made and not time-made society; on the free play of individual forces; on the free exchange of ideas; on the principles of fair play and co-operation; on the belief that every man has his hour and everything its place. Was it not a wise old Greek who said: "The success of a republic depends upon frequent returns to the principles upon which it was founded." There has never been any room in any of these united sovereign states for the forces of intolerance and anti-Americanism, whether its color was red or any other color, and whether stemming from foreign born or native born.

Many fine names have been indelibly written in the chronicles of this beautiful chamber; many true hearts have throbbed here to the sweet song of democracy. Out of the dim recesses of the past, we have plucked the fire-brand of ignorance and intolerance, but God forbid that the day dawn when its flickering flames shall desecrate these walls. For the sake of those who have labored here before us, for the sake of those who will follow in our wake, let this not be the day or the place where we put our stamp of approval on any form of ugly intolerance, let us not make the first breach in the walls for tyranny to pass. Let us in the name of the great commonwealth that we honor and serve prove to everyone who may see or listen that this body dares to destroy the copper-heads in our midst. Let us say in the words of Holy Writ: "Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men."

Mr. President, I have before me an editorial that appeared recently, which contains an astounding statement. The editorial is entitled, "We Must Fight the Klan and All Hate Groups," and it goes on to say:

"There is something almost terrifying in the complacency with which the members of a Congressional sub-committee announced, after a ten-minute investigation, that there is no need for alarm over the resurgence of Fascist-type organizations in this country.

"The Ku Klux Klan, the Columbians, and other groups that make a career out of promoting racial and religious prejudice are thus dismissed as of no consequence and nothing to worry about."

Further on in the editorial it recites that Congressman McDowell of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the House Committee on Fascism, makes the astounding statement, and I quote from his statement, that: "We're not finding much in the way of things that could grow into Fascism. There are groups here that hate Catholicism and hate Jewry and hate one thing and another, but, as far as I can find, there is no evidence they are dangerous."

In this file, Mr. President, I have just a small amount of material that I have gathered in the past few years from organizations whose whole concept of Americanism is one to sow hatred, is one that would tear from us the unity of man towards man. These groups have recently come up out of the ground where they had hidden during the war. Right here in Chambersburg we have a man who has had the audacity to proclaim through public advertisement the fact that the Ku Klux Klan is again in existence and that he is the Grand Kleagle of that organization and is asking for membership.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, there are men and women in this state of ours who would blame all the evils, all the ills of this state, upon a certain racial group, and there are men who go so far to print what they think, and I have in this file here, where anybody can examine it, letters, propaganda, pamphlets that bear out my opinion. Here is a letter that I would like to read to the members of the Senate. I do not believe that any person in this room subscribes to the philosophy contained in this letter, and yet here it is where all men can see it, and signed, too, by a man who claims to be the National Chairman—this is from the Protestant War Veterans of the United State, Inc. This organization was incorporated under an act of Congress of the United States for the District of Columbia. They start out with a very fine slogan, one that no man can find fault with. It says here that they believe in "honoring our heroic dead by helping the wounded" and then this is what they have to say, and this is addressed to me.

PROTESTANT WAR VETERANS OF THE UNITED STATES INCORPORATED

1211-A Connecticut Avenue, N. W.
Washington, D. C.

Hon. John H. Dent.
State Senate
Harrisburg, Penna.

"Dear Senator Dent:

"Your proposed bill to outlaw "The Klan" is both unconstitutional as well as unAmerican, and if The Klan in Pennsylvania stands for it, this organization will come in there with both feet, and make the Great State of Pennsylvania the battleground to restore, we said restore, the full rights of the Federal Constitution to the only free men of America, the Protestant majority.

"Thomas Dewey, Governor of the State of New York under the direction of the Anti-Defination League (a Jewish organization) one of the most vicious unAmerican units in the country, with its informers and spies in all patriotic groups, but Tom Dewey has at long last awakened to the fact that he signed his political death warrant as far as the Republican nomination in 1948 is concerned, he could not be elected as national dog catcher now, or at any other time.

"Any American, and especially native born, has the right to organize themselves, in order to defend and protect their rights under our Federal Constitution, and you better go and read it, but the Knight of Columbus has no right, for it is truly a foreign agent, just as is the Communist party, for Rome is a Sovereign State, and my authority is none other than our Department of State, here in Washington, D. C. so go ahead, we need to fight this issue before the American people in the courts, uncontrolled, yes the United States Supreme Court, that's where to settle this issue."

This communication is signed Edward James Smythe, National Chairman of the Protestant War Veterans of the United States, Incorporated.

You may think that is a laughing matter but here is an organization constituted under an act of the United States Congress that allows its national commander to go on record with statements of this kind.

You believe, some of you, that there is no danger to groups in this state who do not believe in God in the same way that you and I do, you do not believe there is any danger to the health and welfare of these groups but, as a young man, I can remember the blazing cross that was burned not too far from my back door because my people had been brought up in the Catholic faith. I can remember when men were taken out in the night, in the small mining community in which I was born, taken out along back roads of that community and beaten to within an inch of their lives and taken home and dumped upon the back porch of a miserable coal shanty. I can remember when this was common. No. Mr. President, it is not common any more but just as surely as we sit here in this Senate this afternoon, when we refuse, for whatever reason, to take specific action when that opportunity is presented to us, to show that we disagree with these concepts of American democracy and constitutional rights, then we are aiding and abetting those who would again revive the law of fear and the law of hatred.

I say to you men of the Senate of Pennsylvania that this bill should not die in the Committee on Judiciary General, that there is too much at stake. When all of us are fighting for our national life, shoulder to shoulder fighting against any encroachment upon American democracy by any foreign ideologies, why should we show any weakness or disunity against those who would destroy from within. There is not a man in this room who would not vote immediately to set up any kind of restrictive legislation against communism as such, and yet we are not courageous enough to vote against something which, to my mind, is even more dangerous—that type of hidden government that comes out only in the light of the moon, to take innocent men or their families and to hear again the shrieking children at night and the weeping women because their husbands and fathers have been taken out into the unknown by a group of hooded men who have not the courage to show their faces to their fellow men.

This is going on in this state of ours today. In the month of March there were three crosses burned by this invisible group in Beaver county, there were seven crosses burned in Westmoreland county.

The burning of these crosses is symbolic of the hatred that this group has in their hearts. They hate for the mere desire of hating. They have a conception of government foreign to that that I believe in. Every paper in the state of Pennsylvania, and I can show editorials to prove it, immediately upon presentation of this bill, wrote editorials something along these lines—"Outlaw the Klan"—this is from the Philadelphia Daily News of February 5, the day after the bill was introduced, and which reads as follows:

"OUTLAW THE KLAN

"Short work should be made of the measure introduced in the legislature yesterday by Sen. John H. Dent, Westmoreland Democrat, under the terms of which the Ku Klux Klan and all other similar bigoted and intolerent organizations would be outlawed in Pennsylvania. This measure should be the answer to the persons who, taking advantage of the fact that there was no prosecution during an investigation of the KKK last year, are organizing again and have solicited openly members for the hate outfit, particularly in Franklin county, where H. H. Sheppard, a Chambersburg businessman is the chief. In another column on this page today, Sheppard discloses the same arrogant, defiant attitude for the principles of Americanism that has characterized the organization he represents. The letter, an example of the mass mentality of persons who belong to such associations, also discloses the familiar cry that they are "good Americans," belong to church and are useful citizens.

"It is difficult to see how anyone, regardless of whether they attend church regularly, vote on election day or tend their business like decent citizens, can claim to be a good American when they subscribe to such principles as those promulgated by the klan and its subordinate groups. The deviousness of their activities is shown by the weaseling on the word "incorporated" which is used as a device to escape the law as it stands now.

"On the other hand, if the Dent act is enacted quickly, the plans of these organizations can be nipped in the bud before they go far. The measure contains teeth sufficiently sharp to make it extremely uninteresting for promoters of such organizations to engage in activities that will bring them afoul of the law, and to those who feel that it is their inherent right to belong to such groups and abridge, by violence and intimidation, the rights of other citizens.

"There is nothing that should be left undone to rid Pennsylvania of the klan and its kindred units. This commonwealth is no place for them to breed."

Mr. President and members of the Senate, I have refrained until the last day from taking the action that I am now taking, having faith at all times that this committee would present this bill for a fair vote of the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania. Time after time I have gone to the chairman. He has told me that it needed amendments. I said, "Mr. Chairman, put your amendments in, I do not care how you amend this bill so long as you do not destroy its purpose; I am not selfish nor am I one who is imbued with a pride of authorship; I am willing to remove my name as sponsor if it will help passage of this bill; I am not a bit interested in who puts the bill in; I am interested in seeing the job done," and I say to the Republican members of this Senate that no standpatism on any so-called rule of the Senate, unwritten as it is, that you can not vote for discharge of a committee, shall take away from you as individuals the onus of having defeated this legislation when I ask for the discharge of this committee.

As a last minute hope I interrogated the chairman of that committee in the hope that there would be another meeting of that committee. You all know that the sine die adjournment resolution has been adopted; you all know that to all intents and purposes this is the last week of this session of the Legislature and in order that we may pass this legislation we must act today.

The committee chairman has stated it is not the intention of that committee to have a meeting today.

Therefore the only manner in which you as individual members of the Senate, and as Americans, can vote for this piece of legislation, to strengthen our believe in the constitutional conceptions which we all believe in, is to vote at this time to discharge this committee from any further consideration of Senate Bill No. 76 and bring it before the Senate, where all men can be counted as to how they stand.

For years and years and years and years I have disbelieved the bugaboo of tradition. I believe that tradition is often used to hide the weakness of the person. The members of this Senate must stand up upon this vote. Just as I said to the members of the Senate on the vote to recommit the oleo bill, at that time I made the statement that a vote to recommit was a vote for or against that particular bill. The actions of this committee have upheld my contention at that time. And so I say to you again today that your vote for or against the discharge of this committee will tell the people of Pennsylvania how you feel for or against this type of legislation. You may salve your own consciences by hiding behind tradition but you can not take away from yourselves your personal obligation to vote in order that this bill may be presented where all men can be counted for what they stand for.

I want to say to you, Mr. President, that many and many a man, many a youth, died in the sincere belief that this group or any other courageous group of legislators would have the courage to tamp out, if given the opportunity, this type of organized hatred, organized bigotry.

I have before me a telegram received from Indianaopolis, stating that the Legislature there has passed this same bill, outlawing the Ku Klux Klan in that fair state. All over the United States men and women have taken into consideration that, if we are to march together to a more peaceful world, we have got to march as men and women tolerating each other's beliefs. We talked a good game—now let us see if we can play a good game.

Mr. President, I offer for consideration of the Senate a resolution calling for the discharge of the Committee on Judiciary General from further consideration of Senate Bill 76, and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY GENERAL FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 76

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, June 9, 1947.

Resolved, That the Committee on Judiciary General be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 76, entitled, "An Act enjoining and making unlawful certain organizations, the purposes, doctrines, advocations or practices of which, discriminate against or persecute persons because of their race, creed or color; or which deny or abridge the rights, privileges and immunities granted to the people under the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the United States; and prescribing penalties." Said bill having been in the hands of said committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on February 3rd.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in reply, I would like to say for the information of the members of the Senate, without attempting to discuss the remarks made by the gentleman from Westmoreland, that this bill was considered by the committee on several different occasions. At one time I believe, if memory serves me rightly, the committee invited the gentleman from Westmoreland, the sponsor of the bill, to appear before them and discuss the matter.

The question as to whether or not the bill would stand up and do the things the sponsor anticipated was discussed by the committee. The question as to whether or not the remedy which the sponsor of the bill is seeking was contained in the penal code, which had already passed this Senate and is in the House, was also discussed by the committee.

When the bill was considered in the committee, and since the resolution was presented and seconded by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, I have been trying to recall whether the seconder of the resolution was present at the time the bill was considered in committee. I am also trying to recall, Mr. President, whether or not there was ever a motion made to report the bill from committee: To the best of my knowledge—and I submit this question of fact to the members of the committee who were present as to whether or not this is correct—I do not recall any motion being made, even by the seconder of this discharge resolution who is a member of the committee which he is now seeking to discharge, to get this bill out of committee.

It was too, the firm opinion of most members of the committee, who were considering the bill and studying the penal code, that the remedy that the gentleman from Westmoreland is attempting to apply to this organization is already in the penal code and therefore a separate bill was not necessary. This information was transmitted at the time the penal code was on the floor to the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. President, I appreciate the desire of the gentleman from Westmoreland to have the remedy applied and I again wish to say to him that in my opinion the remedy is in the penal code which has already passed this Senate.

I also want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that in spite of his assertion I will not agree with him that a vote not to discharge the committee of which I am chairman indicates that I am in sympathy with the Ku Klux Klan or any similar organization. That would be a stretch of the imagination that I do not think the gentleman from Westmoreland is attempting to apply. He suggested, if we vote "no" on this resolution, that we are asserting our position with regard to our personal opinions of the Ku Klux Klan. That, Mr. President, is not the case. The action on the bill was taken entirely on its merits and not with any religious or racial emotions, and the gentleman from Westmoreland knows that full well.

I do not propose to debate on the floor of this Senate whether or not I can be classified by the gentleman from Westmoreland as pro or con with regard to the Ku Klux Klan. He knows my position very well on that point and I do not think he is attempting to attack either the chairman of the committee or any member of the committee personally with regard to his position on a racial or religious group of this type.

In my opinion, Mr. President, the bill has been very fairly viewed by the committee, the committee honestly felt that the provisions of the bill were contained in the penal code, the code has already passed the Senate, as has been pointed out to the sponsor of this bill, Senate Bill 76, at the time the penal code was before us, and I think that under the circumstances nothing can be gained by having a repetition of what is already in the penal code.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, with regard to the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, concerning my seconding of the motion, I would like to state that I was at the meeting the day this bill was discussed. At that time the chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General said he thought probably this bill needed a little amendment, or some amendments and, further, he felt it was going to be covered in the new penal code.

Since that time we found it is not in the penal code and he has been so advised and he has not brought this bill up for discussion before the committee.

Secondly, the gentleman reiterated a statement made here some weeks back, when he said he did not think a vote "no" to recommit Senate Bill 190 was a vote against the oleomargarine bill. At that time I told the gentleman from Allegheny I thought it was a vote to kill the bill, and the gentleman has so found out since, because that bill has never seen the light of day since then and that same thing holds here today.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I know that lengthy discussion will not gain any votes. However, in order to clarify the situation I want to state, in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to the democratic viewpoint upon the question of discharge of committees, in 1933, when the Democratic party had thirty members in the House of Representatives, they attempted on numerous occasions to discharge committees of the House and the Republican majority at that time stood upon tradition and stated that such a motion could not be tolerated under the rules of the House.

In 1935 I became a member of the House of Representatives and the Republican minority had a total membership, I believe, of 83 votes or 85—I forget exactly what it was at the moment. The first act of the Democratic majority, Mr. President, was to change the rules in order that any committee of the House of Representatives could be discharged by a vote of the minority. We have always taken the position that any legislation introduced is entitled to a full hearing of the legislative body in the branch in which that legislation has been introduced.

Two years later, when the Republicans again had a majority in the House of Representatives, we found that they immediately changed that rule to where it took a constitutional majority to discharge a committee.

For years, Mr. President, I have fought in the Senate for this same principle of democracy, that if a minority group has legislation it feels is important to the welfare of its constituency, the people of Pennsylvania, it ought to have the right to discharge the committee that holds that legislation. Never in the history of this Commonwealth have committee chairmen taken the autocratic position that they take in the Pennsylvania State Senate at this time. In the main, Mr. President, you can not call up legislation introduced into that committee unless the autocratic chairman so desires and so proclaims; in most instances the chairman comes before the committee with a list of bills and you will either work on the bills that he wants worked on or you work on nothing. The chairmanships of committees are the controlling factors in legislation in Pennsylvania at this time and I want to say to the members of the Senate that it is a far cry from the democratic spirit that set up the standing committees of the Senate of Pennsylvania because, Mr. President, membership on a committee means absolutely nothing, and I say that from a little experience in this Commonwealth. When the Democratic party was in control the only legislation discussed in committee was that which was called up by the members of the committee; the chairman was nothing but a man who sat there as chairman and took the votes "yes" or "no".

Now, Mr. President, the position has been reversed and committee membership means nothing, whether you are a majority member or a minority member, you all have the same equal status, you do not amount to anything, you are just a number on a page and a name on a list; the chairman says what bills you will take up and the chairman tells you which bills will come from committee, and therefore I say to you men that I reaffirm the position I first took that a vote to discharge this committee at this time is a vote in the interest of good decent, clean government in Pennsylvania and a vote against it is a vote to help those groups who would seek to sow the seeds of hate throughout the length and breadth of this Commonwealth.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I do not propose to discuss the issues of this bill upon which a motion has been made to discharge the committee. I rise again to state a position and in addition to that I rise to say that this side of the Senate is not going to be impressed, nor is it going to be intimidated, by the threats or statements of the gentleman from Westmoreland, who believes that because he stands on the floor of this Senate and makes a statement that everyone within his hearing must of necessity agree with him.

Mr. President, this matter of discharging committees is not a new maneuver in this Senate; it is one that, just like the spring flowers, always comes up at this time of the year from the other side of this Chamber.

I have some little resentment, Mr. President, to the gentleman's statement that every committee chairman in this Senate is an autocratic person who determines to do just what he will whenever he wants to do it. I think the gentleman from Westmoreland will, upon further consideration, retract a portion of that statement, certainly as it affects certain members of the Senate who are chairmen of committees, and I want to say that this side is going to take the position—and this will not be the first nor the last of these motions—that we will stand fast by the orderly way of doing business in this Senate and not permit a committee to be discharged upon this kind of motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it seems I always have to refer to the record. If the stenographer will read that portion of my statement in which I said that in the main committee chairmen are autocratic in their attitudes I think it will clarify the situation so far as the position taken by me is concerned—I need not say I said so-and-so; we will just let the stenographer read exactly what I said relative to that matter.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the gentleman from Westmoreland request that the reporter read back the statement in question?

Mr. DENT. I do, Mr. President.

(The reporter repeated from Senator Dent's previous remarks as follows:

"—Never in the history of this Commonwealth have committee chairmen taken the autocratic position that they take in the Pennsylvania State Senate at this time. In the main, Mr. President, you can not call up legislation introduced into that committee unless the autocratic chairman so desires and so proclaims; in most instances the chairman comes before the committee with a list of bills and you will either work on the bills that he wants worked on or you work on nothing—")

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as the gentleman from Lehigh just said, about this time in the year every session there are quite a number of motions made to discharge the Committee on Judiciary General from further consideration of various bills. Due to the work the committee performs and the bills that are referred to it, there are frequently bills in that committee that members would like to get out of committee, of which the committee does not approve.

The question of discharging committees resolves itself into the question of whether or not that bill has been considered. I think the gentleman from Westmoreland will admit that his bill was considered by the Senate Committee on Judiciary General.

Secondly, Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland referred to the actions of the committee at committee meetings, where the practice has been to inquire if there is any bill in committee any member would like to discuss and never at any time has this particular bill, Senate Bill 76, been brought up by any member of the committee.

I do not think the Committee on Judiciary General has dealt unfairly with the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, they have given him every consideration that the merits of the bill warrant and they have even extended themselves because of the fact that he has been and is on very friendly terms with the members on both sides of the aisle and with the members of the committee.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am not going to try to go back to the actual words of the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, but I am going to refer to the arrogant chairman of the Committee on Highways. At a meeting of that committee last week, attended by eighteen members, I asked him to consider House Bill 508, which passed the House by a vote of 196 to 5, which in the main states that the State Highway Department—and this is a "may" bill—may take over bridges in first-class cities, because the State Highway Department does maintain the bridges in every borough and every township and in the first-class cities of this state—and he, in his usual arrogant way said, "This bill will not be discussed" and he further went on and told me that he had made a deal. I asked him with whom and he said "with some of your city officials." Mr. President, I have checked and he made no deal at all with any city official. I understand he did talk with a couple of civic-minded people who were down here and more interested in another bill, and that is with whom he made the deal. I informed the gentleman how the officials of the city of Pittsburgh and the county of Allegheny County feel and he said "You might just as well keep quiet, we are not going to discuss your bill."

Mr. President, I reiterate that the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, was entirely right in his statement, because we have the most arrogant chairman of all as chairman of the Committee on Highways in the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the motion is to discharge the Committee on Judiciary General and I resent the attempt to bring the Committee on Highways in on my territory. I think if we are going to make remarks about autocratic chairmen we ought to take them one at a time; I think the gentleman should take up his quarrels one at a time. Let me be the villain at the moment.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, Mr. Tallman, the majority leader, stated that discharging committees is not orderly procedure, but it is the only thing you can do when you have a situation like this in the Senate. Under Rule 43 the right to discharge a committee is granted, requiring a majority vote of all members elected to the Senate. Therefore that is orderly procedure and I do not want the impression to be given that it is something that is not done by legislative methods because it is the only right we have to show how certain people vote on bills they are pickling and on which they do not want the public to know how they stand, this is our only way to do that, by voting to discharge the committee and letting the record show how they vote. The record of votes given today by the various individuals, when a vote is taken on a motion to discharge a committee, is the same as voting for or against a bill.

In this case a vote "no" to discharge the committee is a vote in favor of continuing the Ku Klux Klan in Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and Mr. DENT and was as follows, viz:

YEAS—16

Barr,	Holland,	Leader,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Margie,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Klein,	Rahauser,	Tarr,
Haluska,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,	Woodring,

NAYS—34

Becker,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Walker,
Berger,	Frazier,	Scarlett,	Watson,
Blass,	Geltz,	Snowden,	Wilson,
Carr,	Hare,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Tallman,	Wood, L. H.,
Crider,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Wood, T. N.,
Crowe,	Letzler,	Tyler,	Heyburn,
Doehla,	Lord,	Wade,	Presiding Officer
Donlan,	Mahany,	Wagner,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to hear that total vote again?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The vote as announced was 16 "ayes" and 34 "nays" and therefore the motion fails.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I believe this to be one of those important votes where the individual has a personal preference in the matter. I note that there is at least one empty chair and that individual may not desire to have his name catalogued with those who voted to keep this type of legislation in committee.

I never objected to a man being recorded on any measure that deals with other than something of a personal nature. The way a man feels about this legislation is personal and not academic and, therefore, I do believe that in fairness to the individual who is missing that he should not be recorded at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For the information of the gentleman from Westmoreland somebody answered when the name of that individual was called. No verification has been asked for.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask that his name be stricken from the roll; he is not in the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair has no right to strike the name of any Senator from the roll.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, it is perfectly all right with us if you want to leave it that way.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman has a right to ask that the roll be verified.

Mr. TARR. No, Mr. President, that is all right.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have discussed this matter with certain individuals and I think they might not like having their names so listed. However, that is a matter for the Chair, the decision has been made and I go along with it.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL 629 AND SENATE BILL 127.

Mr. DENT. I have before me, Mr. President, a group of bills. These bills, Mr. President, represent in toto the labor program for Pennsylvania, designed to give to labor those benefits and rights promised by both political parties in their campaigns last year. In these bills you will find, Mr. President, that we are asking for increased benefits for workmen's compensation, increased benefits for unemployment compensation; we are asking, Mr. President, that unemployment compensation be put on a state-wide basis, whereby merit rating would apply to all industries and all employers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, when the fund reaches a certain low and a certain high level.

In these bills, Mr. President, you will find that we try to bring to Pennsylvania's workmen, in substance, legislation that would put them on a par legislatively with men who work for a living in neighboring and comparable states.

For instance in workmen's compensation, Mr. President, we find that the Pennsylvania acts are all elective, which employers accept or reject. We find that the benefits, according to the Division of Labor Standards for the United States Department of Labor as of June, 1946, are as follows: for fatal injuries, Pennsylvania pays for three hundred weeks; all states except Vermont pay for higher periods. In Pennsylvania we find that Pennsylvania pays $12 a week maximum to the widow, and all states except Delaware, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and West Virginia pay more. In Pennsylvania we find that the permanent total disability maximum is $20 a week, $10 a week minimum, and the actual wage if $5 a week is not earned. States paying up to $30 are California, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Hawaii, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Utah, Wisconsin, U. S. Civil employes and longshoremen. Pennsylvania pays for a time limit of 500 weeks. The states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Massachusetts, Nevada, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and U. S. Civil employes of the United States Government pay for life. Pennsylvania pays a total limit of $10,000 when a man loses his life in industry. States paying unlimited are Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, New Jersey, South Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, U. S. Civil employes. Other states paying more than Pennsylvania are Connecticut, Delaware, Michigan, Montana, Oklahoma, Rhode Island and Wyoming.

Mr. President, it is unbelievable that this state, which once stood forty-fifth out of the forty-eight states in its payment of benefit payments to injured workmen in the Commonwealth, and then in 1935 and 1937 was raised to ninth in the entire United States, has again dropped back to the thirty-eighth position in this great commonwealth of states.

Mr. President, this is a great industrial and mining state. The manner in which we treat our workmen by law is known to every workman all over the United States. I say to you that this rich and flourishing state of Pennsylvania has been niggardly in its payments to men injured in work, engaged in industry and mining, niggardly in its payments. Those of us who have fought for better and higher payments and longer periods of payment to injured workmen in Pennsylvania believe Pennsylvania should increase its payments. At every session of the Legislature since 1939, when the Republican administration took over under Governor James, we have attempted to increase benefits for workmen.

You will all remember how, in 1939, under Governor James, the bill of 1937 was emasculated with dire results to men who work for a living. In this administration and in this year of our Lord we find the only labor bills are those which restrict privileges of labor, restrict and deprive them of their rights. This is the type of legislation that is promoted for the health and welfare of men and women who work in industry, men and women who work deep in the mines, in the bowels of the earth, creating that wealth which we share.

Mr. President, I will not present to the Chair resolutions asking for the discharge of committees on all these bills but I assure the Chair that if we were operating under democratic processes of government and the minority could by unanimous vote call to the floor any piece of legislation in the legislative hopper, I would ask this body to go on record as to how the members stand on this important legislation, but I say this is symbolic of our attempt to bring before the Senate of Pennsylvania worthwhile legislation, aimed to give greater benefits to those who create the wealth which we share.

Under unemployment compensation Pennsylvania has a variable duration of from nine to twenty weeks. Fourteen states pay for a total number of weeks greater than Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania pays for twenty weeks and, under this misconception of a liberal bill that was recently passed, they took away certain benefits from men who are unemployed that tended to increase the number of weeks to twenty four and industrial history proves, Mr. President, that when a person is unemployed for six months that he has pretty nearly reached the stage of permanent unemployment.

However, Mr. President, I say to you that what we ought to do is to increase the weekly benefit and let the number of weeks expand, if necessary.

I will not read the contents of the Pennsylvania law, because most of the men in this Senate ought to be acquainted with it. I will say, however, that I ask that these resolutions be given a reading and ask for their immediate consideration and adoption.

Mr. President, both of these resolutions ask for the discharge of the Committee on Labor and Industry, one from further consideration of Senate Bill 629, dealing with workmens compensation, and also Senate Bill 127, dealing with unemployment compensation.

So, Mr. President, at this time and without further argument in favor of these resolutions, I present to the Chair the following resolutions and ask their immediate adoption:

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 629

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, June 9, 1947.

Resolved, That the Committee on Labor and Industry, be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 629, entitled, "An Act to further reenact and amend the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled as amended, 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder; and prescribing penalties,' changing maximum and minimum rates, periods, total amounts and aggregate of compensation, changing the system of computation of wages for compensation purposes, changing practice and rules of evidence, defining earning power after personal injury, authorizing the board to terminate compensation in certain cases, changing the classes of dependents entitled to compensation in case of death, changing powers, and duties of the board and imposing additional penalties, authorizing the department, the board and the referees to approve compromise agreements in certain cases and generally amending, clarifying and changing the provisions of said act." Said bill having been in the hands of said Committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on April 22nd.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the bills the gentleman from Westmoreland has referred to in his remarks, and from which he is now asking that the Committee on Labor and Industry be discharged from further consideration, are in the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. President, I believe the gentleman from Westmoreland will be honest enough to admit that at each meeting of the Committee on Labor and Industry the chairman of that committee has announced that there are numerous bills in his hands and that any bill before the committee was there for consideration if called up.

Up until this moment, Mr. President, no member of the committee, including the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, who is a member, or his minority colleagues, have called up any of the bills to which he refers and concerning which he asks the Committee on Labor and Industry to be discharged from further consideration of those bills.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have in my possession letters to the chairman asking that these bills be given consideration and public hearings. The committee chairman refused the request. Therefore, there was no other position that we could take than that the committee chairman decided that such bills were not considered and, according to his statement, are not considered by the committee and were not before the committee for consideration.

I want to add that when the resolutions have been voted upon I want to submit to the Chair, with the permission of the majority, a list of all the bills that we as the minority feel ought to be voted on by this group in the open Senate, and I would like to have inserted into the records of the Legislative Journal the numbers of various bills that we believe have been buried in committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—16

Barr,	Holland,	Leader,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Margie,	Stiefel,

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION
OF SENATE BILL No. 127

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, June 9, 1947.

Resolved, That the Committee on Labor and Industry, be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 127, entitled, "An Act to further amend section four hundred four of the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937-P. L. 2897), entitled, 'An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties,' changing the schedule of weekly payments and making of uniform duration the period in which such payments are made." Said bill having been in the hands of the said Committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on February 10th.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise in place not to move to discharge a committee but to make an appeal for a bill that I presented to this body on the twenty-seventh day of January, Senate Bill 43, which is resting peacefully in the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. President, this bill is of great interest to every person in this chamber and to every human residing in Pennsylvania. I am hoping that I may be able to influence the Committee on Public Health and Welfare to call a meeting today and report this bill out.

This bill, Mr. President, deals with life in itself. This bill provides that every person who may be a blood donor at any hospital or any doctor's office must first undergo a Wassermann test. We have in this great Commonwealth thousands upon thousands of people daily who are called upon to perform blood transfusions and we have found in every hospital that innocent people are getting transfusions from donors whose bloodstreams are not pure, we are injecting into the bloodstreams of innocent people diseases of all types known to mankind. God forbid, but if one of us were stricken today, we must submit ourselves to the routine of the hospital of asking for a blood transfusion from some donor picked up in the street and all they want to know is the blood type. The day must come, Mr. President, when we must be more cautious. It is certainly unfair to any man or woman, boy or girl, who is living a good clean life and, because he may be stricken and called upon to have a blood transfusion and then find, when he leaves that hospital, that he is no longer fit to be called a decent citizen.

They may say that a Wassermann test is given before a transfusion is performed but I say to you, Mr. President, that upwards of ninety-five per cent of transfusions are given of raw blood from person to person, without taking any test or any precaution as to the type of blood taken from one human and given to another.

I thought by this time this Senate would have brought this bill out. It is non-political and it means so much to each and every one of us but, for some unknown reason, the bill never came to light.

So I make this short speech today, hoping the chairman may reconsider his actions and call a meeting of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare and report this bill out so that it may pass before the last day of this session.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare I desire to state that every bill that has been committed to our committee has been considered by the committee, there has been nothing held back at any time; every bill that came into my possession was submitted to the committee on one or more occasions and action taken thereon.

In connection with this particular bill it was the thought of the Department of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that it was unworkable and that it could not be carried into effect and that there were other provisions that accomplished most of what was intended by this bill.

I might say further, Mr. President, that I have already requested the majority leader, at some time during this afternoon's session, to call a brief recess in order that we may hold a meeting of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, particularly for consideration of House Bill 1062, but other bills can be considered and I expect to bring up for consideration several other bills at that time. However, this bill is not one of them and unless by action of the committee they request that it be brought up again, it will not be brought up.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Carr.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the gentleman from Butler stated that the Department of Health has made the remark that this bill might be unworkable. Will the gentleman please tell me what he means by unworkable?

Mr. CARR. Yes, Mr. President, I can tell the gentleman one instance in which it might be unworkable. The bill prevents the use of blood transfusions without taking a Wassermann test, which would prevent the use of a transfusion in the event of an accident on the street, where an immediate blood transfusion is necessary and there is no time for a Wassermann test and then, if the patient dies, we are responsible for passing this law.

Mr. HALUSKA. No, Mr. President, because under this bill it is provided that in emergencies they may perform transfusions without having a Wassermann test. I may further point out to the gentleman from Butler that the boys on the battlefield had transfusions with blood plasma and that every hospital and every doctor has blood plasma in his possession and by the use of blood plasma you will definitely assure there is no disease present.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I may say to the gentleman from Cambria that I have no personal animus against this bill, none whatsoever. This bill was considered by the committee and it was the consensus of opinion of the committee that it was not essential legislation. What prompted other members of the committee to vote that way I do not know but I know, for myself, I personally have no animus against the bill and would have been glad to see it come out if the committee so thought. Therefore, Mr. President, I do not assume personal responsibility for the bill not being brought out. I only assume responsibility, as chairman of the committee, to freely allow members of that committee to act. That I believe is all that is required and all that could be required of any chairman of a committee.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not accuse the gentleman from Butler personally. That is one reason I did not ask for the discharge of his committee.

However, Mr. President, since the gentleman from Butler has informed this body that he intends to call a meeting of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare today, I am asking him and his committee to sincerely reconsider Senate Bill 43 and if it be found that the bill is not properly drawn with regard to emergencies, certainly it can be amended. I want to point out once again, Mr. President, that in cases of emergencies they are permitted to perform transfusions without a Wassermann test. I also wish to point out again that every hospital has blood plasma and in any emergency they can give plasma rather than raw blood.

I think this is a mighty important bill, Mr. President, and I say again it means much to humanity. One of us may next be called and certainly none of us would hope to have a transfusion performed and used on one of our loved ones and find out that syphilitic blood has been poured into our stream unknown to us.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, Senate Bill 43 will be in the possession of the chairman of the committee when the committee next meets and if the committee desires action on it, although previously postponed indefinitely, they can have action on the bill.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HARE from the Committee on Elections, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 865, entitled:

An Act to amend section one hundred six of the act, approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by providing that notices may be published in certain newspapers in certain cases.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOODRING, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 864, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the eleventh day of April, one thousand eight hundred sixty-eight (P. L. 864), entitled "An act relative to the election of commissioner's clerk in the County of Northampton".

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LETZLER, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1014, entitled:

An Act to further amend the fifth paragraph of section three hundred five of the act, approved the twentieth day of November, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 15—1933-34), entitled, as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," permitting for a limited period of time wines to be sold without having affixed to the package the official seal of the board.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SNOWDEN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1327, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for the expenses involved in licensing and regulating certain private schools and classes.

Mr. LORD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LORD, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 858, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-one of the act, approved the twentieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 122

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, under the order of resolutions I would like to present a resolution but before doing so I would like to make a very brief statement, and I mean brief. I do not do it by way of spring planting, as was suggested by my good friend, the gentleman from Lehigh, nor do I do it by way of any personal difference with any of the members of the majority side.

On February 10 I introduced Senate Bill 122, which would set up a Department of Civil Service for state employees. This bill, to my knowledge, has not been considered, it certainly has not been reported out, and I think it rates a very special and serious order of business. So long as we continue patronage in Pennsylvania we are going to continue poor government, we are going to continue costly government, our annual budgets are going to increase, so that instead of as in 1947, the biennial budget being almost one billion dollars, we are going to soon exceed that figure and the caliber of our government is not going to improve.

In addition to that, Mr. President and members of the Senate, statewide civil service for state employees would mean that we would get a better quality of employee, we could expect better service and we could certainly expect more faithful service from the men and women working for the state government, in the knowledge that they are secure in their positions.

Advocating this type of change in government is not new; it has been adopted by many of the leading states. As a matter of fact, Pennsylvania is one of the very few industrial states that does not have statewide civil service.

I therefore, Mr. President, present to the Chair the following resolution and ask for its immediate consideration.

RESOLUTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 122

Mr. WOODRING offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, June 9, 1947

Resolved, That the Committee on State Government be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 122, entitled, "An Act creating a state civil service department to be administered by a director and civil service board empowered to make rules and regulations; providing for the classification of positions, compensation schedules, competitive entrance and promotional examinations, certifications and appointments, probationary service periods and rejection therein, for demotions, promotions, reemployments, suspensions, transfers, sick leave and vacations, for lay-offs when necessary according to seniority, for separation from the service by discharge for cause, for hearings and reinstatements, for establishing status of incumbent employees; prescribing penalties for violations, and repealing acts in conflict herewith." Said Bill having been in the hands of said committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on February 10.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WOODRING and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL 52.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, under the order of business of resolutions, for the information of the Senate, on June 1, 1937 there was approved P. L. 1120 known as the Pennsylvania Full Crew law. This law was contested in the Dauphin County Court by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

After a prolonged hearing by the Court of Dauphin County, this court declared Sections 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 unconstitutional, leaving the remaining sections intact.

This decision was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, which court sustained the decision of the Dauphin County Court in so far as Sections 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 were concerned.

There were several other injunctions asked for by other railroads operating in the state of Pennsylvania and during the year 1943 President Judge William M. Hargest of the Dauphin County Courts issued a final consent decree restraining enforcement officers of the state of Pennsylvania from enforcing this act on all other railroads in the state of Pennsylvania except the Pennsylvania Railroad, which decree was agreed to by the then Attorney General of the state of Pennsylvania, James H. Duff.

The Railroad Brotherhoods on June 27, 1946, during the primary campaign, requested the then Attorney General, who was a candidate for Governor, to advise what his attitude would be in reference to the enactment of certain sections of the Act of June 1, 1947 that were not declared unconstitutional.

Under date of July 9, 1946 the then Attorney General advised as follows:

"My examination of the record indicates that Sections 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 of the Act of June 1, 1937, P. L. 1120 where held unconstitutional in the Pennsylvania Railroad case, and therefore, when the consent decrees were entered only those sections should have been stipulated. In view of the fact that only those sections should have been stipulated, it would definitely seem unfair that a broad decree was entered in all railroads except the Pennsylvania Railroad case.

"My opinion, therefore, would be that the matter ought to be reinstated on the basis merely of eliminating those sections that were declared unconstitutional by the order in 337 Pa. 310."

After which the Railroad Brotherhoods addressed a letter to Governor Edward Martin in reference to the same subject to which the Governor of the state of Pennsylvania replied in part as follows:

"As I understand it, Attorney General Duff is of the opinion that only those sections of the Act of June 1, 1937 P. L. 1120, the so-called 'full Crew law,' which were declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court in the above case should have been stipulated in the consent decrees to which you refer. The Attorney General also tells me that he thinks the proper remedy is legislative; and I believe that legislation would be the best way to cure the situation and accomplish the most good for all concerned."

After which on April 17, 1947, after the former Attorney General, James H. Duff, had been inaugurated as Governor of our Keystone State, the Railroad Brotherhoods called his attention to his former opinion of July 9, 1946 to which under date of April 21, 1947 the Governor replied as follows:

"I have before me your letter of April 17, relative to Senate Bill No. 52 and House Bill No. 167, which were introduced to correct the situation as outlined in my letter to you under date of July 9, 1946.

"I will have this checked by the Attorney General's office and will certainly recommend that the statement made before by me be adhered to."

The Railroad Brotherhoods, not hearing from Governor James H. Duff, on May 22, 1947 again addressed a letter to the Governor, a portion of which is quoted for your information.

"The undersigned wish to thank you for your reply of April 21, 1947 to our letter of April 17th 1947 in reference to Senate Bill No. 52 and House Bill No. 167.

"Due to the fact that this session of the Pennsylvania

General Assembly is drawing very near to the end, we have been unable to have either one of these bills released from Committee, we would appreciate it very much if you would advise us if you have had this bill checked by the Attorney General's office. If so, have you recommended to the leader of the General Assembly that your former statement be adhered to."

Due to the fact that more than twenty-one days have elapsed since that time I am of the opinion that the leaders of the majority party have ignored the request of our Governor for the re-enactment of these sections that were not declared unconstitutional, so, therefore, I respectfully request that the members of this General Assembly support the attitude of our Governor and vote to discharge this committee.

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 52

Mr. TARR offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, June 9, 1947

Resolved, that the Committee on Labor and Industry be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 52, entitled "An Act to promote the safety of employees and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives, trains and other self propelled engines or machines with competent employees; to provide the least number of men that may be employed on locomotive trains, and other self propelled engines or machines; to provide the qualifications of certain employees; and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof, and the enforcement thereof by the Public Utility Commission."

Said bill having been in the hands of said committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on January 28th.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Tarr, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—16.

Barr,	Holland,	Leader,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Margie,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Klein,	Rahausen,	Tarr,
Haluska,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,	Woodring,

SENATE BILL NO. 318 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 318, entitled:

An Act validating and confirming titles to real estate conveyed by cities of the third class, unless proceedings to attack such sales are instituted within one year after the effective date of this act.

and move that a committee of conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON SENATE BILL NO. 318

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces on behalf of the President pro tempore the appointment of Messrs. STEVENSON, MAHANY and WOODRING as a committee of conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to Senate Bill No. 318.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF MEETING OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC HEALTH AND WELFARE

Mr. CARR. I would like to announce a meeting of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, immediately upon recess, in Room 535-A.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF MEETING OF COMMITTEE ON BANKING

Mr. BECKER. There will be held a meeting of the Committee on Banking in the Senate Caucus Room tomorrow, June 10, 1947 at 10 a. m.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. FRAZIER. I rise on a point of inquiry.

Does the Chair think the recess will be long enough for me to run down and see the President and come back? I have a request here that I use my influence in having Bill EX 935 vetoed by the President and I am wondering if I could get down there and be back by the time we reconvene.

RECESS

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 8:15 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 193, as follows:

An Act relating to judgments providing for the lien thereof and the duration and revival of such liens prescribing the circumstances under which executions to enforce payment of judgments may be levied on real property and imposing duties on prothonotaries, sheriffs and other court and county officers

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Judgment Lien Law"

Section 2 Every judgment now or hereafter entered of record and indexed in any court of record in this Commonwealth shall be a lien upon all real property within the county where the judgment is entered which at the time of the entry and indexing of the judgment is owned by the person against whom the judgment is entered and shall unless sooner discharged as provided by law continue as a lien as to the defendant and all other persons for a period of five years from the date on which the judgment was entered and no longer unless the same is revived as hereinafter provided

Section 3 (a) The lien of a judgment may be revived by the indexing of (1) a judgment of revival by agreement between the plaintiff and defendant or of (2) a writ of scire facias if such judgment by agreement is entered of record in or such writ is issued out of the court in which the original judgment was entered within five years after the date on which the original judgment or the last preceding judgment of revival as the case may be was indexed. Provided That if any interest in any part of the real property bound by the lien of the judgment has been acquired by a terre-tenant then the lien of such judgment shall be revived as to such part of the real property only if the terre-tenant within the five-year period hereinbefore designated joins in the agreement or is made a party to the scire facias proceedings as the case may be. Provided further That if revival shall have been had against the defendant at a time when a terre-tenant's deed is of record but without the joinder of the terre-tenant then within a period of five years after the recording of the terre-tenant's deed or other evidence of title the lien may be revived as to the terre-tenant by (1) agreement between the plaintiff and the terre-tenant alone or between the plaintiff defendant and terre-tenant or (2) by writ of scire facias issued against the terre-tenant without joining the defendant or against the defendant and terre-tenant jointly entered in or issued out of and indexed in the court in which the judgment was entered within such period of five years after the recording of the terre-tenant's deed or other evidence of title and in such event the lien shall continue as to the terre-tenant for the same period only as it continues against the defendant when it must be revived against both parties as hereinbefore provided. This proviso shall not be so construed as to revive any lien as to any part of the property acquired by a terre-tenant by the mere recording of a terre-tenant's deed or other evidence of title without specific revival by agreement or scire facias as above provided.

(b) In the case of two or more joint defendants no revival shall be effective against any of such defendants or their real property whether or not owned jointly with the other joint defendants or any of them unless all such joint defendants shall join in the agreement or shall be made parties to the scire facias proceedings. Provided That if any number less than all of the joint defendants shall agree to be bound the revival shall be effective against all of the defendants so agreeing.

(c) The revived lien of any judgment shall unless sooner discharged as provided by law continue for a period of five years from the date on which the judgment of revival whether entered by agreement or on writ of scire facias was indexed provided such judgment of revival if entered on a writ of scire facias was indexed within a period of five years after the issuance of such writ otherwise such lien shall continue only for a period of five years from the date on which the writ of scire facias to revive was indexed and in either case no longer unless the same is again revived as provided in this act. In any case where by reason of pending litigation judgment cannot be entered on the writ of scire facias within a period of five years after the indexing of such writ the court before which such litigation is pending may enter an order continuing the lien of such writ for such further period not exceeding five years as the court may direct such order shall become effective when indexed.

(d) As used in this act the term "terre-tenant" shall not include any person claiming under or whose claim of title passes through a deed which is not recorded in the county where the real property is located or any person claiming under or through a deceased defendant or terre-tenant whose will has not been filed with or letters of administration on whose estate have not been issued by the register of wills or orphans' court of such county. Provided That any person claiming under or through a deceased defendant or terre-tenant who was not a resident of the county at the time of his death may qualify as a terre-tenant under the provisions of this act by recording in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county where the real property is located a certified copy of the will of such decedent if he died testate or if he died intestate a declaration of interest accompanied by a certificate of the register of wills or probate court or officer of the county state or country in which the decedent resided at the time of his death that letters of administration have been issued in the estate of such decedent.

Section 4 A writ of scire facias issued to revive a judgment at any time either before or after the expiration of five years after the indexing thereof or before or after five years after the indexing of the last preceding judgment of revival thereof shall when indexed in the judgment index be a lien upon all real property within the county which at the time of the indexing thereof is owned by the defendant against whom the original judgment is entered whether or not such real property was owned by him at the time the judgment was indexed or previously revived. All liens against after-acquired property or against property as to which the lien of the original judgment has been lost shall be effective as of the date when the writ of scire facias was indexed and shall unless sooner discharged as provided by law continue as a lien for a period of five years from the date of the indexing of the judgment of revival thereon and no longer unless the same is revived as provided in this act.

Section 5 Whenever any real property of any person serving in the armed forces of the United States in time of war is subject to the lien of any judgment the plaintiff may at any time before the expiration of such lien issue a writ of scire facias to revive the same. No judgment of revival shall be entered during the continuance of such service but successive alias writs of scire facias may be issued and if properly indexed shall be effective to continue the lien of the judgment. After the service of the defendant or the terre-tenant as the case may be in the armed forces of the United States has terminated or after the expiration of six months after the date proclaimed by the President of the United States or by concurrent resolution of the two houses of Congress as the date of the termination of the war whichever shall first occur judgment of revival may be entered but only after ten days' written notice served on the defendant or terre-tenant as the case may be who shall have the right to enter an appearance and defend as in other cases. If the defendant or terre-tenant as the case may be shall not return to and acquire a residence in the county in which judgment is entered within three months after the termination of his service in the armed forces of the United States or within nine months after the date proclaimed by the President of the United States or by concurrent resolution of the two houses of Congress as the date of the termination of the war whichever shall first occur the plaintiff may issue an alias writ of scire facias and on return of nihil habet thereon the court may enter judgment which shall become effective when indexed.

Section 6 All writs of scire facias provided for by this act shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons on all persons named in the writ and shall be indexed. If the writ is directed against the defendant and he is dead service shall be made on his heirs executors or administrators. If the sheriff cannot find any one or more of said persons within the county he shall make return of nihil habet as to all those not so found. On return being made by the sheriff showing service on all such persons found in the county and a return of nihil habet as to all those not so found the prothonotary shall at any time after the end of the period during which the writ runs upon praecipe enter and index judgment of revival of any such judgment during another period of five years against the real estate bound by the judgment unless sufficient cause is shown to prevent the same.

Section 7 (a) The holder of any judgment may within five years after the entry thereof or after the entry of any judgment of revival thereon have execution in the manner provided by law on such original judgment or on such judgment of revival as the case may be against any real property bound by the lien of the judgment whether or not any interest therein has been acquired by a terre-tenant and against any real property acquired by the defendant subsequent to the entry of the original judgment or of the judgment of revival as the case may be and owned by him at the time of the indexing of the execution. In the case of after-acquired property the execution when docketed and indexed shall become a lien upon such real property. In the case of real property which is then subject to the lien of the judgment the execution when docketed and indexed shall continue such lien beyond the time it would otherwise have expired. Any lien obtained or continued solely as the result of the docketing and indexing of an execution shall continue only for a period of five years from the indexing of the execution.

(b) In all cases where more than five years have expired since the entry of the judgment or the entry of the last preceding judgment of revival as the case may be no execution upon any real property may issue until a writ of scire facias shall have issued and been reduced to judgment and the execution shall issue on the judgment so entered and not on the original judgment.

Section 8 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to affect or limit the provisions of section fifteen of the "Fiduciaries Act of one thousand nine hundred seventeen" approved the seventh day of June (P. L. 447).

The provisions of this act shall not affect the lien of any judgment entered prior to the effective date of this act. The lien of all such judgments that are valid and subsisting liens on such date shall continue as such for the same periods as they would have continued had this act not been enacted but no longer unless prior to the expiration of such periods such liens are revived in the manner provided by this act.

Section 9 The following acts are hereby repealed.

The act approved the eleventh day of April one thousand eight hundred sixty-two (P. L. 484) entitled "An act relating to the lien of judgments against persons in military service."

The act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 506) entitled "An act providing that in certain cases where a scire facias is issued on a judgment to revive or extend the lien thereof such lien shall take effect from the date of issuance of the writ."

The act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 774) entitled "An act regulating the lien of judgments prescribing the procedure for the revival of judgments and for the continuance of the lien thereof and repealing certain acts and parts of acts."

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with parts of this act are hereby repealed.

Section 14. The Board acting with the approval of the Commission or the Commission acting with the approval of the Board or the Board and the Commission acting jointly are hereby authorized to fix and to revise from time to time tolls for the use of the tunnel and to charge and collect the same and to contract with any person partnership association or corporation desiring the use thereof. Such tolls shall be so fixed and adjusted as to provide a fund at least sufficient with other revenues of the tunnel if any to pay (a) the cost of maintaining repairing and operating the tunnel and (b) the bonds and the interest thereon and all sinking fund requirements and other requirements provided by the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or by the trust indenture as the same shall become due. Such tolls shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any other State commission board bureau or agency. The tolls and all other revenues derived from the tunnel except such part thereof as may be required to pay the cost of maintaining repairing and operating the tunnel and to provide such reserves therefor as may be provided for in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or in the trust indenture shall be set aside at such regular intervals as may be provided in such resolution or such trust indenture in a sinking fund which is hereby pledged to and charged with the payment of (1) The interest upon such bonds as such interest shall fall due (2) The principal of the bonds as the same shall fall due (3) The necessary fiscal agency charges for paying principal and interest and (4) any premium upon bonds retired by call or purchase as herein provided. The use and disposition of such sinking fund shall be subject to such regulations as may be provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or in the trust indenture but except as may otherwise be provided in such resolution or trust indenture such sinking fund shall be a fund for the benefit of all bonds issued hereunder without distinction or priority of one over another. Subject to the provisions of the resolutions authorizing the issuance of bonds or of the trust indenture any moneys in such sinking fund in excess of an amount equal to one year's interest on all bonds then outstanding may be applied to the purchase or redemption of bonds. All bonds so purchased or redeemed shall forthwith be cancelled and shall not again be issued.

Section 15. The Board with the approval of the Commission or the Commission with the approval of the Board or the Board and Commission are hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issuance of tunnel revenue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any tunnel revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this act and then outstanding. The issuance of such tunnel revenue refunding bonds the maturities and other details thereof the rights of the holders thereof and the duties of the Commonwealth and of the Board or Commission or both in respect to the same shall be governed by the foregoing provisions of this act in so far as the same may be applicable and by the following provisions:

(a) No tunnel revenue refunding bonds shall be delivered unless delivered in exchange for tunnel revenue bonds to be refunded thereby except in the amount necessary to provide for the payment of matured or redeemable tunnel revenue bonds or tunnel revenue bonds maturing or redeemable within three months including any redemption premium thereon.

(b) No tunnel revenue refunding bonds shall be issued unless to refund tunnel revenue bonds which have matured or will mature within three months or unless the interest rate of the tunnel revenue refunding bonds shall be at least one-fourth of one per centum less than the interest rate borne by the tunnel revenue bonds to be refunded.

Section 16. Any holder of bonds issued under the provisions of this act or any of the coupons attached thereto and the trustee under the trust indenture if any except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by resolution passed before the issuance of the bonds or by the trust indenture may either at law or in equity by suit action mandamus or other proceedings protect and enforce any and all rights granted hereunder or under such resolution or trust indenture and may enforce and compel performance of all duties required by this act or by such resolution or trust indenture to be performed by the Board or Commission or both or any officer thereof including the fixing charging and collecting of tolls for the use of the tunnel.

Section 17. When all bonds and the interest thereon shall have been paid or a sufficient amount for the payment of all bonds and the interest to maturity thereon shall have been set aside in trust for the benefit of the bondholders and shall continue to be held for that purpose and after all claims outstanding against the Board or Commission or both shall have been paid or provisions thereof have been made thereupon such tunnel and its appurtenances shall vest jointly in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and in the State of New Jersey and thereupon the tunnel shall be maintained by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey on an equal cost basis and the Board and the Commission shall be dissolved and all funds of the Board or the Commission or both not required for the payment of the bonds or for the payment of any other claim shall be divided equally between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey and thereafter the tunnel shall be free of tolls.

Section 18 The foregoing sections of this act shall be deemed to provide an additional and alternative method for the doing of the things authorized thereby and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws and shall not be regarded as in derogation of any powers now existing. Such sections being necessary for the welfare of the Commonwealth and its inhabitants shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes thereof.

Section 19 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein.

Section 20 The act approved the twenty-second day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (1933-1934 P. L. 108) entitled "An act providing for the construction of a tunnel or tunnels between the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania under the Delaware River and the issuance of permits therefor" as amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 469) and the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 470) entitled "An act to authorize any Authority organized under the Municipality Authorities Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five as amended to contract with any county or commission thereof in an adjoining state with respect to the financing construction operation and maintenance of an interstate tunnel providing for the issuance of revenue bonds the execution of trust indentures and the fixing of tolls and providing the acquisition of franchises permits and real and personal property conferring powers upon such Authority and such county or commission and exempting from taxation within the Commonwealth any such tunnel the property and revenues therefrom and the bonds of such Authority county or commission issued to finance such tunnels" are hereby repealed and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

(1) To determine the market value of taxable real property in each of the school districts and to conduct investigations require information and have access to whatever public records are necessary in making each such determination.

(2) To require the county commissioners of each county to furnish to it monthly a list of all conveyances or other transfers of real estate or any interest therein recorded within such county during the preceding month stating the value of the Federal tax stamps affixed to the deed for each such conveyance and the assessed valuations for county tax purposes of such real estate.

(3) To certify to the Superintendent of Public Instruction not later than the first day of July of each year a list of all school districts showing the market value of taxable real property and the assessed valuation for county tax purposes and to furnish to the Board of School Directors of each school district as much of such information as pertains to such school district. The first lists shall be furnished not later than the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine.

(4) To hear and decide appeals of parties who may feel aggrieved by any finding or conclusion of the board.

(5) To investigate the finances and any other general circumstances of any school district requesting special aid from the Superintendent of Public Instruction and to advise the Superintendent of Public Instruction in making grants of special aid.

(6) To make surveys and investigations of the finances of school districts in the interest of a more equitable distribution of school support.

(7) To subpoena State and local officials and to require from them such information as may be necessary for the proper discharge of its duties.

(8) To have and exercise all of the powers and perform all the duties imposed upon independent administrative boards by the Administrative Code of 1929 and its amendments.

Section 8 Compilation of Data Showing Market Value of Real Property Immediately after its organization the board shall accumulate and compile data showing the prices at which real property in each school district has been sold and all other available relevant matter in any way having a bearing on the market value of real property in the several school districts. After such data has been compiled the board shall add thereto from time to time such additional data concerning new sales and improvements and other data to the end that the records of the board shall at all times show the then present market value of real property in each school district as nearly as the same can be determined. In compiling all such data the board shall have authority to examine all local tax assessment records both in the hands of local assessors and in the hands of county and city assessors and boards commissions or departments charged with the duty of revising assessments. The board shall also have power to examine all other public records wheresoever located.

Section 9 Monthly Reports by Counties Commonwealth Payments (a) It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county on the fifteenth day of each month to prepare certify and deliver to the board for its use and in such form and manner as the board may prescribe a list of all conveyances or other transfers of real estate or any interest therein recorded within the county during the preceding month stating the value of the Federal tax stamps affixed to the deed for each such conveyance or transfer as set forth within such instrument and the assessed valuation for county tax purposes of such real estate. Pursuant to the requirements of this section the recorder of deeds of each county shall prepare and deliver to the county commissioners at the end of each month a list of all the real estate so conveyed or transferred within such county during such month stating the value of Federal tax stamps affixed to the instrument so conveying or transferring such real estate or any interest therein.

(b) The board shall pay to the county commissioners of each county the sum of ten cents (10c) for each such conveyance or transfer of real estate on each list so prepared certified and delivered to the board for its use.

Section 10 Annual Reports of Local Assessing Officials On or before the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-eight and on or before the first day of June of every year thereafter the board of revision of taxes of counties of the first class the board of property assessment appeals and review of counties of the second class the board for the assessment and revision of taxes of counties of the third class and the county commissioners of all other counties shall file a certificate with the board in such form as it may prescribe and on blanks to be furnished by it showing the assessed valuation of all real property in each school district in the county on which the taxes for the then current year are levied. In the year one thousand nine hundred forty-eight such certificates shall be filed both with the Superintendent of Public Instruction as now required by law and with the board as required hereby. But thereafter no certificate shall be required to be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Section 11 Market Value and Percentage thereof of Value Assessed for Tax Purposes From the data so compiled the board shall as soon as possible after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-eight determine the market value of real property in each school district and the percentage of the market value as so determined of the assessed valuation for county tax purposes.

Section 12 Certification to Superintendent of Public Instruction and School Districts As soon as the market value of the real property in each school district throughout the Commonwealth has been determined and the percentage of such value of the assessed valuation for county tax purposes has been established the board shall certify the same to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and as to each school district to the board of school directors thereof.

Section 13 Objections by School Districts Hearings Basis for Future Valuations Any school district aggrieved by any finding or conclusion of the board affecting the amount of any Commonwealth subsidy payable to it may in writing state its objections thereto and shall thereupon be granted a hearing by the board at which the district shall have the right to submit evidence for the purpose of showing that the findings of the board are incorrect and to present arguments to substantiate its contentions. After carefully considering all evidence submitted and the arguments of the district the board shall make such modifications and adjustments of its findings and computations as to it shall appear proper or it may dismiss the objections. In either event the decision of the board shall be final. The valuations so adjusted shall form the basis upon which valuations for the purpose of determining the amounts of Commonwealth subsidies shall be determined as hereinafter provided.

Section 14 Annual Adjustments of Valuations On or before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and on or before the first day of July of each year thereafter the board shall adjust the market value of real property in each school district to conform with such new data as may have been accumulated since the market values for the last preceding year were determined and shall determine the percentage of such market value of the assessed valuation of all real property in the district on which county taxes for the then current year are levied. Such market values percentages and adjustments shall be certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the several school districts as hereinbefore provided with the same rights to school districts to hearings and determinations by the board.

Section 15 Determination and Apportionment of Commonwealth Subsidies As soon as possible each year after the final adjustment of values by the board the board shall certify to the Superintendent of Public Instruction the market value of all real property in each school district in the Commonwealth Beginning with payment to be made during the school year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty each school district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing its standard reimbursement fraction shall be the market value of the taxable real property in the school district as finally adjusted and determined upon by the board and not the assessed valuation for county tax purposes as now provided by law Beginning with the year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and every two (2) years thereafter in place of the valuations now required by law to be used for such purposes the market value of the real property in each school district as finally adjusted and determined upon by the board shall be used by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in ascertaining and determining the amount of funds required to meet payments to school districts and vocational school districts which become due and payable by law within the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and each biennium thereafter and to apportion and allot the same to and among the respective school districts.

Section 16 Special Aid to School Districts Before granting any special aid to any school district the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit the request therefor to the board. The board shall make its recommendations with respect thereto in so far as the same is affected by the district's ability to raise funds by taxation. Before making any such recommendation the board shall carefully investigate and study the financial circumstances of the district and whether or not it has exhausted its available taxing power not only on real property but also on all other available property and subjects of taxation and that collection of such taxes is being effectively made and enforced. Such recommendations shall be for the advice of the Superintendent of Public Instruction in passing on such requests.

Section 17 Saving Clause Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to change or affect the validity of the assessed valuation of any real property for the purpose of levying taxes by any political subdivision.

Section 18 Appropriation The sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the board for the payment of salaries of the members of the board and its employees for payments to county commissioners under the provisions of section nine of this act and for the payment of the costs of supplies equipment and all other necessary expenses incurred in the carrying out of its work during the fiscal biennium beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven.

Section 20 Effective Date The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

An Act creating the Pennsylvania Public Safety Commission as an Independent Administrative Commission of the Commonwealth and defining its powers and duties providing for a Director of Public Safety and defining his powers and duties defining the scope of existing safety agencies and making an appropriation

Section 1 Legislative Findings It has been determined by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth and it is hereby declared as a matter of legislative finding that (1) This Commonwealth has adopted an elaborate system of laws designed to assure safety on the highways and in industry but notwithstanding these laws and efforts at their enforcement through State and local agencies and periodic inspections and campaigns of education in which the public schools and many public spirited organizations have joined accidents continue [to occur annually]

(2) The experience of other states has been that by providing proper administrative agencies by coordinating safety work in the field of enforcement engineering and education and by engaging in never-ending safety campaigns much may be accomplished toward reducing the number of accidents

Section 2 Creation of Commission (a) There is hereby created the Pennsylvania Public Safety Commission which shall be an Independent Administrative Commission and shall have all the powers conferred on and perform all the duties vested in such commissions generally by the Administrative Code of 1929 and its amendments

(b) The Pennsylvania Public Safety Commission shall be composed of the Secretary of Revenue the Secretary of Highways the Secretary of Agriculture and the Superintendent of Public Instruction the Secretary of Labor and Industry the Secretary of Mines the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the Commissioner of the Pennsylvania State Police or such representative from his department as each may designate in his stead and the Director of Public Safety hereinafter provided for

(c) Four members of the commission shall constitute a quorum

(d) The Governor shall appoint a resident of this Commonwealth who shall be designated as the Director of Public Safety and who shall be qualified by experience in safety work and by experience with public relations techniques. He shall receive such salary as the Governor may determine not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) annually. The Director of Public Safety shall be chairman of the commission and shall have the same status as the head of an administrative department.

(e) The members of the commission other than the director shall not receive any additional compensation for their duties as members of the commission other than reimbursement for all expenses necessary incurred in the discharge of their duties.

Section 3 Duties of Commission It shall be the duty of the Pennsylvania Public Safety Commission

(1) To formulate and develop plans and methods for increasing safety on the public highways in industry and mines on farms in hotels commercial establishments and other places of public assemblage and in the home and for preventing accidents at such places and to supervise the execution of such plans and methods

(2) To aid in the promotion of safety education in the public schools in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction to stress safety education in the home and on the farm and in industry and mines in hotels commercial establishments and other places of public assemblage and to devise a practicable method of promoting safety education in the home and on the farm

(3) To conduct never-ending campaigns of public safety education

(4) To ascertain highway home farm hotel commercial establishment public assembly and industrial and mining accident hazards and to devise and suggest specific means for their elimination

(5) To coordinate the work of the several departments boards commissions and agencies of the Commonwealth dealing with safety law enforcement and education in methods of safety and to receive and consider reports and suggestions from any department board commission or agency of the Commonwealth

(6) To receive and consider complaints and suggestions made by the public with regard to safety measures

(7) To exercise such other functions which in the opinion of the commission will reduce the number of accidents and safeguard life and property

Section 4 Duties of Director (a) The Director of Public Safety with the approval of the Governor shall appoint such personnel in accordance with the Administrative Code of 1929 as may be deemed necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act and shall fix their compensation

(b) It shall be the duty of the Director of Public Safety to organize direct and coordinate on a county level the activities of all local organizations public and private which relate to and touch upon the matter of safety in order to carry out the purposes of this act. In performing such duty the director shall personally advise consult with address and otherwise devote his official services to local organizations on a county level and shall contribute a considerable portion of his time to that end

(c) The director shall inform and make recommendations to all existing departments boards commissions and agencies dealing with matters of safety concerning any problem falling within the scope of their particular authority

Section 5 Powers of Existing Departments Boards etc. All existing departments boards commissions and agencies having to do with safety matters shall receive the recommendations of the commission and the director and shall take the necessary steps to enforce the laws of this Commonwealth to improve immediately particularly hazardous conditions and to execute such recommendations

It is the purpose of this act to supplement existing governmental safety agencies with a clearing-house of information education and recommendations in order that they may better carry out the functions of enforcement and improvement of safety conditions delegated to them by the laws of this Commonwealth and nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit the powers of any existing department board commission or agency having to do with matters of safety

Section 6 Appropriation The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the payment of the salary of the Director of Public Safety for the payment of the salaries of the personnel he shall appoint for the necessary expenses incurred by the members of the Pennsylvania Public Safety Commission in carrying out their duties and for the payment of the expenses incident to the use of those oral and visual devices and aids employed by the Director with the approval of the Commission to disseminate public safety education

Section 7 Repeal All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 8 Effective Date The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1188, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighth article thereof

That article nine section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 The debt of any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein nor shall any such county municipality or district incur any debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. The debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total debt of said city shall not exceed twelve and one-half (12½) per centum of the average of the annual assessed valuations of the taxable realty therein during the ten years immediately preceding the year in which such increase is made but said city shall not increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two and one-half (2½) per centum upon such average assessed valuation of realty without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. No debt shall be incurred by or on behalf of the county of Philadelphia and within such county only the city of Philadelphia and the school district of Philadelphia shall have power to incur debt.

In ascertaining the debt-incurring capacity of the city of Philadelphia at any time there shall be deducted from the debt of said city so much of such debt as shall have been incurred or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended or about to be expended upon any public improvement or in the construction purchase or condemnation of any public utility or part thereof or facility therefor if such public improvement or public utility or part thereof or facility therefor whether separately or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility or part thereof or facility therefor may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon. The method of determining such amount so to be deducted shall be as now prescribed or which may hereafter be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity the payment of such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works or utilities of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges as required by section ten of this article until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?
